FOUR POWERS END DEADLOCK ON ARMS PLAN

Resolution to Adjourn Is Given, Providing for Land Gun Limit.

RECESS UNTIL 1933 PLANNED TOMORROW

General Principles of Idea Proposed by Hoover Are Contained.

Geneva, July 20 (A.P.).—The world disarmament conference's general commission today received an adjournment resolution providing for limitation of specified heavy land guns and undefined effective troops.

The resolution was drafted for acceptance under the guidance of "the general principles underlying President Hoover's disarmament declaration."

Despite Dutch and Russian objection, Hugh Gibson anticipated general debate with a declaration affixing the stamp of American approval to the resolution.

Mr. Gibson said he wished the resolution contained more direct acceptance of the principles of Mr. Hoover's proposal for general arms reduction of nearly one-third. He considered it to be a sound starting point, however, for "real arms reduction."

"The present resolution," he said, "contains for the first time definite commitments for general reductions of land material and effectives.

Lightening of Burdens.

"It recognizes the necessity for lightening the financial burdens which war and preparations for war impose upon the world."

Mr. Gibson had been promised permission to make the statement despite the fact that general debate was arranged by the commission for tomorrow. Arthur Henderson, president of the conference, brushed aside the Dutch and Russian points of order, and spoke sharply to Maxim Litvinoff, the Russian, when the latter insisted on his point.

It now is planned to wind up debate tomorrow and take an adjournment of several months on Friday. It is probable that a general meeting will come early next year.

The draft resolution, as explained by the leading drafter, Dr. Edouard Benes, of Czechoslovakia, is a five-point proposal covering the work of the conference to date, what shall be done in the future, and the points upon which agreement already have been virtually reached.

Break in Deadlock.

The resolution was published today before the Americans got their way on the point of effectives. At the last minute the deadlock among the big four, Great Britain, France, the United States and Italy, was broken with a compromise.

The Americans had held out for abolition of all heavy mobile land artillery. The resolution provides for limitation of certain calibers and of numbers.

The first division of the resolution opens with the assertion that the conference decides, "guided by the general principles underlying President Hoover's disarmament declaration (a) that a substantial reduction in world armaments shall be effected, to be applied by a general convention alike to land and naval armaments, and (b) that the primary objective shall be to reduce means of attack."

The second point covers the matters on which the first phase of the conference has agreed. They are:

Prohibition of air attacks against civilian populations;

Abolition of all aerial bombardment, subject to certain reservations, including one providing for regula-

Auto Hits Horse; Rider Is Injured

Woman Suffers Fractures of Left Collarbone, Leg and Arm.

Mrs. Mildred Mohon, 27, of 2505 Twenty-second street northeast, was badly injured last night when she was thrown from a horse which was struck by an automobile. The accident occurred on the south bridle path of Rock Creek parkway at Twenty-fifth street northwest.

Mrs. Mohon, riding with a party of friends, was struck by a sedan operated west of Constitution avenue by Miss Helen Lewis Montgomery, 27, of 3203 N street northwest. Mrs. Dora Montgomery, her mother, was thrown forward at the impact and suffered knee injuries.

Mrs. Mohon was taken to Emergency Hospital by Leonard J. Williams, of 2137 G street northwest. She suffered fractures of the left collar bone, leg and arm. The horse, its leg broken, was shot by Park Policeman J. F. Connelly.

Democrats Will Rely on State Units

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—A unique campaign plan, which will launch the Democrats on an experiment in national vote-seeking, was announced today by the Roosevelt-Garner forces.

There will be a minimum of organization. Responsibility for the general campaign will be highly concentrated. Economy will be the watchword.

The actual work of seeking support for the New York Governor and the Speaker from Texas will be left to State organizations. Those at national headquarters will seek to coordinate but not to direct this activity.

There will be regional headquarters

OTTAWA PROSPERITY PARLEY IS ON TODAY

U. S. Turns Eye on Session, Pondering Possible Effects on Her Exports.

Ottawa, July 20 (A.P.).—Nine nations of the British Empire will hoist their banners above Canada's Parliament Building tomorrow and set about the very serious business of bettering economic conditions for their 450,000,000 people.

In a sense they will be as much at war with a common enemy as when their colors were massed on the battlefields of France. Certainly their determination of purpose is as profound.

The United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Newfoundland, South Africa, India, Southern Rhodesia and the Irish Free State—all of them subscribe to the tenet of J. H. Thomas, British secretary for dominions: "We will not think of failure. We will not talk of failure. The people want us to succeed and we intend not to deceive them."

If all the crown subjects respond as have those here in Ottawa to the preconvention approach, bitter disappointment would attend any failure by the conference to clear the way for the return of empire prosperity. The spirit of faith is everywhere from "Center Block" on Parliament Hill to the barber shops.

"Tell the U. S.," they say in public places, "that we are getting ready to make money again. London didn't send seven members of the British cabinet here for nothing."

The display of dependence on Great Britain by a country which claims no closer tie than formal allegiance to the crown is regarded as remarkable by Canadian observers. They say it reflects the utter futility of hope from any other direction unless American-Canadian tariffs can be adjusted downward to mutual advantage on both sides of the international line.

But Ottawa is determined to protect its infant industries against American competition and Washington is determined to defend the farmer, who looks askance at Canadian bacon, beef, cattle, grain, potatoes, dairy products and maple sugar.

So Canada joins with the other nations flying the union jack around the globe in bargaining among themselves for trade preferences while the United States ponders the possible effect on what in normal times amounts to a round $2,000,000,000 worth of her exports.

American observers here do not believe the conference will be allowed to make any move likely to precipitate American-British tariff conflicts. Unable within themselves completely to absorb the empire's imports and exports, the British nations, including the mother country, need the rich American market. At the peak, the empire nations sold an average of $1,500,000,000 in goods annually to the United States.

Americans generally have been so involved in their own economic problems they scarcely have had time to consider the forces which have made this eleventh British conclave the

Pennsylvania Reports Employment Increase

Philadelphia, July 20 (A.P.).—Employment increased in a number of trades in many sections of Pennsylvania during June, the monthly report of Lewis G. Hines, Federal employment director, said tonight.

The upturn, his report revealed, was general in the building trades, due to relief construction, while highway building gave work to many unemployed men.

Nevada Town Reports Freezing Temperature

Elko, Nev., July 20 (U.P.).—Freezing weather prevailed in this section of northern Nevada today when the mercury sank to 30 degrees above zero.

It was the coldest mid-summer spell since 1892. The record low for July was on July 11, 1890, when the temperature dropped to 28 degrees.

B.E.F. IGNORES PLEA TO LEAVE BY GLASSFORD

WHITE HOUSE PICKET CAUSES ARREST OF 3

The appeal of Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford for evacuation of the city by the bonus army fell on officially deaf ears at headquarters of the B. E. F. last night.

The police chief dispatched to the bonus marchers a communication pointing out the economic undesirability of the veterans' presence here, concluding with the urgent suggestion that the army leave the city.

Capt. Doak E. Carter, of the B. E. F., speaking for Commander in Chief W. W. Waters, said there is "no reply" to Glassford's letter. He added to newspapermen that "we're going to stay until the bonus is paid."

Meanwhile three members of a "left wing" of the bonus army languished in police precinct cells awaiting police court arraignment this morning on charges of parading without a permit and disorderly conduct.

Left Wing Leader Seized.

The trio were arrested at Eighteenth and D streets northwest as they sought to move near the White House at the head of approximately 50 men for the purposing of picketing.

Those held are John Pace, of Detroit, leader of the "left wing" section supposedly under the guidance of the Workers' Ex-Service Men's League, and his two aids, Beckworth E. Johnson, and Walter F. Eicher. Their collateral was fixed at $125.

The arrest of Pace and his two cohorts followed a morning of excitement. A police cordon was thrown around the White House for several hours during the day when 200 of Pace's followers began to trek to the Executive Mansion.

Last night a reduced guard was stationed around the White House and others waited in Lafayette Park against emergency. Pedestrian and vehicular traffic was not being curtailed, but it was held up during the tenser moments of yesterday.

Commissary Squabbling.

Seven times police lines were threatened by the bonus marchers. The last break occurred at Eighteenth and D streets when Pace and his two assistants were taken into custody. Pace himself was placed in custody by Inspector Albert J. Headley.

All veteran units were fed last night, though considerable squabbling has been going on over the commissary. Waters has ordered his commissary not to issue supplies to either the Pace outfit or to the California contingent led by Roy W. Robertson. Glassford has demurred at this, but it was believed last night that Waters had won his point.

Capt. Carter said the B. E. F. was incorporated under the laws of the District of Columbia last week. None

Dale Seeks Return To Seat in Senate

Will Run Against Martin, Nominated by Democrats of Vermont.

Island Pond, Vt., July 20 (A.P.).—The contest for United States senator from Vermont will be fought this fall between Porter H. Hale, Republican, seeking reelection, and Fred C. Martin, of Bennington, Democrat. Martin was chosen to make the race as Democratic candidate after a meeting of State leaders yesterday.

Senator Dale's son Timothy, said today his father would be a candidate for reelection. Senator Dale was elected to fill an unexpired term in 1923 and he was reelected for a full term in 1926.

The Vermont primaries will be held in September. No opposition has been announced thus far to either Dale or Martin. The other United States senator from Vermont is Warren R. Austin, of Burlington, whose term expires in 1935.

500 on Charity Start Outbreak Over Food

Chicago, July 20 (A.P.).—Five hundred men and women took part in a noisy demonstration today before an unemployment relief station on the near West Side, but subsided when police and relief officials offered to hear their complaints and make adjustments.

Most of the demonstrators complained that orders for groceries were late in arriving at their homes or that foodstuffs received were insufficient.

Five Ministers Ousted From Duce's Cabinet

DINO GRANDI.

Rome, July 20 (A.P.).—Premier Benito Mussolini drastically rearranged his cabinet today, ousting five ministers and eleven undersecretaries and taking for himself four important posts instead of the two he has been holding.

Signor Mussolini now is premier, minister of interior, minister of foreign affairs and minister of corporations.

The cabinet shakeup was interpreted as merely another "rotation" to bring new blood into the government. It is not expected to mean any change in policies.

Dino Grandi, retiring foreign minister, is the official best known in America who was affected by the shakeup. Signor Grandi visited President Hoover at Washington last year and he has played an important part in international negotiations during the last two years, notably at the recent reparations conference at Lausanne and the disarmament conference at Geneva. His brief black beard and decisive countenance frequently have decorated the front pages of American newspapers.

It is expected he will receive some such post as Ambassador to Great Britain, in which he would be free to devote all his energies to international conferences in the future. His work often has been praised by the premier.

In addition to adding to his burdens by assuming the ministries of

FURLOUGHS BARRED TO GIVE PART TIME

McCarl Rules Full-Time Workers May Not Suffer for Temporary.

No Federal employes on full time basis may be furloughed to provide funds for part time help, Comptroller General J. R. McCarl ruled yesterday.

At the same time he advised Secretary of the Treasury Mills that workers who did not get 15 days leave in the first half of this calendar year, may take it with pay in the next six months.

The first ruling was made in an opinion to Judge William J. Graham of the Court of Customs and Patent Appeals.

Judge Graham wanted to furlough W. B. McWherter, court reporter, to make up a deficit in the $400 pay of William S. Hodges, his part-time assistant. The comptroller ruled administrative furloughs may be used only as a means of keeping within appropriations.

"As the real purpose of furloughing Mr. McWherter without pay appears to be to make funds available for salary of a part-time or temporary employe to perform part of Mr. McWherter's duties, your question is answered in the negative," he ruled.

Although McCarl advised the Treasury Secretary that workers may take leave earned in the last half of the last fiscal year up to the fifteen-day limit, he said no retroactive action could be taken against employes who took more than fifteen days in the last six months.

He ruled that employes of the national bank redemption agency of the office of the Treasurer of the United States and the redemption division of the office of the Comptroller of the Currency who draw their pay from bank assessments are exempt from the furlough provisions.

The Comptroller told Secretary of State Stimson that foreign service officers on leave here automatically went on a nonpay status July 1 and will continue on that basis until they report back to their post.

Those who came here on leave before the economy act was passed may return to their posts without having the time passed in transit taken out of their pay, he decided.

BOLIVIA SENDS ARMY TO CHACO TERRITORY

Troops Cheered by Crowds; Women in Parade Told to Prepare for War.

La Paz, Bolivia, July 20 (A.P.).—Cheered by thousands of aroused Bolivians, a troop train left here today bound "for the Bolivian interior," within twelve hours of a reported Paraguayan attack on the Bolivian fort, Mariscal, in the long-disputed Chaco territory.

Just after the train left, a military communique said that 500 Paraguayans had surrounded the fort July 16, and that the Bolivians poured in intense artillery fire into the advancing ranks, "stopping their advance and causing the enemy heavy losses."

Two thousand women paraded to the presidential palace today, carrying banners and pledging their lives to the fatherland.

Anarosa, Tornero, principal of the La Paz Normal School, exhorted the women from a palace balcony to be ready, if necessary, for Red Cross service "on the field of battle."

Protest meetings were reported today from various towns in the interior. They denounced "Paraguayan aggression."

All the political parties and various commercial units united today in a common promise of help to the government in "this patriotic pass." Eduardo Lopaz Romana, a Peruvian here, offered the government 5,000 sacks of sugar free of charge. The Central Bank made a spontaneous offer of a large loan.

Oklahoma's Tax Burden To Be One-Fifth Lighter

Oklahoma City, July 20 (A.P.).—One fifth of the real estate burden will be lifted from Oklahoma citizens by action of the State Board of Equalization today.

No Jobs Lost as Commerce Radio Division Is Abolished

Becomes Field Operations Unit of Federal Commission as First Merger Under Economy Act; Future Personnel Dismissals Not Unlikely.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

The first merger under the national economy act was carried into effect by the President yesterday without any immediate casualties to personnel.

The radio division of the Commerce Department, abolished by executive order, became the division of field operations of the Federal Radio Commission.

The new division was set up at a late session of the commission, following the President's formal transfer of the Commerce unit functions. W. B. Terrell, head of the old division, was placed in charge of the new. No action was taken for the time being to displace any of his 189 subordinates.

Two consolidations under the economy act remained unconsummated. Secretary of Commerce Lamont before October must merge the Steamboat Inspection Service and the Bureau of Navigation. On October 1, the Personnel Classification Board will become part of the Civil Service Commission.

The question of further amalgamation will be subject of new inquiry in the fall by the Senate economy committee although limited authority to effect others was given Mr. Hoover in the economy act, subject to Congressional veto.

Consolidations he may carry out in the meantime were restricted to public health, personnel administration, education and Mexican Water and Boundary Commission. He may merge War and Navy Department functions not of a purely military nature.

GERMANY PUTS DICTATOR OVER ALL OF PRUSSIA

Martial Law Is Set Up in Berlin and Province of Brandenburg.

CABINET OFFICERS OUSTED FORCIBLY

Von Papen Placed in Charge of State; Laxity With Reds Given as Reason.

Berlin, July 20 (A.P.).—The federal government set up a dictatorship today over the entire State of Prussia, declaring martial law in Berlin and the Province of Brandenburg and sweeping out of office every member of the Prussian state cabinet.

This drastic action precipitated the worst constitutional conflict since the founding of the Reich in 1871.

The Prussian authorities, declaring the dictatorship to be contrary to law, refused to yield to the demands of the federal government except by force. In many cases force was used.

Berlin was under heavy guard tonight and machine guns were mounted in the court in front of the federal chancellery. Every precaution was being taken to prevent disorders.

Prussian Police Arrested.

Soldiers marched into and occupied the Prussian ministry of state in Wilhelmstrasse. A squad of armed reichswehr arrested Albert Grzesinski and Bernard Weiss, president and vice president of the Prussian police, and a few minutes later a reichswehr officer and twelve steel-helmeted privates took into custody Col. Hugo Heimannsberg, Berlin chief of police.

Under an emergency decree issued by President Paul von Hindenburg, Chancellor von Papen became federal commissioner administering the State of Prussia. He named Lord Mayor Franz Brancht, of Essen, as deputy commissioner. One of Bracht's first acts was to attempt to take over the state ministry of interior, and he encountered plenty of trouble.

That ministry has for years been under Dr. Karl Severing, sworn foe of the present federal regime and of its move to sweep away the state government.

Minister Offers Resistance.

"You've got no business here," Dr. Severing told Herr Bracht. "I'm still minister of the interior and I will yield only to force."

The deputy commissioner went back to the chancellery and talked things over with Chancellor von Papen. Several hours later a police captain of the new administration turned up at the interior ministry, threatening to drag Dr. Severing out. So Dr. Severing yielded his post. He was not arrested.

The authorities of the Prussian state took their contention that the dictatorship was unconstitutional to the supreme court. They were supported in their opposition to the federal government by the State of Bavaria and they probably will be by other southern states.

The federal government argues that conditions in Prussia—the largest

Policeman Dying After Car Crash

Two Girls Also Seriously Hurt as Trolley and Auto Collide.

A policeman is near death in Providence Hospital and two women companions are in critical condition following an automobile accident early today at Nichols avenue and Howard road southeast. A blowout plunged their automobile head-on into a street car.

The policeman, Laurits Christensen, 33, attached to the Eleventh Precinct, who was driving the car, suffered a crushed skull, fractured left leg and internal injuries. His companions, Miss Myrtle Rhodes, 21, of 651 Eighth street northeast, and Miss Billie Selby, 21, of 915 K street southeast, suffered fractured skulls.

The party was returning from a dance in Congress Heights.

The accident was held unavoidable and the motorman, Hubert Cooksey, was released.

DEMOCRATIC CHIEFS RECEIVE TAX REFUND

Snell Lists 26 in Reply to Charge of G. O. P. Using Treasury in Campaign.

By J. B. M'DONNELL.

Twenty-six widely known Democrats, including Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic nominee for the Presidency; former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, John W. Davis, and John J. Raskob, former national Democratic committee chairman, were named yesterday by Representative Bertrand H. Snell (Republican), of New York, as having benefited from tax refunds made by the Treasury.

Representative Snell's statement was made in reply to Democratic criticism that the Republican campaign was being financed out of the Federal Treasury by way of enormous refunds made to wealthy Republicans who contribute heavily to their party's war chest.

Mr. Snell aimed specifically at a statement made on the floor of the House on July 12 by Representative John J. O'Connor (Democrat), of New York, who had been active in seeking to have the House approve the resolution proposed by Representative Louis T. McFadden (Republican), of Pennsylvania, providing for an investigation of the Treasury.

After reciting the names and amounts which several prominent Democrats had received in refunds of taxes, Representative Snell, leader of his party in the House, said that his "sole purpose" in referring to Roosevelt, Smith and Davis "is to show to the American people just how ridiculous is the recent statement of Mr. O'Connor on this subject and the previous statements by Speaker John N. Garner and Senator C. C. Dill, of Washington, on this subject."

"Efforts of the Speaker—the now Democratic vice presidential candidate—Mr. O'Connor and other demagogues of the Democratic party to make political capital out of these refunds must, in the face of the facts, fail," Mr. Snell said.

Among the tax refunds enjoyed by the Democrats Mr. Snell enumerated:

Gov. Roosevelt, refunds of $44,856.10 to the Fidelity & Deposit Co., of Maryland, of which Mr. Roosevelt is a director, and $2,013.12 to the International Germanic Trust Co., of New York, of which he also is a director.

Former Gov. Smith, $45,926.76 refunded to the National Surety Co., of New York, of which Mr. Smith is a director.

John W. Davis, refunds of $1,817,769.74 to the Mutual Life Insurance Co., of New York; $2,021,908.20 to the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., of New York, and $8,389.58 to the Guaranty Trust Co., of New York, in each of which Mr. Davis is a director.

Mr. Raskob, personal refund of $3,361.90; E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., of Wilmington, Del., $5,184,317.91; Bankers Trust Co. of New York, $29,165.70; Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., of St. Louis, Mo., $18,000.

Pierre S. du Pont, of Wilmington, personal refund of $283,238.15.

Bernard M. Baruch, of New York, personal refund of $6,225.12.

Lieut. Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, of New York, personal refunds of $5,199.28, and corporations in which he is interested approximately $1,000,000.

"I know," Mr. Snell said, "that any contention that the Republican administered Treasury has financed Democratic campaign funds through tax returns is absurd. But it is no more absurd than Mr. O'Connor's claim that by the same means it has financed Republican campaigns."

Ambassador Edge Sails For Paris on Leviathan

POLL IN SENATE GROUP FAVORS BIG WATERWAY

Menace of Democratic Fight on Pact With Canada Fades.

WHITE HOUSE GIVEN PROTEST OF CHICAGO

Summer Hearings Expected to Provide Forum to Exhaust Objections.

By LAWRENCE SULLIVAN.

The threat of organized Democratic opposition to the new St. Lawrence waterway treaty faded into the political background yesterday when senators from both the Solid South and the aggressive Northwest declined to align themselves with an incipient movement to thrust the waterway problem into the forthcoming presidential campaign.

At the same time a confidential poll of the Senate foreign relations committee by treaty advocates revealed that ten of the seventeen members, including four on the Democratic side, already are determined to vote for a favorable report next session. This poll also indicated that when the present investigation of the treaty negotiations has been concluded by the foreign relations committee, Chairman Borah also will be ready to sign his name to the majority report favoring prompt ratification.

Hearings May Be Avoided.

Meanwhile the summer's investigation of the treaty is expected to provide a forum on which all opponents of the development can let off steam, so that when the matter goes before Congress formally next December these hearings usually devoted to irrelevant matter may be avoided.

Although the spectacle of a formal senatorial inquiry into a treaty not yet before the Senate is unusual, it is not without precedent. A comparable situation, though not completely analogous, developed in the League of Nations fight in 1920, also during a presidential campaign. Thus far, however, there has been no indication that the Borah investigation was launched for the predetermined purpose of supplying political ammunition to treaty opponents during the presidential campaign.

The long-established insistence of Democratic party leaders in New York State upon an all-American canal, as opposed to the more economical St. Lawrence route, gave promise when news of the treaty was announced early this week that supporters of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt would seek immediately to project the "All-British Canal," as they call the St. Lawrence, as a major issue of the presidential campaign.

Seaboard May Protest.

So vigorous was the acclaim of the entire Middle West and Northwest following conclusion of the negotiations with Canada, however, that this effort already has been wholly abandoned. A regional assault upon the St. Lawrence development still remains a possibility for the North Atlantic seaboard States, in which the threat of shrinking tonnage at the great Eastern seaports offers some potential political leverage. But such opposition, it now develops, must be carried on in the name of the State organizations, without embarrassment to the national effort of the Democrats.

Historically, the St. Lawrence waterway always has been primarily a project of Middle Western appeal, and the response of that section, which includes, roughly, about one-third of the entire population of the United States, to the conclusion of the treaty has been so nearly unanimous that the project quickly evaporated as an "issue."

RATE OF INTEREST DELAYS AID SIGNING

President Is Allowing Ample Time for Reorganization of R. F. C. Board.

(Associated Press.)

Fixing the rate of interest to be paid by States, municipalities and private firms obtaining loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation under the relief act remained yesterday the biggest point to be settled in administration of the Government's great unemployment aid plan.

The President, expected Tuesday to put his name to the new enactment, had not signed it late yesterday. He was allowing ample time to map out reorganization of the corporation's board before making the bill law.

White House officials said the President would not place his signature on the bill before today, and that possibly even more time might elapse.

Rate Frequent Question.

The rate to be paid was a question featuring frequent inquiries at the corporation offices. The bill fixed interest on loans to States and municipalities for relief of destitution at 3 per cent. The rate for loans for public works and to banks, private corporations and railroads is left up to the directors.

Under the old reconstruction finance act the corporation directors fixed interest rates at 6 per cent for railroads and 5½ per cent for banks.

One provision of the new act was taken yesterday as meaning States will be in position to obtain very favorable interest rates. In providing loans for public works the measure specifically authorizes the corporation to bid for State bonds.

Would Withhold Payments.

The section providing for destitution loans and the one providing that the Federal Government may lend States money to match Federal aid highway funds, provides a means of liquidating the debt over seven years. In both instances the measure provides that unless other arrangements are made within two years the Federal Government shall withhold one-fifth of the annual Federal aid highway payments each year for a period of five years.

Payments of money for direct relief to any city or municipality may be made to city officials at the request of the governor of the State within which it is located. The amount, however, is deducted from the allotment to the State and the State is held responsible for it.

The question of regulations under the relief bill has not yet been taken up by the directors and probably will await final action by the President.

Periodical Report.

The corporation also has not decided whether its ban on direct announcements of loans granted will be lifted as to destitution loans and loans to States. The corporation must make a report periodically to the House and Senate, but heretofore it has refused to make any loans public on its own initiative.

The chances of any one State getting its full request for destitution or other loans immediately appeared remote yesterday. It was indicated unofficially that the directorate probably would adopt the same general plan it and the Interstate Commerce Commission had adopted regarding railroads. Applications for large sums will be received and studied. The directors probably will approve sums to meet immediate needs, but withhold action on the rest.

Information gathered by the Associated Press from all State capitals indicated that a dozen States already intend to ask for more than two-thirds of the $300,000,000, so this sum may have to be prorated fairly thin by the time all make known their needs.

Red Cross Begins Giving Clothing Within 10 Days

(Associated Press.)

Distribution of clothing to the needy under legislation appropriating 500,000 bales of Farm Board cotton is to be begun within ten days by the Red Cross.

John Barton Payne, Red Cross chairman, said yesterday the 36,000 chapters of the organization have been asked to notify national headquarters at once of their needs and also if volunteer sewing groups could be set to work making clothing.

"Our first step will be to supply chapters saying they can make clothes with the cloth they want," said Payne. "To expedite this work we will probably get cloth already manufactured by exchanging cotton for it. We ought to be able to start sending out this cloth within a week or ten days.

"The second step will be to make contacts with manufacturers of clothing after the chapters have told us the needs for ready-made clothing. I am not prepared at this time to say whether we will change cotton for manufactured clothing."

Payne has on display in the Red Cross assembly room two long counters piled with cotton garments to prove that practically all clothing needs, including coats and raincoats, can be supplied from that material.

Red Cross Denies Free Flour Politics

Explains Memphis Situation Which Preceded Favoritism Charge.

(Associated Press.)

The Red Cross yesterday described the Memphis, Tenn., flour distribution complaint as "a purely local situation unconnected with politics so far as the national organization has been advised."

About 500 families, the Red Cross estimated, formerly received the free Red Cross flour in Memphis, but are not receiving it now, due, it was said, to a breakdown in charity-distribution agencies, not to the orders of any political machine that flour would only go to those willing to vote as it desired.

"The Memphis distributing agencies which had taken charge of the flour were the Community Chest, the President's unemployment organization and a family welfare agency," a Red Cross official explained. "The two former ran out of funds, leaving only the family welfare agency in the field. The Red Cross had had no dealings with Representative Crump (Democrat), Tennessee, and he is not an official of the Memphis Red Cross chapter."

Newtown Square, Pa., July 20 (A.P.).—Seventeen thoroughbred horses were burned to death today in a fire that destroyed the stable of Dr. Charles F. Henry, widely known breeder. The animals all were hunters and show horses and were valued at $40,000.

Greenville, Miss., July 20 (A.P.).—Chief Louis Prairie, 77, one of the Sioux Indian scouts when Custer's forces were annihilated, died yesterday. He was one of the original Texas Rangers and a native of Brownsville, Tex.

Louisville, Ky., July 20 (A.P.).—The Kentucky congressional redistricting act was held void today by the majority of Federal judges who heard the validity of the case argued at Frankfort last week. The announcement was made by Judge Charles H. Moorman, of the circuit court of appeals, here. He promised to hand down a written opinion in a few days.

Philadelphia, July 20 (A.P.).—Sought on a contempt charge, Arthur Sellers, Republican nominee for Congress in the Fourth Pennsylvania District, has disappeared. Members of his family told police today they do not know where he is and they are becoming anxious about him.

Ponca City, Okla., July 20 (A.P.).—Col. Zack Miller, sole survivor of the founders of the famous 101 Ranch, left today for St. Louis to confer with "Diamond Jack" Alterie, representative of Al Capone and associates in a deal for purchase of the ranch and the 101 Wild West Show, now in receivership.

Phillipsburg, N. J., July 20 (A.P.).—William Rosendale, general superintendent of the Standard Silk Co., operator of the largest silk mill here, said today that by the middle of next month he hoped to have the entire force of 965 men and women at work in the mill.

Atlanta, July 20 (A.P.).—Property bought by a World War veteran with pension funds is not subject to taxation by State, county or municipal governments, the Georgia Supreme Court ruled today.

SENATE GROUP POLL FAVORS WATERWAY

Menace of Democratic Fight on St. Lawrence Pact Disappears.

with the metropolitan sewage system still is organized for violent resistance to the treaty, on the ground that it infringes upon constitutional rights touching the withdrawal of water from Lake Michigan for sanitary purposes and canal navigation. But most of the Middle West has resisted Chicago's claims in this direction for more than 25 years.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, of Illinois, carried Chicago's opposition to the White House yesterday, and predicted after a brief conference with President Hoover that the treaty never could be ratified in its present form. Thus far, however, Senator Lewis is the only Democratic member of the foreign relations committee who has publicly expressed opposition to the treaty.

No authoritative word came from the White House concerning the discussion, but Senator Lewis predicted afterward that a special session of the Senate might be called as early as September to take up the treaty. Although he was quite willing to be quoted on this prediction the senator politely declined to say that the President had indicated he might call a special session, in September or at any other time.

At the same time Senator Bingham, of Connecticut, who chanced to be nearby when Mr. Lewis was telling the boys, expressed the view there was not the remotest possibility of an extra session on the treaty.

Montreal Is Reassured.

It was also established that Senator Lewis was informed many engineering details of the actual development of the great waterway and power project remained to be perfected, and it seemed not unlikely that Chicago's requirements could be adequately cared for in the process.

At the same time, the joint board of engineers established in 1924, to survey the potentialities of the St. Lawrence waterway, made public yesterday a supplemental report offering assurances to Montreal that the development would in no wise interfere with navigation in that harbor. Montreal shipping interests long have been opposed to the St. Lawrence-Great Lakes development because of fears that it might reduce the water level below that port.

The engineers reported that two Ontario towns would be flooded by the projected dams above Montreal, but that provision had been made in the treaty scheme for their complete reestablishment.

18 States Backed Plan.

Lower freight rates for the Middle West and Northwest, on both incoming and outgoing bulk shipments were the original incentive to demands for the St. Lawrence development, and so great was this appeal eighteen States in that section formally allied themselves by legislative action, in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association.

As long ago as 1926, this association reported that approximately 25,000,000 tons of freight annually was awaiting the seaway.

In reporting to Congress in 1926, the United States St. Lawrence Commission, of which Secretary of Commerce Hoover was chairman, said in part:

"It has been estimated that the value in a single year to the farmers alone would equal the capital cost of the waterway."

The development was urged in that report as "imperative both for the relief and for the future development of a vast area in the interior of the continent."

Ontario to Market Power On St. Lawrence by 1938

Ottawa, Ontario, July 20 (A.P.).—Ontario will be able to market power on the St. Lawrence by November 1, 1938. This is a basic principle of the Dominion - Ontario - St. Lawrence agreement, it was announced today by Premier R. B. Bennett.

The contribution of Ontario to the Dominion toward common works in the international rapids section is fixed at $67,202,500, representing about 65 per cent of this particular cost.

Possible delay in the development of the power market resultant from the world-wide depression is anticipated. To meet such an eventuality the agreement provides that payments of $27,115,700, to be made by Ontario on November 1, 1938, may be postponed until November 1, 1942. For the same reason the sum of $35,846,800, to be paid by Ontario on November 1, 1941, for the Barnhart Island development may be postponed until November 1, 1945. Two remaining items make up the $67,202,500 to be paid by the province.

Local Red Cross Seeks Clothing or Donations

An appeal for clothing or donations for the distressed and needy was made yesterday by the District Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Any bundles of new or used garments should be delivered to 1730 E street northwest. Clothing for children is especially needed.

EVANS TRAILS RIVAL IN MONTANA VOTING

Veteran in House Behind Butte Attorney for Nomination.

Helena, Mont., July 20 (A.P.).—Joseph P. Monaghan, Butte attorney, forged ahead of Representative John M. Evans, of Missoula, tonight in their race for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the First Montana District.

Reports from 350 of 434 precincts in the district gave Monaghan, 19,001; Evans, 17,871.

Political observers expressed doubt as to whether the veteran incumbent could overcome this margin in the scattered missing precincts.

Gov. John E. Erickson, seeking renomination by the Democrats, added steadily to his comfortable margin. He polled 17,385 votes to 9,241 for his closest rival, Miles Romney, Hamilton publisher, in 533 of 1,441 precincts. Lewis Penwell, of Helena, in third place, had 8,284, and Harry B. Mitchell, of Great Falls, 4,951.

Roy E. Ayers, of Lewistown, continued several thousand votes ahead of J. F. O'Connor, of Livingston, in their race for Republican nomination for Congress from the Second District.

Mark D. Fitzgerald and Representative Scott Leavitt, Republican candidates for Congress from the First and Second Districts, respectively, were unopposed.

Frank A. Hazelbaker, of Dillon, present lieutenant governor, has built up a long lead over W. S. McCormack, of Kalispell, former lieutenant governor, in their race for the Republican nomination for governor.

Session of Dail Forced by Tariff

Body Recalled After Senate Amends Measure Sponsored by De Valera.

Dublin, July 20 (A.P.).—The Dail Eireann was summoned into extra session today after the Senate had tampered with President Eamon De Valera's bill to arm the Free State for a tariff war with Great Britain.

The Senate, by a vote of 29 to 18, deleted the first section of the measure, which empowers the executive council to impose a stamp duty on any document or transaction.

This necessitated sending the bill back to the Dail which already had started its summer recess. There is no doubt the Senate alteration will be rejected in the lower house and then the bill, as originally passed by the Dail, will become law immediately under the procedure stipulated for money measures. The extra session of the Dail will convene Friday.

The government bill to eradicate the oath of allegiance to the British crown was before the Senate again tonight and all Senate amendments which the Dail had rejected were upheld.

Kellogg Has Luncheon With President Hoover

(Associated Press).

On the way to St. Paul for a summer of fishing, golfing and resting Frank B. Kellogg stopped off in Washington yesterday to have lunch with President Hoover and chat with friends at the State Department.

The former Secretary of State and present Justice of the World Court, brought with him a cheering note that "conditions over there" in Europe are improving. He said he was gratified by the signing of the St Lawrence Seaway Treaty, but withheld comment on its details with the explaanation he had not studied it.

Kellogg said he did not know when he would return to his duties at The Hague but probably not before next spring.

U. S. STUDY SOUGHT ON FLEXIBLE WORK

New England Sponsors Ask Hoover to Call Parley on Jobless Plan.

Boston, July 20 (A.P.).—President Hoover today was asked by a New England joint conference on reemployment to consider calling a national conference which would effect an organization sponsoring the flexible workday and week as a part solution of the unemployment problem.

The conference was attended by more than 100 widely known executives, economists, labor and industrial leaders, college presidents and social workers. It was called by the New Hampshire unemployment relief committee and the Massachusetts commission on the stabilization of unemployment and discussed during its session the "New Hampshire plan for reemployment," which was based on the principle of flexibility.

The conference found that "unemployment continues with increasing problems, despite all efforts to curb the lessening of business activity and * * * cooperative national action to achieve job securitiy by job sharing seems imperative."

Suggested Flexible Plan.

"The New England joint conference on reemployment," said a resolution adopted by the conference as a whole, "respectfully requests the President of the United States to consider the wisdom of calling a national conference immediately, at which there can be effected an organization which will help make operative throughout the States a shorter and more flexible work day and week, by which new employment may be offered to some millions of people, approximating, it is hoped, an additional 10 per cent to the number of people now under employment, this plan to be put into effect without increasing operating costs of business, without necessarily increasing plant investments and without increasing inventories, by, for illustration, small contributions to be deducted from pay rolls of wage earners still employed at least two-thirds of their normal hours and by the necessary remaining contributions from salaried executives and owners of the business."

Recommended to Governors.

Individual resolutions approving the "New Hampshire plan," which in substance was the basis for the conference resolution, were adopted by groups representing governors of New England States, business and industry, agriculture, and social agencies. The governors commended it to governors of other States.

The resolution adopted by the labor group did not indorse "the New Hampshire plan" by name, but said that "even if so-called good times return, there is no indication that there will be enough work to justify our eight-hour day standards."

"Labor does not ask," said this resolution, "to be paid for eight hours when it works six; but it asks that the rate per hour be adequate so that the families of workers may be properly provided for. * * * Labor does not recede from its fundamental policy and sincere belief that permanent improvement can come only from an increased reward to the worker for his share in production. * * * The need for flexibility is recognized by labor and the abuse of flexibility is known quite well from experience."

Hoover Congratulates President of Colombia

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover sent the following message yesterday to President Olaya, of Colombia::

"Please accept my sincere and cordial congratulations on this occasion of the anniversary of the independence of our sister republic of Colombia and my best wishes for the welfare of your country and the personal happiness of your excellency."

Strong Interests Join Checker Cabs

Du Pont-Raskob Connections Reported Taking Hand in Company.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—Reports were current today that interests closely identified with the Dupont-Raskob group had acquired an interest in the Checker Cab Manufacturing Co.

The election of three new directors was announced today. They were William Freiday, of South Orange, N. J., a member of the staff of Gov. A. Harry Moore of that State; C. Ray Kaiser, said to represent Wilmington, Del., interests, and Lervis P. Huttonlocker, of New York.

In addition to Mr. Kaiser, another man who is said to be closely associated with some of the du Pont interests is R. W. Ellis, who was recently associated with John W. Raskob, is also a recently elected director.

Wanamaker Reno Divorce Is Balked

Wife of Merchant's Grandson Obtains Temporary Injunction.

Norristown, Pa., July 20 (A.P.).—Mrs. Pauline Disston Wanamaker today was granted a preliminary injunction restraining Capt. John Wanamaker, jr., grandson of the late Philadelphia merchant, from divorcing her in Reno Nev. Capt. Wanamaker filed the divorce action in Reno, June 24.

A hearing on a permanent injunction was set by Judge T. Ambler Williams for September 16, the court granting the right to serve the writ on Capt. Wanamaker in Reno or anywhere else.

Mrs. Wanamaker alleged in her bill of equity that her husband deserted her and their two children, John Rodman and Fernanda Pauline, in November, 1926, and for a year failed to support them. The bill stated "she is informed, believes and avers that if her husband is granted a divorce in Reno it is his intention to go through the form of marrying Elizabeth M. Warburton."

Train Dispatchers Urge 6-Hour Day.

Chicago, July 20 (A.P.).—The American Train Dispatchers Association, a railway labor union, today adopted a resolution in convention here demanding "further persistence in the campaign for the six-hour day."

FOREIGN NEWS IN BRIEF

Le Bourget, France, July 20 (A.P.).—James Mattern and Bennett Griffin, who failed in an attempt to fly around the world, arrived today from Hamburg by air. They plan to remain in Paris until the end of the month, when they will start for New York on the steamer Leviathan.

Mexico City, July 20 (A.P.).—Fifteen persons were killed and a score or more were injured today when a train from Laredo struck a crowded street car in the suburb of Tacuba.

Barcelona, Spain, July 20 (A.P.).—The Separatist "Union Catalana" forwarded a petition to the League of Nations today asking recognition of Catalonian independence from the Spanish republic.

Hongkong, China, July 20 (A.P.).—Chinese Communists and bandit forces, driven out of the Province of Wangtung, are moving toward Fukien. Today it was reported they were at Mantainghsien, and the Sixty-first Division of the Nineteenth Route Army was moving down from Changchow to attack them. The Nineteenth Army has been recruiting heavily in recent weeks, attracting considerable notice and giving rise to predictions that Amoy soon will become an important political center.

London, July 20 (A.P.).—Princess Beatrice, mother of former Queen Victoria of Spain, underwent a second operation today for removal of a cataract from her right eye. Her condition was reported satisfactory. She underwent the first operation last month.

Athens, Greece, July 20 (A.P.).—It was officially announced today the United States Government had accepted the Greek government's petition to suspend for two and a half years installment payments on the American sections of the 1928 loan, which were due July 1.

Paris, July 20 (A.P.).—Rene Bazin, noted writer and member of the academy, died at his home tonight. He was 78 years old.

of the other two wings of the bonus hosts are included in the membership of the B. E. F. corporation, he said.

"Why should we hand out supplies to persons outside of our corporation when our own members would be placed in need," said Carter. "Pace is backed by the Workers' Ex-Service Men's League. Let that organization provide the food for their men. And Robertston has his methods of getting food. Let them handle their own food problem. We have ours."

2,763 Have Left City.

The mushroom city at Anacostia last night appeared to have grown rather than diminished despite the provision by Congress for transportation back home for the veterans. Most of the denizens of the curious settlement appeared to be contented and just before dusk were enthusiastically watching boxing bouts in the squared circle set up at the camp.

Veterans Bureau officials said last night, however, that 3,830 applications have been received for gasoline and railroad transportation. Of this number, 2,763 have actually left the city by rail, while 599 have left by machine.

Dr. Luther H. Reichelderfer, president of the District Board of Commissioners, last night in a radio address appealed to friends of the veterans here and elsewhere to urge them to leave the District.

Reviewing food and health conditions, Dr. Reichelderfer said the "people of Washington have done everything within their power for these men. They can do little more. It is unfair to ask them to do more."

Congress Excuse Gone.

He said that Congress being in session no longer offered an excuse for the presence of the bonus army here. "The field of activity properly is at home and not in the Capital from which Congress has departed."

Dr. Reichelderfer closed with the assertion that the vital question is "whether these thousands of men and women should continue to shift the burden of their upkeep and the health danger of their presence upon a community which already has gone to the limit to help them."

Glassford's communication yesterday spoke of the $300,000,000 relief bill passed by Congress. He pointed out that none of its provisions apply to the District of Columbia which already has the problem of its own unemployed. Veterans who stay here, he said, can not participate in the benefits of the relief measure.

"I hope you will weigh this matter with the same vigorous foresight that you have used in the past," said Glassford, "and help us follow the course demanded by public opinion and public sentiment in this city, namely, the return of all World War veterans to the States from which they came."

Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, U. S. M. C., retired, returned to Pennsylvania yesterday after spending a night in the Anacostia camp of the bonus marchers. Both the night before and yesterday morning he exhorted the veterans to "stick it out."

Bingham Views Garner Talk as Aid to Hoover

(Associated Press.)

Senator Bingham (Republican), Connecticut, told newspapermen yesterday he had said to President Hoover he hoped Speaker Garner would deliver more addresses in the near future.

"The more campaign speeches Garner makes along the line of the first one he delivered," Bingham said, "the less work we are going to have to do."

National Drive Slated For Eslick Memorial

A Nation-wide campaign to raise funds to erect a monument in memory of the late Representative Edward E. Eslick, of Tennessee, will be sponsored by the Allied Veterans, it was announced yesterday.

Representative Eslick died on the floor of the House, while he was speaking in the cause of the soldiers' bonus. John J. Crim, national commander of the Allied Veterans, will

ROOSEVELT CONFERS ON FARM AND POWER

Agrarian Leader Reports He Likes Candidate's Views on Relief.

Albany, N. Y., July 20 (A.P.).—Gov. Roosevelt today discussed with farm leaders and his own State water power authority two of the issues—farm relief and public ownership and development of waterpower—which he will stress in his campaign for the Presidency.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, after a conference with the Democratic nominee, said he liked Mr. Roosevelt's attitude toward the farmer. He headed a delegation of Farm Bureau officials that called upon the governor.

Others were Charles E. Hearst, of Des Moines, vice president; Chester Gray, Washington representative, and Charles R. White, of Ionia, N. Y., State president of the bureau.

"Of course, our organization is nonpartisan," said O'Neal. "I'm an Alabaman and a Democrat; Mr. Hearst is a Republican. We can not speak as to the attitude of the bureau toward candidates, at least not until after President Hoover has made his acceptance speech."

"It is becoming more apparent, however," he continued, "that the equalization fee is the one the farmer must have. But we are for anything that will equalize the farmer's income and keep the Government out of the farm business."

The St. Lawrence River development treaty, signed a few days ago by Canada and the United States, was analyzed by Mr. Roosevelt and the power authority, represented by its chairman, Frank P. Walsh, and two of his four associates, Fred Freestone and James C. Bonbright.

New York contends it was ignored in the treaty negotiations. Mr. Roosevelt and his authority claim the State was particularly interested in the treaty because of the State-owned and operated hydroelectric plant to be located at Massena Point, north of much the State shall pay toward the Ogdensburg.

The nub of the argument is how power and waterways projects. The State department fixed New York's share at $150,000,000 which, State officials say, is too high.

It is generally believed Mr. Roosevelt will voice New York's objection to the treaty negotiations before a Senate committee which late in the summer will conduct investigations into the treaty parleys.

Several Mentioned For Saltzman Post

Names for Radio Commission Are Placed Before President Hoover.

Numerous names have been presented to President Hoover who has before him the task of filling the vacancy caused by the resignation of Gen. Charles McK. Saltzman, chairman of the Federal Radio Commission. Among the names under consideration at the White House are those of Harry Shaw, of Iowa, president of the National Association of Broadcasters; O. S. Spillman, formerly attorney general of Nebraska, and Robert D. Heinl, of The Washington Post, a native of Indiana.

Also James W. Baldwin, secretary of the Radio Commission, likewise a native of Indiana; William S. Hedges, of Station WMAQ, Chicago, and Harold Hayes, Federal Radio supervisor at Chicago. President Hoover has given no indication as to when he will name Gen. Saltzman's successor.

In the meantime, there has been considerable speculation as to whom the commission may elect as its chairman. The Republican members are Harold A. Lefount and Col. Thad H. Brown.

possible agency of at least temporary disadvantages to themselves.

For the first time in peace, Britain is in "the red." Her income from foreign investments and exports is far short of her expenditures, while the income of the United States from similar sources exceeds the outlay for imports and services.

Agree on Tariff List.

It is perfectly evident, despite disclaimers by delegates of any intention of injuring trade with the rest of the world, that they are going to swap and bargain among themselves for all they are worth. Canadian manufacturers in close touch with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett have tacitly agreed on a list of articles on which tariff can be lowered to Britain and the other dominions while being maintained at its present level against the United States.

The conference seems to hinge on how much United States and extra-empire trade can be diverted to the British nations. Canada is the focal point of attack under Mr. Bennett's challenge in 1930 that if the empire expected to get anywhere it should come to Ottawa in 1932.

Stanley M. Bruce, head of the Australian delegation, is believed to have answered him yesterday when he declared this conference offered Canada a chance to break away from the influence of the United States.

World Conference Suggested.

Edmonton, Altoona, July 20 (A.P.). An international economic conference for general revision of world tariffs to follow the imperial economic conference was suggested to the Dominion government by the Alberta government today.

Premier Brownlee said he had sent a memorandum of the suggestion to Ottawa for presentation to the imperial conference at its opening.

As a measure toward restoring world trade, some expression of willingness to join with other nations in tariff revision should come out of the Ottawa conference, it was believed by the government of this province, which further suggests that an invitation be given for such an international conference at an early date.

One of the outstanding features of the memorandum is disapproval of the wheat quota.

$10,000 Bail in Mayhem Charge.

Accused of shooting John W. Marbury, colored, in the face with a shotgun, Robert Council also colored, yesterday was ordered held under $10,000 bail after he had been arraigned in Police Court for mayhem. His alleged victim may lose the sight of both eyes. The case will be investigated by the grand jury.

FARLEY ANNOUNCES UNIQUE DRIVE PLANS

Will Attempt to Keep Down Expenses of Campaign to $1,000,000.

in each State, but only one general headquarters—in New York City.

Two men, James A. Farley, national chairman, and Louis Howe, the governor's confidential aid, will be the commanders in chief of the Democratic army.

The national committee as such will have little if anything to do with running the ballot-drive.

The economics of the campaign will be handled entirely by a special finance committee, instead of by the national committee.

From the start to the finish a budget system will be used.

An attempt will be made to keep the cost of vote-garnering down to $1,000,000. A year ago it was estimated $6,000,000 would be needed.

Farley will direct the political battle as chairman of a special campaign committee, and not as chairman of the national committee.

Behind Farley at all times will be a "floating" and loosely-knit advisory committee, ready to help settle important questions of strategy and party policy.

The unusual campaign plan was announced by Farley after he and Howe had returned from Albany, where the governor gave it his stamp of approval.

The principal reason advanced for its adoption was that it was based largely on the plan used by Farley and Howe in their successful preconvention campaign.

State organiations were relied upon then to line up delegations for Roosevelt, as they will be relied upon this fall to line up votes.

The question of who will be campaign treasurer, the most important post to be filled, will probably be decided within 48 hours. No positions of the finance committee have been filled yet.

Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, former Governor of Wyoming and vice chairman of the national committee, will head a group entirely of women who will conduct the campaign among their own sex.

Campaign headquarters will be opened August 1 in the Biltmore Hotel, with the present quarters being used as supplemental rooms.

Marketing Act Repeal Urged in Kansas City

Kansas City, July 20 (A.P.).—Repeal of the agricultural marketing act was urged by witnesses at a house committee investigation of government in business here today.

"Right off the bat, I'd repeal the agricultural marketing act," James Tod, Maple Hills, Kans., live stock producer, told Representative Joseph B. Shannon, of Missouri, chairman of the committee. Repeal also was advocated by J. C. Swift, former president of the Kansas City Live Stock Exchange.

COMMERCE RADIO DIVISION MERGED

merger order turned over to the commission $490,000 of Radio division appropriations. Although at its subsequent session the commission ordered no dismissals, there was no assurance a number might not be required in the near future. Some hint of what might be expected was contained in the executive order:

"The Federal Radio Commission is hereby authorized and directed to dismiss officers and employes not indispensable to the service, to make such changes in titles, designations and duties of officers and employes as it may deem necessary, and to return to the Treasury all appropriations or unexpended balances not necessary to the maintenance of the commission."

As the division of field operations, the merged agency will continue its work of "policing the air." Doubling for the time being the personnel of the commission, the unit will take its place alongside a half dozen other "divisions" already part and parcel of the commission. Commissioner Thad H. Brown will be in general supervision of its work.

The division "abolished" dates from 1927, although Mr. Terrell inaugurated the department's radio service as early as 1911. When Congress established the Federal Radio Commission five years ago, the Commerce radio division was given authority to supervise commercial and private radio stations, requiring that they comply with Radio Commission regulations.

7 ADMIT POSSESSING GUNS AT FATAL RIOT

Coroner's Jury Ends Hearing of Testimony From 128 Illinois Workers.

Ottawa, Ill., July 20 (A.P.).—State's Attorney Russell O. Hanson tonight announced he planned to hold prisoners all persons possessing arms at the time of the Marseilles waterway riot yesterday, in which one person was killed, a dozen struck by shotgun slugs, and at least a score stoned and beaten in a fray between union and nonunion laborers.

A coroner's jury tonight wound up hearing testimony from 128 nonunion workmen employed at the dam site as it attempted to fix responsibility for the death of "Big Steve" Sutton, Joliet, Ill., slain in the riot. Tomorrow the jury will hear testimony from the union members who came to the site seeking work. The appearance of the union men allegedly precipitated the riot.

Already seven men, according to testimony, admitted having weapons and were remanded to jail to await the outcome of the inquest.

Agreement Is Denied.

Coincident with the inquest came word from Tony Augustino, Joliet, denying previous statements that an agreement had been reached between authorities relative to unionization of the project.

The jurors heard from R. L. Miller, contractor, that his employes had linked the barbed wire entanglement around their workings with a high tension power line.

None of those jailed would admit that seventeen half sticks of dynamite found hidden behind the construction company's shack were meant for bombs to be tossed at the 300 union workers who sought to end their idleness by forcing unionization of the dam construction gang.

Deputies Enforce Quiet.

All was quiet at the Marseilles Dam site today, quiet enforced by the crew of deputy sheriffs, State highway police and Federal watchmen guarding the workings. Col. Daniel I. Sultan, Government engineer, attended the inquest but said the Government would take no part in the proceedings unless completion of the contract were jeopardized by the strife.

The futility and tragedy of the bitter fight were intensified by the story of Herbert Miller, superintendent and son of R. L. Miller, who told of capitulating to the union leader's demand for organization of the force just before the mob, unaware that their cause had been won in peaceful conference, tore him from his automobile and precipitated the fusillade from Miller's workers that sent one man to death and a dozen to the hospital.

Old Ironsides Visit To England Urged

Commander Says Britons Would Hail Victor of 1812 War.

Capt. Louis J. Gulliver, U. S. N. commander of the U. S. S. Constitution, now at the Navy Yard, expressed a desire that "Old Ironsides" make a trip to England after she completes her itinerary of American ports. He was speaking yesterday at the luncheon of the Optimist Club at the Hamilton Hotel.

He expressed the opinion that the English were good sports and would be interested in visiting the grand old ship which opposed them so successfully in the War of 1812.

Vice President Joseph Rice was chairman of the day. Capt. Gulliver issued an invitation to all club members to visit his command.

THE ONCE OVER

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MR. AND MRS. HOOVER DISCUSS THAT PAY CUT:

PRESIDENT—My dear, I've decided to take a wage cut.

Mrs. Hoover—I must say, Herbert, that this is a surprise. You might have given me some hint in advance. How much are you going to cut your pay?

President—How much do I get, anyhow?

Mrs. Hoover—I think it's $75,000 a year.

President—What are our expenses?

Mrs. Hoover—I couldn't tell you exactly, offhand, Herbert, but they're pretty heavy. I doubt if we save a penny of your salary even now.

President—I know the overhead's high, dear, but we'll just have to economize here and there. I've ordered all the Cabinet boys to take a cut of 15 per cent, and I'm going to cut my own, say, to $60,000 a year. Even those Democratic editorial writers ought to give me a favorable notice on that.

Mrs. Hoover—That means nearly $400 a week less, Herbert, and it's a lot of money.

President—We'll have to scrimp along somehow. You can go easy on receptions and dinners.

Mrs. Hoover—There you go, just like a man, putting it up to his wife to do all the economizing in the pinches. How about your cutting down on some of those fishing things? You're always bringing home a new rod or reel or something.

President—Honey, I haven't bought any new fishing equipment in a month.

Mrs. Hoover—The house is all littered up with poles and nets and those funny feathers here you call flies. The money you spend for those trout flies is simply staggering. I saw a bill the other day charging you $4 a dozen.

President (hurt)—Those were Silver Doctors and Cahill Coachmen of a very expensive make, my dear, and——

Mrs. Hoover—Just the same, if you are going to take $385 less a week, you can't afford them.

President (a little sadly)—I know it, dear, and I'm not going to buy any more. In fact, I'm going to cut down on those Rapidan fishing trips, anyhow. They're good publicity and the newsreel men like 'em, but they're too expensive.

Mrs. Hoover—Look what it costs you for oil and gas alone every time you go there!

* * * *

PRESIDENT—I think I'll cut down on medicine balls, too. I've been buying them, but I don't see why the boys who exercise with me each morning shouldn't buy a ball now and then. They get just as much exercise as I do.

Mrs. Hoover—Let Mark Sullivan furnish a ball now and then.

President—I'll do my part, dear, to cut down expenses all around, and you try to do yours.

Mrs. Hoover—But what can I do? I'm not an extravagant woman. I haven't had a new dress this month, and I'm still wearing that hat I bought Easter.

President—Speaking of Easter, we can cut down on those egg-rolling parties. I've been figuring up what it costs to buy all those eggs. It's really an inexcusable extravagance.

Mrs. Hoover—What about your Cabinet? How are they taking the news of the cuts.

President—Oh, they're pretending to take them all right, but I guess Hurley and Mills are pretty sore. I understand they claim $12,500 a year won't cover their speaking-tour expenses!

RESPITE.

THE shouting and the tumult die—
The Congressmen their ravings cease;
The Nation heaves a happy sigh,
And says, "Now for a little peace!"

"Gee," said Uncle Sam this morning, "but it feels great to get up these days and find not a single Congressman around to look after me!"

Mr. Roosevelt may be said to be the Yawl-American candidate for the Presidency.

EDITH M'CORMICK SACRIFICES RICHES

Loses Heavily Rather Than See "Little Man" Suffer in His Investments.

Chicago, July 20 (U.P.).—The daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, whose $60,000,000 fortune made her known as the wealthiest woman in the world, has lost a vast amount of money because she will not see small investors suffer.

Her magnificent home on Chicago's Gold Coast is mortgaged and she has moved from it to a hotel. She is ill. But she has determined to protect the hundreds of persons who invested small amounts in her properties, has cast aside chances at personal savings which would mean suffering for those investors, and is determined to beat back into more prosperous times.

Her secretary, Miss Gertrude Helenthal, and her broker, Edwin Krenn, confirmed the report that great portions of her vast fortune had gone in her effort to protect the "little fellow."

Miss Helenthal also partly confirmed reports Mrs. McCormick's recent illness had been serious, but added she is improving rapidly.

Krenn, the Swiss architect, who managed Mrs. McCormick's properties at a reputed salary of $1,000,000 a year, admitted she had lost heavily since the depression. He denied emphatically she was "broke."

Krenn partly confirmed reports that Mrs. McCormick might have kept many of the millions she has lost if she had not been determined to shoulder losses herself to prevent suffering among less wealthy investors.

Also, he confirmed reports she has concurred in a policy of avoiding foreclosures on mortgages on hundreds of homes built with her money and sold by the firm of Krenn & Dato.

REICH PUTS PRUSSIA UNDER DICTATORSHIP

Martial Law Is Ordered in Berlin and Province of Brandenburg.

and most important of the states—have become intolerable since the diet elections April 24. The Reich especially has charged the Prussian cabinet with slackness in dealing with Communist disturbances.

The Prussian government, on the other hand, contends that disorders resulted only after the ban on wearing political uniforms had been raised by federal decree. It accuses the Von Papen government of ulterior designs—which is interpreted as meaning that the Reich cabinet acted under pressure from Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader, and Dr. Alfred Hugenberg, Nationalist chieftain, who want to turn Prussia into a stronghold of nationalism.

Learned professors versed in constitutional law were divided in their opinions of the legality of the Federal Government's action. If the supreme court supports President Von Hindenberg and Chancellor von Papen, the Nation will have t owait a long time before knowing about it. Months may elapse before the court will be able to pass on the question.

Real Power in Germany.

Today's events showed once again that Gen. Kurt von Schleicher is proving to be the real power in Germany, for it is to him that executive powers are being entrusted with the declaration of martial law in Berlin and Brandenburg, which possibly may be extended to other parts of Prussia and even of the Reich in the event the southern states prove unruly. The general is defense minister.

Late tonight Grzesinski, Weiss and Heimannsberg were released after they had signed pledges renouncing their claims to office.

It was announced that Herr Bracht would formally take over the functions of the interior ministry tomorrow.

Munich, Germany, July 20 (U.P.).—The Bavarian government tonight instituted a test case in the supreme court at Leipzig, seeking a definition of the Reich's powers to interfere in state government.

The Bavarian and other state governments have opposed the Reich's appointment of a dictatorial commissioner in Prussia on the grounds that it threatens the rights of the German states.

Engraving Bureau Keeps 5½-Day Week

New Payless Furlough Is to Be Used With Old System.

A 5½-day week will continue for employes of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, it was announced yesterday. This bureau has been a pioneer in the use of the furlough system and will continue operations under the present method as well as the compulsory 24-day payless "legislative" furlough.

The furlough plan which has been in use at the bureau for many years will be slightly changed to meet the fluctuating demands, Alvin W. Hall, director of the bureau, declared. The "legislative" furlough, made necessary by the economy act, will be administered under the McCarl decision which provides the regulations and accounting procedure.

The bureau's successful operation of the furlough plan was made an example when the economy bill was before Congress.

MILL STRIKERS WIN IN WAGE DEMANDS

Mass Meeting Today Will Consider Proposal for Return to Work.

High Point, N. C., July 20 (A.P.).—Operators of strike-closed hosiery mills here late today authorized the High Point Enterprise to announce to strikers that they might return to work immediately at the wage scale in effect prior to reductions ten days ago, which led to a general walkout during the past two days.

Strike leaders took the proposal under advisement and had not reached a decision tonight.

Preliminary statements by individuals, headed by D. V. Bradley, chairman of the central strike organization, indicated they were not enthusiastic about the proposal, but that it would be carefully considered at a mass meeting called for tomorrow morning.

Meanwhile, police began serving warrants on about a score of leaders of unemployed bands which yesterday entered plants throughout the industrial area, causing a general cessation of operations. As rapidly as they were apprehended, they were lodged in jail and charged with inciting to riot.

Number Not Known.

Chief of Police W. G. Priddle said he did not know the exact number of warrants issued and that the police department was so jammed a record of those arrested had not yet been made.

Industry, however, was slowly being resumed outside the hosiery mills, with 7 a. m. tomorrow expected to prove the zero hour. It is then that a number of the larger plants plan to resume operation with loyal workers back at the machines.

State highway patrolmen and police from Greensboro and Winston-Salem were being mobilized for duty at that time in case violence should result from efforts of strikers to prevent satisfied workers from entering the plants.

Situation Near Normal.

The situation in Kernersville, Thomasville and Jamestown tonight rapidly approached a normal aspect. All furniture plants in Thomasville resumed operations today, loyal workers going to the plants armed to prevent a repetition of yesterday's events.

Textile plants opened some of their departments late today and were expected to resume normal operation tomorrow. Plants at Lexington worked at full blast.

Two of Kernersville's five plants were working and the other three were reported to have been closed, or operating on a short schedule, prior to the strike. Similar conditions prevailed at Jamestown.

Public Buildings Body Postpones Conference

A meeting of the Public Buildings Commission to discuss a number of problems relating to allocation of space for a number of Government agencies, which was scheduled to have been held yesterday, has been postponed to a later date, it was announced last night.

Among other problems facing the commission is the formation of an organization to take charge of the Government archives that are to be placed in the Archives Building upon its completion. Plans for a proposed heating plant for a group of buildings in Potomac Park is also to be taken up by the commission.

Col. J. W. DeGrange Put on Retired List

Forced Out by Economy Act After 43 Years' Service and 3 Extensions.

Col. J. William DeGrange, clerk in charge of the archives section of the Chief Engineer's office in the War Department, the only War Department employe to receive three retirement extensions, has been retired after 43 years of Government service.

Eligible for retirement in 1927, Col. DeGrange was kept active until he was forced out by provisions of the economy act. He entered the War Department in 1892, after serving three years in the Treasury Department.

Col. DeGrange founded the All States Society and the West Virginia Society. He lives with his wife, and daughter, Mrs. Laura S. DeGrange, and Lenora Marie DeGrange, at 1756 Kilbourne place.

tion of civil aircraft with full publicity;

Limitation in number of all heavy land guns of calibers between prescribed limits;

Prohibition of chemical, bacteriological and incendiary warfare.

Third division, stipulating that the Conference Bureau shall continue work during the adjournment, prepares for the second phase of the conference.

The text, which makes it difficult to determine whether the conference accepts the principle of reduction of effective troops, says: "The questions which will form the subject of such examination (by the Conference Bureau) are the following:

"1. Effectives. A strict limitation and real reduction of effectives shall be brought about."

Budget limitations and the trade and manufacture of arms are other matters which the bureau will examine. The conference asks that the naval powers conduct negotiations concerning naval reductions during the adjournment.

A fourth division reads: "The present resolution in no way prejudices the attitude of the conference toward any more comprehensive measures of disarmament, or toward political proposals submitted by the various delegations."

This keeps alive the issue of the German equality in the right to arm, and the French demand for security.

A final division recommends that the governments renew for four months the present armaments truce.

Holy Comforter Carnival Head Named.

Joseph L. Gammell, for the past five years president of the Lincoln Park Citizens' Association, has been appointed chairman of the Holy Comforter Bicentennial Carnival, to be held at Fifteenth and East Capitol streets, from July 25 to August 6, inclusive.

Admiral Moffett Leaves Airship Akron in Plane

(Associated Press.)

Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, flying chief of the Naval Bureau of Aeronautics, left the airship Akron in mid-air yesterday to return to his desk.

Aboard the giant dirigible Tuesday when it took off from Lakehurst, N. J., on a training flight, he stayed with the ship overnight but yesterday slipped into the cockpit of one of the airplanes nesting withing the envelope.

With Lieut. D. W. Harrigan, commander of the Akron's heavier-than-air detachment, at the controls, the plane was cast loose at sea off the New Jersey coast. The admiral was taken to the Lakehurst station where he boarded another plane for a fast trip to Washington.

GEORGE M. HUNTER, FINANCIER, IS DEAD

Montgomery County Banker Was Active in Catholic Circles at Rockville.

George M. Hunter, 64, who worked his way from a minor clerk at the age of 14 to president of the Montgomery County National Bank at Rockville, died last night at his home in Rockville. He went to the bank as usual yesterday. He died at 5:30 o'clock from a heart attack.

Mr. Hunter was born at Rockville and attended the Rockville Academy. At 14 he entered the Montgomery County National Bank.

Mr. Hunter was actively interested in the sale of Liberty Bonds in the World War and served on the Montgomery County committee. He was active in Catholic circles and attended St. Mary's Catholic Church at Rockville. He was a member of the Gaithersburg Council of the Knights of Columbus and of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, Rockville.

Funeral services probably will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. at St. Mary's Church, although arrangements were tentative last night.

Mr. Hunter is survived by his wife the former Miss Hortense Dorsey, of Germantown, and a daughter, Mrs. Basil Mobley, of Derwood.

COMMODORE BULL IS DEAD.

Body to Be Brought Here For Burial in Arlington Cemetery.

Commodore James H. Bull, 80, U. S. N. retired, died Tuesday night at his home in San Francisco, Calif.

Commodore Bull was the youngest midshipman ever to graduate from the Naval Academy receiving his commission when he was 17, in 1870. He was retired from the Navy 25 years ago.

Lieut. Col. H. T. Bull, 1858 Columbia Road northwest, son of Commodore Bull has gone to San Francisco and will escort the body to Washington where burial will be in Arlington Cemetery. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Katharine T. Bull, three sons and a daughter.

STEVENSON RITES TOMORROW

Bethany Baptist Pastor to Be Buried in Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

Funeral services for the Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson, pastor of Bethany Baptist Church and a prominent Mason, will be held at 1 p. m. tomorrow at his church. Burial will be in Fort Lincoln Cemetery.

Mr. Stevenson died suddenly Tuesday night. The casket will be open at the church from 4 until 9 p. m. today and from 10 a. m. until the time of the services tomorrow.

MRS. IRVING J. CARR DIES.

Wife of Army's Chief Signal Officer To Be Buried Today.

Mrs. Irving J. Carr, wife of Maj. Gen. Irving J. Carr, chief signal officer of the Army, died Tuesday at Walter Reed Hospital following a brief illness. She was a native of Kentucky.

Funeral services will be held in the chapel at Fort Myer at 11 o'clock today and burial will be private in Arlington Cemetery.

Editors Disagree On Berlin Course

Newspapers of Right Hold Imposition of Martial Law Necessary.

Berlin, July 20 (A.P.).—Tonight's newspapers, dividing on party lines, were filled with editorials on the day's political developments.

The journals of the right gave the government's course a chorus of praise, describing the imposition of martial law as a necessary energetic measure taken after proper deliberation. They urged Chancellor von Papen not to relax his firm grip.

The Tageblatt, however, warned that the government is playing a dangerous game. The Vossische Zeitung said the end of the path Von Papen is following is wrapped in darkness.

The Socialist papers raged and asserted that the court from which there can be no appeal will be the vote of the people in the Reichstag election of July 31.

Gold Is Presented Retiring Employe

C. M. Irelan Honored by Friends and Associates in Patent Office.

Charles M. Irelan, who served the Government for 53 years, yesterday was presented with $70 in gold by his friends and associates in the trade mark division of the Patent Office. Mr. Irelan was retired under the economy act.

Mr. Irelan was born in Cecil County, Md., November 15, 1861. On July 19, 1879, he entered the Patent Office. He was appointed chief clerk in 1901, and served in that capacity for six years. For the past seventeen years he has been senior examiner in the trade mark division.

He is a member of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church. On November 24, 1897, he married Miss Florence Lane White, of Washington. He is going into trade mark practice with John O. Ellis.

13 POLICE ARRESTED IN STARK DEATH QUIZ

All Plead Not Guilty and Are Freed on Bail; Indictments to Be Asked Today.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—Thirteen Nassau County policemen were arrested today on charges ranging from second degree murder to neglect of duty because of the death of Hyman Stark, a prisoner they are accused of having put through a brutal "third degree."

The thirteen, all arrested in the courtroom at Mineola, were to be treated "exactly like any other prisoners," Justice Meier Steinbrink directed, in turning them over to the sheriff.

Deputy Chief Frank Tappan, a wealthy man who has been in police work only since last January, went free soon afterward on bail of $13,000. The others were released as fast as they could make bail and be arraigned.

Four detectives were charged with second degree murder. They are Lieut. Jesse Mayforth and Sergts. Leslie Pearsall, Harry Zander and Charles Wesser, whose frequent "I don't remember" answers in court brought a reprimand from the bench.

Police Trial Monday.

Their bail was fixed at $10,000 each, and as they were released on it after arraignment, a tentative hearing date was set for July 26.

Indictments for second-degree murder, assault, conspiracy to obstruct justice and neglect of duty will be asked at a grand jury hearing already called for tomorrow. Justice Steinbrink suggested to District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards that perjury indictments be considered as well.

A police trial of the men is scheduled for Monday and is expected to end in removal of some from office. Abram Skidmore, chief of Nassau County police, made the announcement immediately after the arrests.

Edwards said he would ask a special criminal term of the supreme court and urge that Justice Steinbrink be assigned the case. George Mulry, lawyer for all thirteen of the accused policemen, said he would fight this and oppose also the presentation of the case by Edwards.

One Meal in Jail.

Mulry entered not guilty pleas for all the defendants who were arraigned in groups. All were free by 4 p. m., after one meal of regular jail fare this noon.

The seven men charged with second degree assault are Detectives Patrick Shanley, Marcel Chagnon, George Hutchinson, Thomas Bonanza, and Joseph Hyzenski, son of the woman whom Stark and three others were charged with attacking in a robbery, and Patrolmen Lanis Ray and Harry Lilliegren. They were released on $2,500 bail each.

Patrolman Harold Brietenbeck was charged only with conspiracy to obstruct justice and released on $1,500 bail.

Deputy Chief Tappan was arrested as an accessory to second degree murder, on the assumption he did nothing to prevent the beating which broke Stark's larynx and caused him to strangle to death. He was charged also with conspiracy and neglect of duty. Bail was $10,000 on the first charge and $1,500 each of the others.

Opinion of Magistrate.

Justice Steinbrink declared he had not the slightest doubt Stark died because of what happened at police headquarters. The fact the man was a criminal made no difference, he said.

"If that could be taken into account," he remarked, "it would be just as justifiable to take these policemen and beat them and sweat them until they confessed their part in this brutal killing."

It was "perhaps understandable," the court commented in reviewing the case, for Detective Hyzenski to "take a poke or two at the prisoner he believed had beaten his mother."

Hyzenski was the only policeman who admitted on the stand he had struck Stark. Edwards charged he was "trying to take the rap for the whole group."

Business Bureau Elects Addison

Banker Becomes Chairman of Board, Succeeding Joshua Evans, Jr.

Francis G. Addison, jr., president of the Security Savings & Commercial Bank, was unanimously elected chairman of the board of the Better Business Bureau yesterday at the Willard Hotel.

He succeeds Joshua Evans, jr., president of the District National Bank, who asked to be relieved. The meeting was devoted to a testimonial to Mr. Evans. He was given an engraved watch.

Other officers elected were B. B. Burgunder, president of S. Kann Sons, vice chairman; Y. E. Booker, of Y. E. Booker & Co., treasurer, and R. B. H. Lyon, attorney.

Press Heads Plea To Lead Recovery

Editorial Group Urged to Take Government Out of Business.

San Francisco, July 20 (A.P.).—A plea that newspapermen assume leadership in a movement to take the Government out of business and away from interference with private industry was made at the final session here today of the National Editorial Association by C. D. Morris, of Chicago, representative of the Western Railways Public Relations Commission.

"All the railroads of America need to put the pulse back in American business is to give them a fair chance," he said.

Morris pointed out a specific instance in what he termed needed revision of taxes. A bus line, he told the editors, running from Miami, Fla., to Washington, D. C., paid an annual fee of only $30, while railroads covering the same distance paid an average tax of $250 a mile.

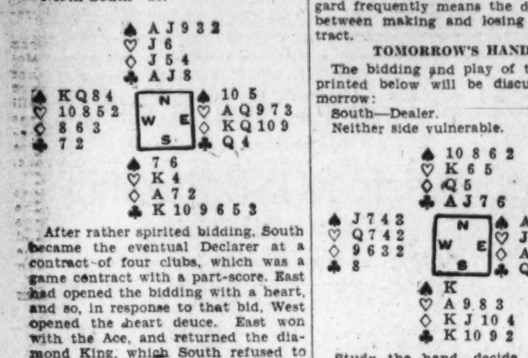
COUNTING THE HANDS.

ONE mark of an expert player is the skill with which he is able, after a few plays, to determine the distribution of the suits in the hands of his adversaries. To a novice this process appears, perhaps, complicated, but actually it is very simple. Beginning with the Opening lead, each play and each subsequent lead adds something to the information that is available for every player around the table. The good player and the expert make use of this knowledge frequently to the discomfiture of their adversaries in making what would appear otherwise to be an impossible contract.

An example of accurate card counting is given in the hand below:

East—Dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South—20.



After rather spirited bidding, South became the eventual Declarer at a contract of four clubs, which was a game contract with a part-score. East had opened the bidding with a heart, and so, in response to that bid, West opened the heart deuce. East won with the Ace, and returned the diamond King, which South refused to win, and East then made his safest play—the return of a small heart.

At this point South had quite accurate information regarding the distribution of the heart suit. West's opening lead probably indicated four, so East must have held five. Inasmuch as South did not fear a ruff, his next play was to lead a spade. West played the Queen, and the trick was won in the Dummy with the Ace. South now returned to his own hand with the King of trumps, and led his remaining spade. West won with the King, and East played the Ten. The drop of the Ten on the second round of spades probably indicated that West had held four spades originally, and East only two. The declarer dismissed the thought that East might be false-carding, as West, knowing there was another spade outstanding, if he held only three, would feel compelled to lead a spade rather than return a diamond through the Knave in Dummy. West, after winning the spade trick, led a diamond. A small diamond was played from Dummy, and East played the 9, the declarer winning with the Ace. This confirmed South's count of the spades. West had held four spades originally, and East had held two. Both East and West were known to have held at least one club, and East was marked with diamond strength not weaker than King-Queen-Ten.

The only possible remaining losing tricks for the Declarer were now one diamond and a trump. However, East's play of the diamond 9 had marked him with four diamonds, two spades, which he had already played, and five hearts. Therefore, he must have held originally also two clubs. The Declarer, up to that time, had been uncertain of the distribution of the club suit, and had speculated on the possibility of finding three clubs in the West hand. Due to his accurate count of the hand, however, he now led clubs. When West followed suit, he refused to finesse and captured East's Queen. He thus was able to discard his losing diamond on Dummy's established spade and fulfill his contract, the success of which would have been extremely improbable if he had not taken the trouble to establish the distribution of the suits in the hands of the opponents.

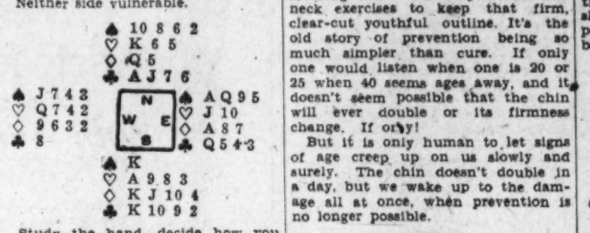
TODAY'S POINTER.

While there are many hands upon which a distributional count is not necessary, the Contract student will find it advantageous to make a practice of attempting to determine the distribution of the suits in the hands at the table, as practice in this regard frequently means the difference between making and losing a contract.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

South—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.



Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

How to Be Beautiful

Sagging Chin Line More Easily Prevented But Correction Is Possible With Perseverance

MRS. K. wants to know "is it really time and tide, waiting for no man (or woman) that causes facial contours to lose that firm hold they had in youth? I'm only 43. Until recently I held that line of the chin like a Spartan and everyone took me for 32. I still feel young, very young. On the beach I'd like to romp with my dog and play with my two sweet daughters. But one look at the drooping muscles and my spirits droop, too. I feel let down all over. I don't know why women should regret getting old, but we just do somehow. Can you help?"

* * * *

It isn't Father Time in himself that makes chins twins, so much as the fact that he slows up the circulation as the years pile on. And it's the blood stream that keeps the muscles firm and the skin over them of just the right elasticity. It's the blood stream that has to be urged on by artificial exercise and patting to keep its normal pace. It takes just a few minutes of patting and molding and a few simple chin and neck exercises to keep that firm, clear-cut youthful outline. It's the old story of prevention being so much simpler than cure. If only one would listen when one is 20 or 25 when 40 seems ages away, and it doesn't seem possible that the chin will ever double or its firmness change. If only!

But it is only human to let signs of age creep up on us slowly and surely. The chin doesn't double in a day, but we wake up to the damage all at once, when prevention is no longer possible.

Patting.

After face and neck have been thoroughly cleansed, the patting begins. It should be rhythmic, quick staccato movements, to quicken the circulation and help the muscles to contract and the skin to regain its spring and snap back into place. On the neck the patting is up and out, with the right hand on the left side and visa versa. Under the chin pat up and down with the back of the hand. Pat very vigorously if you are inclined to be stout; a little more gently if thin. Then pat from the center under the chin around to the ears, very gently near the ears, not much force. It is a splendid idea to use a good skinfood before this patting, and directly over it an astringent. The combination will lubricate and tighten.

Exercise.

In addition to the patting, exercise will help the muscles regain their normal position and firmness. The simple exercise of dropping the head far forward on the chest as possible, then slowly as far back as possible is excellent. Repeat ten times, and several times a day. Then slowly turn head as far to right as possible, straight ahead, to left and back. Repeat ten times.

If, like Mrs. K., you are 40 and feel far from it, and would like to look young too, my little bulletin called "Unwelcome Signs of Age" will interest you. Ask for my complete set of exercises, too. Send stamped, self-addressed envelop for both.

Fifth Avenue Fashions

A SHEER crepe print in red and white strikes a distinctive note in its molded bodice and hipline that emphasizes the youthful figure.

The cape collar shoulders the responsibility of the sleeveless bodice. And hasn't the skirt a graceful swing?

Another scheme is chalky white crepe silk or chalky pastel blue or pink. It is just darling in this model with plain red grosgrain ribbon belt and bows. Think of how inexpensive it would be to make it. And it's so entirely simple.

Style No. 2919 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36 and 38 inches bust.

What Today Means to You

"CANCER."

IF July 21 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 6:30 a. m. to 8 a. m., from 5 p. m. to 6:20 p. m. and from 10:30 p. m. to 11:45 p. m. The danger periods are from noon to 1:15 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

The astrological indications for July 21 show more negative than positive results for efforts put forth. Opportunities will be present, but will "pass you by" while you are making up your mind whether to accept them or not. Dissension will raise its head in the home circle, to the discomfort of all concerned.

The child born on this July 21 will be more dominated than domineering, easily bullied by those around it. It will only be made self-reliant through brutal necessity, or when thrown into the stream of life to "sink or swim." Its disposition will be cheerful, and it will be in receipt of much sincere and merited affection. Nature has not stinted it with its natural resources.

Your ideas are, if born on July 21, like the laws of the Medes and Persians, unchangeable and unalterable. In every direction you see change and a groping for that which is modern. You, figuratively, pat yourself on the back, and adapt a "better-than-thou" attitude, which does not provoke either respect or affection. You flatter yourself that your will is a strong one, whereas onlookers call you both obstinate and pigheaded. The ability to say "No," in season and out of season, does not always denote either resolution or good sense. It sometimes spells sheer stupidity.

In your home life, either as a woman or as a man, you are dictatorial and try most unsuccessfully to run the entire family. There is no "give and take" in your disposition, an absence of toleration, and little or no sympathy. Nevertheless, no matter how dissatisfied others may be with your ways, you, at least, will always be persuaded that you alone, of all the regiment, are "in step."

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

Jellied Vegetable Salad.

(Bureau of Home Economics.)

A tasty jellied salad is a combination of different vegetables in a binder of lemon flavored gelatin. Small individual molds make the salad plates especially attractive, but a ring or other fancy single mold might be used if the salad is served from a platter. While the blend of flavors selected is exceptionally good, other vegetables could be added or substituted, and the gelatin mixture could be made of meat stock stiffened with plain gelatin. The recipe is from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Jellied Vegetable Salad.

½ cup lemon jelly powder
2 cups boiling water
½ cup diced cooked turnips
½ cup diced celery
1 cup cooked green peas, fresh or canned
1 No. 1 can red kidney beans
½ teaspoon salt

Dissolve the jelly powder in the boiling water and set aside to chill. When the mixture begins to stiffen, add remaining ingredients. Mix carefully so as not to break the vegetables. Turn into small individual wet molds, or a single mold, and chill. Remove to a bed of lettuce or endive. Garnish with mayonnaise dressing.

If prepared lemon-flavored gelatin is not available, make a pint of lemon jelly by mixing 1 tablespoon of plain gelatin with a half cup of cold water, then dissolving in 1½ cups of boiling water. When cool add two tablespoons lemon juice. In very warm weather add an additional half-tablespoon of gelatin.

MIDWEST IS CENTER OF CONTINUING HEAT

Few Sections Comfortable; 21 Dead, With St. Louis Reporting 6.

(Associated Press.)

Sullen, irritable and exhausted, most of the Nation yesterday continued to bake in stagnant heat.

Torrid temperatures prevailed especially in the Middle West. Twenty-one persons died of heat in the Nation, and temperatures mounted above 100 in many sections.

Chicago had an official reading of 97, but thermometers in downtown areas showed 106. Three persons died in the metropolis.

St. Louis led in the number of deaths—six—with a mercury in the middle 90s. Other deaths: Kentucky, 1; Minnesota, 4; North Dakota, 1; Pennsylvania, 3; Wisconsin, 1; West Virginia, 1, and Nebraska, 1.

The Southwest, still recording readings near the century mark, was hopeful of cooler weather as breezes gave promise of routing the heat.

Despite a storm Tuesday in the Rocky Mountain country, the mercury climbed past the comfort point yesterday. The Pacific Coast had "normal" temperature.

Idaho and the head of the Great Lakes region were the envy of the Nation, Duluth, Minn., reporting 71, and Pocatello, Idaho, slipping several degrees below Duluth. Utah also was in the comfort belt.

Detroit had a reading of 91; Baltimore, 89; Wheeling, W. Va., 101; Pittsburgh, 91, with high humidity; Washington, D. C., and Cleveland, Ohio, tied at 87, and Richmond, Va., went to 98, the highest temperature of the year.

The Texas territory had cooler weather on schedule, but yesterday El Paso looked at a 100 thermometer; Galveston, 86; Austin, 94, and Amarillo, 96.

Ninety-five degrees and a forecast of continued warm was the fare at Louisville, Ky. Indiana was promised relief from temperatures ranging from 97 to 100.

Iowa sweltered and Nebraska was worried about burning crops wilted by excessive heat.

Dr. F. K. Sparrow, Jr., Sails for Cambridge U.

Dr. Frederick K. Sparrow, jr., recently awarded a National Research Council Foreign Fellowship, sailed yesterday on the S. S. Europa for England where he will spend the next year in study at Cambridge University.

His wife and young son, Thomas, sailed with him. Dr. Sparrow is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick K. Sparrow, of 1106 East Capitol street. He is a Central High School graduate.

MUSSOLINI OUSTS FIVE OF HIS CABINET

foreign affairs and corporations, Signor Mussolini took over personal direction of relations with the vatican and of all religious matters. He did this by detaching the department of cults from the ministry of justice and putting it under his own ministry of interior.

The ministerial changes include:

Pietro de Francisci replaced Alfredo Rocco as minister of justice.

Guido Jung replaced Antonio Mosconi as minister of finance.

Francesco Ercole replaced Prof. Balbino Giuliano as minister of education.

New Right-Hand Man.

The premier replaced Signor Grandi in the foreign ministry and Giuseppe Bottai, minister of corporations.

Perhaps the most important replacement among the undersecretaries was the appointment of Edmondo Rossoni, who lived in the United States for a number of years prior to 1918, to the post of undersecretary to the premier, which makes him Signor Mussolini's right-hand man. This place had been held by the aristocratic Francesco Giunta. Signor Rossoni is an active labor leader proud of his humble origin. When in the United States he attempted to establish a federation of Italian workers, but failed.

The assumption of two more ministries by Signor Mussolini means that his voice will resound around the world more frequently in his capacity of minister of foreign affairs and that he will coordinate Italian economics with world conditions as minister of corporations.

Six College Professors.

The cabinet shake-up makes it more evident than ever who is running the government of Italy. But the premier has been politic. Six of his new appointees are college professors, and thus he has made a gesture toward the intellectuals, whose opposition to Fascism has has caused some discomfort.

Some commentators said that Signor Grandi might eventually want to become Ambassador at Washington but it was not believed that he would get that post now, as to send him there would be too obvious an effort to cash in on his popularity and friendship with President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson at a time when delicacy is the nation's watchword.

Major Industries Favor Daily Press Advertising

New York, July 28 (A.P.).—Major industries continue to show a preference for newspaper advertising over that of other media, the American Newspaper Publishers Association reported today.

The association's bureau of advertising announced the results of a survey showed 435 national advertisers spent $143,365,000 in newspaper advertising last year. Magazine space was used by 190 of these firms to the extent of $78,317,815, and 121 used radio broadcasts entailing an expenditure of $21,223,882.

The bureau reported that newspapers were the favored medium in 25 of the 32 industrial groups represented.

LATIN INDEPENDENCE MOVEMENT TRACED

2 Pennsylvania Educators to Deliver Lectures at G. W. U. Today.

Continuing his analysis of the diplomatic correspondence of the United States during the period from 1810 to 1822 when the American colonies of Spain were struggling to establish their independence, Dr. William R. Manning, of the Department of State, in his lecture yesterday before the Hispanic American conference at the George Washington University, traced the growing sentiment in this country and in Europe for formal recognition of the new nations.

At that period in world history, the lecturer said, the occasion had seldom arisen for the admission of new members into the family of nations, the United States, the Netherlands and Switzerland furnishing the only precedents. Now, however, Spain had given unwilling birth to a whole litter of lusty infants, and the question of the attitude which was to be adopted toward them was a complicated one.

During the years when the success of the Latin-American revolts hung in the balance, the United States, through communications from the Secretary of State to the foreign representatives of this Government, repeatedly warned European nations that it would be party to no movement for the political resubjugation of colonies, Dr. Manning showed. The attitude toward the Latin-American countries, as enunciated by President Monroe, was that the United States did not expect any special privileges from them in return for recognition of their independence, and likewise expected that none would be granted by the new nations to any other powers in exchange for recognition.

Today and tomorrow Dr. N. A. N. Cleven, of the University of Pittsburgh, will lecture before the conference on modern political life in South America. Prof. Roy W. Nichols, of the University of Pennsylvania, also will talk today, his subject being "Guano Diplomacy."

SAO PAULO REBELS ARE FACING CRISIS

Forces Now Virtually Surrounded by Federals on Land and Sea.

Rio de Janeiro, July 20 (U.P.).—Virtually surrounded by federal forces on land and sea, the Sao Paulo revolutionists tonight faced a crisis in their uprising against President Getulio Vargas.

Mauricio Cardoso, former minister of justice, arrived by airplane today from Porto Alegre, Rio Grande do Sul State, authorized to negotiate an armistice on behalf of the rebels.

Federal troops under Gen. Waldimiro Lima encircled the rebel position at Faixana, 152 miles from Sao Paulo City, on the southern front and prepared to open a major offensive. The government's naval forces were understood to have effected a complete blockade of the Sao Paulo coast including the port of Santos. Federal columns captured the towns of Passo Cipriano and Morangaba on the north and began bombardment of rebel trenches near Capella Ribeira.

The capture of Itarare Pass, Parana State, not far from Faixana, was hailed as the greatest federal gain. Gen. Lima's troops charged the rebels with bayonets fixed and engaged in a hand to hand battle before finally dislodging them. Loyalist losses were officially announced as small.

BOLIVIAN TROOPS RUSHED TO DISPUTED CHACO REGION

group, issued a call asking Bolivians to enroll in a "civic legion."

Asuncion, Paraguay, July 20 (A.P.).—President Jose Guggiari tonight told the Associated Press he was informing Paraguayan legations abroad that the Bolivian version of the recent Santa Cruz, Gran Chaco Fort incident was inaccurate.

(This would indicate that Fort Marisical, referred to in Bolivian dispatches, and Fort Carlos Antonio Lopez, of Paraguayan dispatches were the same. The Paraguayans have claimed they recaptured the fort. The Bolivians were vague, but their dispatches indicated their forces retreated orderly after a severe battle.)

President Guggiari added that Paraguay would "not abandon her defensive attitude unless provoked," but that the government and the people were firmly determined to maintain their rights.

The council of ministers met today and discussed the international situation in a four hour session. The results of the deliberations were kept secret.

Patriotic demonstrations continued in the capitol tonight, although the city was comparatively quiet.

(Associated Press.)

A hopeful sign in the troubled relations between Bolivia and Paraguay came yesterday as the latter government reversed itself and ordered its delegation to Chaco nonaggression pact negotiations in Washington not to leave for home.

Months of efforts by the neutral United States, Colombia, Cuba, Mexico and Uruguay to carry through definite negotiation of the long-standing dispute over the triangular piece of waste land between the two South American republics appeared to have failed finally when Paraguay recently withdrew her delegates in protest over an alleged attack by Bolivians on a Paraguayan Chaco fort.

The neutrals, in the face of reports from La Paz and Asuncion of an increasingly threatening situation between the two countries, sent a last-minute note to Paraguay urging reconsideration. The Paraguayan delegates went to New York Tuesday preparatory to sailing for home.

They now are awaiting further instructions in line with the latest orders to remain.

Bootleg Patron Called Worse Than Purveyor

New Orleans, July 20 (A.P.).—Of the two—bootlegger and purchaser—Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, Federal director of prohibition, says the latter is worse.

The comsumer is "the real culprit," he told an audience of prohibition adherents here today. "He is the one who causes so many people to be sent to the penitentiary."

CHINA HOLDS JAPAN FIGHTING AGGRESSOR

Legation Says Tokyo Is Bent on Aggravating Situation at Jehol.

(Associated Press.)

The Chinese legation, in reporting fighting in Jehol, Chinese province west of Manchuria, last night asserted that "Japan is bent upon aggravating an already aggravated situation."

In the face of the Jehol invasion, the legation added in a statement, "we are forced to resist with all the resources at our command."

The legation quoted a dispatch from Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, saying that on July 17, Chinese troops, pursuing train bandits, were fired on by Japanese soldiers who appeared suddenly on an armored train. Chang, wounded, withdrew his forces to Nanling, "where he has been resisting since," the dispatch said.

The bombing of governmental buildings at Chao-Yang by five Japanese planes and the killing and wounding of "several scores of persons and horses" by machine gun fire on July 18 also was reported.

Peiping military observers recently said that hostilities on a large scale may develop in the Province of Jehol, perhaps involving northern China. Numerous movements of troops have been reported there.

Real "Forgotten Man" In Prison Beyond Time

Belleville, Ill., July 20 (A.P.).—Joseph Douglas, East St. Louis Negro, was revealed today as a real "forgotten man." In 1914 he was sent to the southern Illinois Penitentiary to serve a term of one to fourteen years for manslaughter. He is still there—eighteen years after being sentenced.

Ray T. Hendricks, attorney, said the only explanation was that Douglas apparently had been forgotten. He will file a petition for his release.

Blumenthal Will Handle Flo Ziegfeld's Business

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—A. C. Blumenthal, banker and movie magnate, assumed today temporary control of the business affairs of Florenz Ziegfeld, who is ill with pleurisy in a hospital in Los Angeles.

Blumenthal said he was asked to take control in a telegram from Ziegfeld and his wife, Billie Burke. He accepted "as any friend would do," he said, and will be in charge only until his friend is able to return to his desk.

TECHINCAL ARREST HOLDS HURT FLIER

Mexico Detains McElroy, Lost in Jungle After Gordon's Death.

Mexico City, July 20 (A.P.).—Clarence McElroy, American flier lost in the jungles of Oaxaca state for almost three weeks after his plane crashed June 27, was arrested today in the town of San Geronimo, where he is recuperating from numerous injuries.

Dr. A. R. Goodman, American physician, who flew there to treat him, returned this afternoon with the explanation the arrest was merely technical.

A lawyer representing the Dean company, of Honduras, of which McElroy's companion, Roy Gordon, was a co-owner, requested the flier be held. It is believed that the case will be cleared up by Sunday and that McElroy, who comes from Medaryville, Ind., will then be able to leave San Geronimo by the next airplane. Gordon was killed in the crash.

The doctor brought back news that McElroy stayed with the broken plane four days and then struck out to save himself, traveling on his hands and knees for fourteen days through the jungles until he was found by an Indian hillman.

The gauge stays there longer on AMOCO!

THAT'S why Amoco costs less per mile! And when all's said and done, that's the only way to figure motor fuel costs. For what saving is there if the few cents less at the pump come home to roost in mileage loss and increased repair bills? Amoco gives you more miles to the gallon, and more motoring pleasure to the mile. There is only one Amoco-Gas—the original special motor fuel—that costs less per mile!

THE SEAWAY A CERTAINTY.

An enterprise of the magnitude of the proposed St. Lawrence seaway embraces thousands of details and gives rise to unexpected questions, as was demonstrated in the diplomatic spadework preceding construction of the Panama Canal. When two governments are concerned the difficulties of adjusting all questions are intensified by the readiness of politicians on both sides to inflame national suspicion and jealousy. There are indications that politics will now be injected into the discussion of the St. Lawrence seaway treaty, and if the Democratic party is not circumspect it may make the mistake of aligning itself against the project.

After long study and constant consultation the United States and Canada have agreed upon the basic principles which will enable them to cooperate in creating a highway for ocean-going ships, whereby these ships may penetrate into the far interior of this continent. It is a project of splendid scope, well worthy of the two nations that are mutually to profit by it. Fortunately nature has done most of the work. It has created the Great Lakes and scoured a deep river to the sea. By making suitable connections, man can transform these waters into an oceanic highway. Much of the world's food is produced within easy reach of this highway. Utilization of the power developed by the improvements will enrich both countries.

The treaty that awaits ratification has been drawn up with skill. It gives to each nation that which belongs to it, while reciprocally providing for the works that will perfect the seaway. Each country gains immensely by cooperating with its neighbor, and it loses nothing of its own. Neither could do the work alone. The treaty may need minor amendment as further study is given to it, but it can not be changed in its principal features, since no seaway at all can be created except by following the rules adopted in this pact.

Much is made of the rights of the States and provinces, as if somehow the United States had made the blunder of sacrificing the rights of States, or as if Canada proposed to sacrifice the rights of provinces. Nothing in the treaty supports this apprehension. Where should New York negotiate in regard to its rights, if not in Washington? How can Quebec settle its doubts, if not in Ottawa? The idea that the United States would attempt to defraud New York State, or that Canada should take away the rights of Quebec, is foreign to the spirit and letter of the treaty.

In reshaping the continent by the building of this seaway, the two nations concerned will confer immense benefits upon their States and provinces. It is absurd to assume that the interests of New York, or Illinois, or any other State can not be equitably adjusted while promoting the welfare of all the States. If any State should undertake to set its interests above those of the whole nation, and refuse to co-operate in promoting this enterprise, a way will be found to compel action, as was done when Arizona undertook to prevent the building of Boulder Dam. The Supreme Court is open to any State which insists that its rights or interests are infringed.

The St. Lawrence seaway became a certainty when the governments of Canada and the United States reached an agreement. This agreement is in pursuance of the desire of the peoples of the two countries, and is in harmony with the growth and necessities of both. Therefore the seaway will come into existence. Citizens and local governments on both sides will do well to study the agreement, with a view to perfecting it, but mere opposition, for the purpose of defeating the project entirely, will be as futile as an attempt to prevent the expansion of the United States and Canada.

FARM BOARD DIVIDENDS.

One of the most encouraging signs of the times is the jubilation of western farmers over their prospects for obtaining better prices. The phenomenal rise of market quotations for hogs and other live stock has been heralded throughout the country as a harbinger of returning prosperity. It has given farmers an idea. Why should they not hold their wheat and other products until reasonable prices are offered? Reports indicate that a determination to take control of the market situation is sweeping through the agricultural States.

North Dakota is engaged in a project of holding wheat until the better grades sell for $1 per bushel. Farmers are enthusiastically supporting the movement. Other States are expected to join. If the plan is adopted throughout the wheat belt, farmers may get more than $1 for their wheat when it finally goes on the market. They also have plans for releasing not more than 10 per cent of their holdings in any one month, so as to maintain the price.

These plans are especially encouraging because they indicate that farmers have taken the situation into their own hands, instead of waiting for Congress to come to their rescue. Fortunately, the way has been paved for them by the Farm Board. The vast holdings of wheat under control of the board have been almost completely disposed of. The board has given farmers a remarkable demonstration of orderly marketing, in spite of adverse conditions. No immense surplus in Government bins now hangs over the wheat market. Farmers are in a favorable position to cooperate for their mutual benefit.

When the Farm Board bought up surplus wheat in an effort to stabilize prices, farmers refused to cooperate. They were quite willing to dump their surplus upon Uncle Sam at profitable prices and to plant larger crops the next year. But they overplayed their hands and brought distress to both themselves and the Farm Board. Today farmers realize that they can attain stabilization only through their own efforts.

If the Farm Board's stabilization experiment and its strenuous efforts to promote cooperation have awakened a spirit of unity and self-reliance among farmers, they will be well worth the cost. "Dollar wheat" would not restore prosperity to the farm, but joint action by farmers in all parts of the country in a movement to demand reasonable prices for staple crops would usher in a new era for agriculture.

PANAMA'S NEW PRESIDENT.

Washington extends a cordial welcome to Dr. Harmodio Arias, well known in the Capital as the former minister from Panama, who now returns for a brief visit as president-elect of that republic. Dr. Arias will be a guest at the White House and will be entertained at an official dinner by the Secretary of State. Upon his arrival in New York Dr. Arias was received with a presidential salute of 21 guns and welcomed by representatives of the State, War and Navy Departments as well as the minister of Panama in Washington, Dr. Horacio F. Alfaro.

The election of Dr. Arias in June might well serve as a model for other Latin-American republics. Following a hotly contested campaign the result has been gracefully accepted and a peaceful succession assured, a consummation that does not always follow in neighboring countries. The eminent qualifications of Dr. Arias for his high post are recognized throughout all the nations of the continent. He occupied the presidential chair for a short time following the deposition of President Arosemena in January, 1931. When former Minister Ricardo J. Alfaro was recalled from Washington to assume the presidency Dr. Arias exchanged places with him here. He and Mrs. Arias made many friends in Washington before the minister resigned to enter upon his campaign for the presidency.

Dr. Arias is a lawyer and a scholar of exceptional attainments, whose calm judgment has been heard in many important conferences on international affairs. He announces that his regime will initiate no radical measures, but will seek to continue the reforms begun by President Alfaro, including a balanced budget, honesty in the administration of public funds, reduction of the public debt and maintenance of order and respect for law. Dr. Arias has been joined by Mrs. Arias, who journeyed to California by Pacific steamer to place her children in school. The president-elect is not here on any official mission, this being simply a recreation trip before he assumes office on October 1.

RAILROADS VS. TRUCKS.

How much is the competition of trucks responsible for the present plight of the railroads? What percentage of the business is now carried on rubber tires instead of steel rails? A great variety of answers to these questions is offered by interested parties. Estimates of the amount of freight transported by motors varies all the way from 2 to 15 per cent. But, the railways claim, the trucks are handling 40 per cent of the cream of the business, the less-than-carload freight.

The plea of the railroads is not to put the trucks out of business, but to regulate them, to extend the supervision and restrictions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, under which the railroads operate, to competitors who are making such inroads upon all classes of freight. This complicated question is extensively treated by Ben Hibs in the Country Gentleman. He finds that there is virtually nothing which cannot be shipped today by truck, and this applies to both heavy freight and long hauls. Trucks run on day and night schedules carrying fruit and vegetables from Florida to New York. Detroit ships six automobiles on a "truckaway" to Denver. Akron sends tires to San Antonio by truck. A double-deck truck and trailer can carry 200 head of sheep.

The railroads must observe labor regulations. They cannot change rates or routes. They cannot enter the merchandising or marketing business. Motor carriers are comparatively free agents in these matters, and it often gives them a great advantage on seasonal freight. The net income of the railways has been more than cut in half, due largely to the depression, of course, but truck competition is also a telling factor in the loss. The railroads, valued at $26,350,000,000, are of vital importance to the nation. Their bonds are held by a million investors; their stocks by 800,000; their securities are the backlog of the great life insurance companies and savings banks in which 63,000,000 policyholders and depositors are interested. The railroads employ 1,300,000 men and women whose income totals $2,000,000,000 a year and the roads purchase equipment and supplies amounting to another $1,000,000,000 a year.

The convenience and speed of the trucking system constitute a service that cannot be dispensed with. On the other hand, motor transport upon the public highways should not be suffered to enjoy unfair advantages over the strictly regulated railroads. Private users of the highways certainly will join the railroads in demanding that truck transportation be subjected to fair regulation.

ARREST THE AGITATORS.

The peace of the Capital is endangered by that radical faction of the bonus army which persists in its efforts to picket the White House. Open disorder was averted yesterday when the radical veterans encountered a phalanx of police on every side of the Executive Mansion. Stubborn attempts were made to reach the White House grounds in spite of the police. A little more emotion and a litle less patience might have precipitated a riot.

It is a disgrace to the United States that the Executive Mansion must be guarded like a fortress to protect its occupants. The farce of trying to extort $2,400,000,000 from the Government may turn into a tragedy unless these radicals are squelched.

The District Commissioners have instructed Chief of Police Glassford to use force if necessary to prevent disorders and to stop the picketing of the White House. Every veteran who disregards these necessary regulations becomes liable to arrest. The police should not hesitate to take into custody any transients who violate public safety regulations. Where there is willful intent to foment trouble jail sentences are in order.

The iron hand does not apply to veterans who respect the law and conduct themselves in an orderly manner. It is the radical group, which has been tainted by Communism, that is responsible for this fanatical scheme to bring pressure to bear upon the President. The sooner the District can get rid of this element the better it will be for the whole country.

Germany is so enthusiastic about the "achievements" at Lausanne that she just can't restrain the ecstatic Nazis and Communists from killing each other.

Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the candidate, reveals herself as a dry who favors repeal That's an ideal solution of the prohibition puzzle.

When secret European agreements leak out, American confidence in European good faith leaks out also.

GARNER "POURS IT ON"

From the New York Times.

Much has been said in recent years about enhancing the functions of the Vice President. Without any warning, but doubtless after deep thought, Mr. Garner is attempting to enhance the importance of a candidate for Vice President. In this pleasing task he sometimes seems to forget that he is not actually running for President; that he is not the "fit timber to deal with Herbert Hoover" that was selected at Chicago. He is "pouring it on" to the great delight of Texas. The delight of Mr. Roosevelt and the Eastern Democrats, of conservative Democrats everywhere, of all who do not know how to make allowances for the exuberances of Mr. Garner's generous nature and the beauties of Southwestern stump oratory, may be imagined.

Mr. Garner's argument may be calculated for minds already convinced, but to audiences that don't take passion for logic it has no other merit than its sincerity. He modestly observes that he holds "the most powerful position in this Government" except that of the President. Why will he be so tyrannous as to use his strength like a giant? Why will he not be merciful and spare Mr. Hoover a little and Gov. Roosevelt a good deal? Mr. Garner should remember that he is now not merely the cynosure of the Lone Star State. Is it not possible for him to adapt himself somewhat to the feelings and prejudices of Democrats of the great industrial and commercial States? Even that sink of iniquity, "Wall Street," has not sinned too grievously to be pardoned, temporarily, by the searchers for campaign funds in the leanest of years.

At Dallas the Speaker said that he hadn't made an electioneering speech for more than twenty years. These cumulative preferred dividends of talk he now plans to pay. After resting four or five weeks at Uvalde he will be "at the service of the Democratic national committee for this campaign." Unless he is capable of amending his peculiar style of talk, his talents would be best employed in the Philippines. His party would be safer. His own position would be congenial. For the most powerful official in the United States except one couldn't or wouldn't exercise his power without the consent of the governed. Democrats of the House were independent, as the Filipinos wish to be.

The Last of the Mohicans.

POST HASTE.

Vice President Curtis is going to the Olympic games. He won't stand much show in the barrel hurdles against jumping Jack Garner.

Defaulting South American countries that can find money for war and revolution demonstrate a resourcefulness equaling that of European nations in allowing Uncle Sam to hold the bag.

Smedley Butler urges the bonus veterans to stay in Washington. It is disappointing to see a general of Marines displaying as poor judgment as a demagogic congressman.

The chancellor of Austria arranged a big loan through the League of Nations, but when Parliament learned that he intended to pay debts with part of it you know what happened to him.

Looking down, George Washington must be pleased to be relieved for the moment of responsibility for our foreign policy while the vital contest rages as to whether Abraham Lincoln was a wet or a dry.

The statistical bugs say the advance in farm products already amounts to $100,000,000. A little more of this and the farmers will own the banks.

"I am big enough to deal with Hoover." But Cactus Jack will find that the game is no longer one of just House-party size.

England will propose an "empire currency" to the children assembling at Ottawa. They will say: "All right, Ma, but what will we use for money with the nations where we do most of our business?"

Now that poor little Pennsylvania is going to get some Federal pap, Smedley Butler should get back there and help Gifford Pinchot spend it.

One of the things that many new congressmen have to learn in the Capitol Hill kindergarten is that the law of diminishing returns is just as unrepealable as old supply and demand.

Prexy Butler is in London encouraging the cancellationists; Smedley Butler comes to Washington to mislead the bonus army. The shade of old Ben Butler gloats over the stormy petrals that continue the family tradition.

Arizona asks for $45,000,000, so that every man, woman and child in the State can have $100. Pennsylvanians will only get $4.50 each.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

THE HAPPY TOAD.

As I was walking down the road
I met an ugly, grinning toad,
Who squatted in the shade and said:
"I never wish that I were dead.
Wherever I may chance to stray
I find rich food along the way;
I have no dreams I can't fulfill;
I owe no other toad a bill;
In slimy places I abide,
But with them I am satisfied.
My little children I forsook
As tadpoles in a nearby brook;
I know not where they are nor care.
I have no burdens I must bear.
At night I never lie awake.
My bitterest enemy is the snake.
I have no taxes, no beliefs,
No cares, ambitions, hopes or griefs;
No clothes to buy, no cash to lose,
No tools that I must learn to use.
I sing no dirges, tell no jokes.
I'm just a jumping toad who croaks.
Contented, placid, happy I Shall be until the day I die."

* * * *

Yet, as I trudged along the road,
I thought, "Who wants to be a toad?"

He Is a Poor Leader Who Robs His Own People to Enrich Another Tribe

By ROBERT QUILLEN

WE, the people, own America. That is the theory. But we are merely stockholders in a great corporation. We can not manage the business ourselves. It is necessary to select leaders and give them authority to manage our affairs.

Whether these leaders are statesmen, bankers or great industrialists, their power is absolute. True, they hold place by the suffrage or silent consent of the people, but for good or ill they manage the Nation's affairs as they think best. They do not consult you or wait for your approval.

Observe now what they have done for you.

At the close of the great war America was the richest and most fortunate nation of all time. Everybody was busy, prosperous and safe.

We had a great merchant marine, built and building, capable of carrying all of our foreign commerce.

We had the greater part of the world's wealth.

We dominated the markets of the world.

We possessed the world's strongest battle fleet, which gave us assurance of peace.

Power gave us the respect of the world.

Then our leaders began to sacrifice us. "We have become a world power," they said. "We must think in international terms. We must cooperate with others to rebuild civilization—their civilization."

They sacrificed our merchant marine, and now we pay foreign ships half a billion dollars a year to carry our goods.

They loaned foreigners the money to build factories, finance trade and recapture world markets on which 2,000,000 Americans depended for their jobs.

They made junk of battleships and so weakened our Navy that little Japan can dare us to interfere with her looting.

Finally, they loaned other nations more than $10,000,000,000 of our accumulated wealth—without other security than the promise to repay.

Look about you and see the result. If not one cent of America's money had been loaned abroad cash and credit would be abundant and you would have a job.

If we had not financed competitors we would have markets still.

In short, if our leaders had thought of America first we would be prosperous and safe today.

Cooperation for the good of the world has a noble sound. But who else does any cooperating? What nation has weakened itself to please us? What other nation bankrupts its citizens to relieve our burdens? Name one sacrifice made by others for our benefit.

Other nations look out for themselves and themselves only. They always will. Must we be pauperized and whipped to our knees before our leaders learn equal wisdom?

No man has the right to starve his family in order to fatten envious neighbors.

PRO AND CON

Press Comment Upon Acts and Actors in the Great American Show, "Politics."

Disillusioned Mr. Rogers.
Kansas City Times.

Will Rogers has discovered that "for ways that are dark and for tricks that are vain"—but not altogether vain—the game of politics is not wholly free. Mr. Rogers, observant as he is and having moved about the country somewhat, should have been warned of the condition before. But it seems he had to wake up, literally, at Chicago to be made aware of the dangers. Through a generous impulse of Gov. Murray, Mr. Rogers had been given the 22 votes of Oklahoma at the Democratic convention. But, overcome with convention labors, Mr. Rogers fell asleep, only to learn, on awakening, that his votes were gone and with them his chances for the Presidency. There was left only the consolation of abundant company in his predicament. With that should go this permanent realization: Nothing in the universe is so uncertain in final results as a promise of votes at a party national convention. The votes really count only when the nominee has been put over.

Minorities Didn't Rule.
Louisville Courier-Journal.

The one bright spot in the session of the Seventy-second Congress was the failure of organized minorities to dictate legislation, such as the soldier bonus, but this was dimmed by the success of the oil, coal, lumber and copper lobbies in getting embargo duties into the emergency tax law.

And Vice Versa.
Detroit News.

The distance between what the White House asks and what the Congress offers is at times one of the most magnificent in Washington.

California for Hoover.
Los Angeles Times.

The brand of politics which forced Roosevelt's nomination will have considerable effect here in California. The Democrats of this State turned down Roosevelt hard at the primaries and were under the impression that their delegates would stand by their instructions at least for a few ballots. The deal by which McAdoo and Garner traded them off like a sack of potatoes, Garner gaining the vice presidential nomination and McAdoo revenge and presumably support for the senatorship, will not set so well here and may have repercussions elsewhere. It will, so far as this State is concerned, have no effect on the final result—California is for Hoover, anyway, but it may make trouble elsewhere.

Hoover vs. Garner.
New York Times.

This year Mr. Garner is a central figure in the campaign. Already Republican speakers have made it clear that the work of the small Democratic House majority, and the Speaker's relation thereto, is to be a frontal point of their attack. Lately the issue has been personified as between the President and the Speaker. It is a novelty in American politics and may add greatly to the interest of the 1932 campaign.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Great Britain and France Can Pay Debts by Ceding Colonies to America.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Since the dawn of history colonial possessions have brought power and prosperity. Athens, Tyre, Carthage rose to prosperity as colonial powers, as did later Venice, Portugal, Spain and Holland.

At the present time Great Britain and France are the most prominent exponents of this doctrine, while in this knowledge Italy, Japan and Germany did their best to attain "a place in the sun."

Now the great indebtedness of Great Britain and France is a millstone around their necks and on the other hand they are overburdened with colonies.

Therefore, a simple solution satisfactory to both sides and mutually advantageous would be to relieve them of their heavy burden of debts in exchange for ceding Syria, Palestine, Trans-Jordania and some Atlantic insular possessions.

The United States has always been lucky with her land purchases, though the purchase price in the present instance is out of comparison with that of the Louisiana or Alaska purchase. Nevertheless, the great benefits resulting from this transaction to the parties concerned would more than compensate. EDMUND E. FRANK.

New York, N. Y.

Resident Urges Citizens to Befriend Bonus Boys, Who Are Real Americans.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The unemployed men in the bonus camps are out of work through no fault of their own. The veterans now in the District were all sent off to the World War to defend us and our country, and now many American citizens seem to be disinterested in them. It is a cowardly attitude, and is the highest form of personal selfishness. Let all of us get together now and help these men, who are 100 per cent Americans, as long as we have the privilege of doing so.

If people are real Christians they will make at least some attempt at this work, and they will feel better mentally. I have worked for them for nearly a month, and have found nothing but cheerfulness and cooperation in every way, and they seemed to be pleased with the smallest things done for them. I have solicited clothing and food from hundreds of people in the District and many people are anxious to give and do something to relieve this desperate situation, while others are heartlessly selfish.

If it would really help their condition, I suggest that the veterans accept the generous offer of the Government to transport them to their home where they can vote.

They have my deepest and sincerest wishes for success in anything they might undertake to better their condition.

MRS. B. G. RUTTENCUTTER.

Foreign-Born Americans May Prove Salvation of the Country.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Paradoxical as it may seem to you, the general attitude of men ostensibly representing the spirit of America, of whom the editor of The Post is one, may some day be found to have been the ruination of the Nation.

It is sad that, so far, not one American, out of the thousands whom I know, has gathered enough courage to refute this popular error of reasoning about employment or lack of it having anything to do with numbers, or that reduction of the number of foreign-born would restore prosperity to the country. And this in the face of the fact that after practicing this pernicious philosophy, and in just the ratio of its vehemence, stagnation began to set in in the industrial life of the Nation.

America may yet need a Joseph, in the person of a foreigner, or even a collective spirit or influence unlike her own, and wake to find that the wisdom of entertaining angels may transcend human reason.

Justice to every law-abiding man, and respect to true merit is the fundamental need, in human society whether it is a part of the written Constitution or not.

P. CALPAKIAN.

Virginian Fears "New Deal" by Democrats Would Be From Bottom of the Deck.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I was greatly pleased to see your editorial, "Fighting Against Relief." It brings out the fact that Speaker Garner's "relief" program consists of trying to relieve Mr. Hoover of his job as President and putting in the Democratic presidential nominee, who talks, like an impractical-minded professor of economics.

After obstructing the relief program the Democrats are urging the voters to put them in full control of the Government. If the Democratic party is victorious and is able to put its stupid tariff policies into effect we will get a new deal all right—from the bottom of the deck.

EDW. D. LYLE.

Take a Home-Loving Wife or None in These Parlous Times, Mr. Man!

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: To the man contemplating marriage in these troublous times I would suggest marrying the quiet, home-loving and intellectual type of woman. The nonintellectual type usually wants bridge parties, dances, seashore vacations, excursions and sensual diversions which she refers to as "having a good time." Even all this can not ward off boredom for the modern everyday woman.

The more a woman has in herself the less she'll want from society. This is the reason why a high degree of intellect tends to make a person appear unsocial. PHILIP EBERT.

The Assistant to President Hoover and Mrs. French Strother, with their son, French Strother, jr. Mr. and Mrs. Strother were the guests in whose honor the Secretary to the President and Mrs. Walter H. Newton entertained at dinner last evening in celebration of the publishing of Mr. Strother's novel, "Maid of Athens."

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

NEW YORK, July 20.—Think we should write an article about "funny weather wear," or may be "aggrivatin'" weather wear. Because the world over, weather is being as capricious as miladi herself was at one time purported to be. One simply never knows what to expect in the weather way, from one day to another—from one city to another!

I think the way to be prepared for the eccentricities of the weather is to start at scratch—it being summer now, let's start on the assumption that it is very, very hot. Which, alas, it sometimes is! Well, our light weight and light color togs are the thing. Sleeveless dresses, shadow proof costume slips, straw hats and pastel colored accessories. We must have at least two or three complete outfits of this type.

Now, suppose the weather fools us—say it is semihot, sometimes even semichill. But we are where sportswear and summer colors are in order. So? Well, we use the same frocks, with the same accessories, and indulge in boleros, or jackets, sweaters and coats, or sweaters and coats and jackets. Worth gave us something when he designed the separate bolero with long sleeves—in a bright color, and to be worn with sportswear or dark and rather formal afternoon frocks. This bolero is for "funny weather wear."

The light weight fur jacket is another. This is shaved lamb, or broadtail or caricule, is seen on many a smart arm in sunny weather—the owner of said arm knowing quite well that the weather might change before she could get home for a jacket!

The clever woman must consider the weather eccentricities as never before. And she must be quite, quite prepared for all weather emergencies. No excuses are permitted—in every weather a woman has to be correctly and appropriately garbed, and for every occasion. What was a fairly simple matter a few years ago, has become a bit complicated weather wise.

* * * *

The bandana handkerchiefs—half an hour's work—and you have an adorable bathing or beach costume! It's darling for the kiddies, adorable for little or big sister, and quite, quite in order for mamma—in fact, mamma can go to the terrible extravagance of buying one more bandana handkerchief for another nickle—and add certain flares and a belt to her beach suit to make it a bit more sophisticated—and covering. Yes, and these handkerchiefs can go in the water, too—we soak them in salt and water overnight, which thickens them a bit and makes them less transparent. And don't forget that they cost all of five cents apiece—besides being simply adorable in design and colorful and original! Better send your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet which tells you how to make this bathing-beach suit!

* * * *

Beige silk ratane, a creamy beige, you know, which can be worn as well in town as at a resort. Matching accessories. There is your hot weather outfit. Then a vivid blue, long-sleeved bolero—and one other accessory that matches—either a belt, shoes, bag or gloves. There it is, still for town or country, and for slightly cooler weather.

Now, same accessories—and a brown broadtail jacket—and a turban variety hat—brown shoes—and there it is, very, very citified.

Au revoir!

Radio Dial Flashes

By ROBERT D. HEINL

ALBERT, King of the Belgians, will address the United States over the nation-wide networks of the NBC and CBS in a special international program in celebration of Belgian Independence Day.

King Albert will speak from the Royal Palace in Brussels, and his voice will be short-waved across the Atlantic for rebrodcasting over WRC at 3 p. m.

The Belgian national anthem and other patriotic airs of the country also will be heard during the broadcast. The ceremonies mark the anniversary of Belgium's independence from Holland, attained in 1831.

Although a number of ruling monarchs have sent their voices through the American ether, this will be the first occasion upon which King Albert's voice will be heard in the United States.

Ambassador Paul May, representative in the United States of the Belgian king, will speak from Washington (WRC, 3 p. m.) during the United States Navy Band concert program, which will be devoted to both spoken and musical tributes to Belgium.

OPENING ceremonies of the British imperial economic conference in Ottawa, Canada, will be carried throughout the United States by both chains (WRC, WMAL, 9:45 o'clock) this morning.

The Earl of Bessborough, governor general of Canada, is expected to open the conference and welcome the delegations from the various parts of the British Empire.

Other speakers will include the Right Hon. Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council; the Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, premier of Canada, and representatives of other member nations of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Another educational episode portraying the work of the men who are engaged in the management and protection of the national forests will be heard when "Uncle Sam's Forest Rangers" is presented (WRC, 12:30 p. m.) today. Harvey Hayes will play the leading role of Forest Ranger Jim Robbins.

Chic Johnson and Ole Olsen, broadcasting from "the padded cell of the air," will perform more of their "nut" antics for listeners to WRC at 7 o'clock tonight. Rudy Vallee and his orchestra will furnish the musical program.

"Lefty" Flynn, Yale football star of yesteryear, and his wife, the former Nora Langhorne, youngest sister of Lady Astor, have been signed to appear as the regular soloists of a program to be inaugurated (WMAL, 7:30 o'clock) tonight. Jack Berger's orchestra will furnish the music.

ED HILL, New York's star newspaper reporter, made a promising beginning as news commentator for Columbia. His subjects were varied. Speaking of depressions, Mr. Hill held out some hope in saying that history shows every depression since the Civil War has ended between May and September. With regard to foreign debts he remarked that any one who thinks we will get back a sizable part of $11,000,000,000 owed us abroad certainly believes in Santa Claus. As to Gov. Roosevelt, Mr. Hill remarked that the sailing expedition of the governor, and the airplane flight to the Chicago convention were for the purpose of advertising to the world that the Democratic candidate is physically sound, excepting for his inability to walk.

Hill has a splendid voice for the radio and though he made a good beginning a year or so ago, has greatly improved since. He has a way of dramatizing his subjects without exploding like a machine gun. His style is quite different from that of Wile, Lawrence or Bill Hard, but just about right for New York.

Likewise, what Hill has to say is not calculated to antagonize newspapers, which have been complaining more than usual lately because radio has been invading the spot news field. Hill doesn't grab a newspaper as he rushes into the studio and depend upon getting by with his audience by reading the headlines, but rather discusses the news in an editorial fashion, venturing his own opinions, which, in the light of his long service on the New York Sun, are decidedly worth while.

WABC and the Columbia network will be synchronized with W2XAB's television facilities when the first anniversary of Columbia's regular transmission of television programs will be celebrated (WMAL, 8 o'clock) tonight. The same event will also inaugurate regular broadcasting of simultaneous sight and sound on one wavelength, a new development in visual broadcasting.

The automobile horns heard during Paul Whiteman's rendition of "The American in Paris" over the air were imported from France by George Gershwin. They are tuned every week by the percussionist in the band.

NATS WIN FROM TIGERS, 4-1, ON BERG'S DOUBLE

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

THE stench of the Sharkey-Schmeling decision was wafted again before the nostrils of this department last night at a private showing of the films of recent world championship match, and it proved as pungent as did the original verdict that night in June one month ago today.

The projection of the fight was a feature of the Amity Club stag night. A great gang of fellows, the Amity Club, headed by President Isidore Semaker. The kind who don't have to put on the dog to show themselves a good time. Their fun is effortless and this department is indebted for a most hearty and enjoyable evening.

So I could take the decision at the end of the Sharkey-Schmeling battle in a more or less jocular mood. The judges and the referee apparently carried into their verdict the motif of levity that had characterized the Amity Club gathering. If you didn't take the decision seriously you enjoyed it.

Compared to the patriotism displayed by the two American judges and the American referee who gave the decision to Sharkey, George Washington was a traitor to the United States. It was the greatest patriotic decision ever rendered by three American citizens.

It was the second time that this column had seen the pictures of the fight and incidentally squinted his own figure in the second row ringside for the entire reel. I wanted to see the pictures in New York the morning after the bout to learn if the decision was as bad as it had appeared to me the night before. It was. And last night's showing removed any further doubt.

Sharkey hasn't hurt Schmeling yet. And the German rocked the former gob plenty. Schmeling even outboxed the master boxer, Sharkey, at times, and Sharkey's left eye was not a sight for the ladies to behold at the finish. A squint at Sharkey at the finish of the fight must leave the impression that if Sharkey was the winner they must have buried the other guy.

Just as a matter of personal record, this column held the stop watch on the movies last night. A $35 Swiss that was loaned to me by Richard S. Tennyson, the big playground man about town. Just as I suspected at the first showing, there was dirty work at the crossroads in cutting the films.

Only one round of the fifteen projected did I time at the full 3 minutes. The rounds varied as low as 2 minutes and 9 seconds, and it was apparent to me they hadn't been cut in Schmeling's favor. Schmeling's best round, the ninth, was timed at only 2 minutes 9 seconds, and it was in that round that Sharkey was wobbling unsteadily.

Somebody had the films cut to make somebody's decision look right, if you ask me. Schmeling did his best work at the start of every round when he tore across the ring to lay it on Sharkey with both hands. Yet the starts of only two rounds were shown.

This is no alibi. The Post's files on the morning of June 21 show that this column predicted Sharkey as the winner. But I waive all credit.

Governor's Aid Seeks To Control Red Sox

Worcester, Mass., July 20 (A.P.).—Winfield A. Schuster, a member of the Massachusetts Governor's Council, announced today he was interested in securing the controlling interest of the Boston Red Sox baseball team, but that nothing definite would be done until the end of the American League season.

Mr. Schuster was a member of the Brown University baseball team three years and captained it during his senior year.

Public Links Trophy to Louisville

Nichols Adds 74 to Win Medal With Total of 145.

Burrows, of Capital, Qualifies, Shooting 18 Holes in 151.

By S. V. STILES.

SHAWNEE GOLF COURSE, Louisville, Ky., July 20 (A.P.).—Louisville's four-man team won the Harding Cup in the qualifying round of national public links tournament here today, and medalist honors went to a California school boy, Joe Nichols, who was runner up last year to Charles Ferrara.

Nichols, dark haired youth who likes to play golf, but apparently doesn't like to talk about it, was cool and methodical in his play again this year and showed in the 36-hole qualifying round he has improved his game since 1931. The 16-year-old Long Beach player added 74 to his 71 of yesterday and was the only one among yesterday's leaders who stayed on his game. He had some trouble at times, but made an eagle 3 on one hole and collected three birdies to make up for it.

Burrows Makes Poor Start.

Only one member of the Washington team was able to enter the championship round. Bradley Burrows had cards of 38-37, total 75, added to his 76 of Tuesday, which gave him a total of 151. Burrows was one over par on each of the first three holes, but settled down to some consistent golf from then out and came in only two over the first nine holes. Starting off with a birdie four on ten he parred eleven, was one over on twelve and came in with an eagle deuce on seventeenth to give him a total of 37 for the nine.

Lewis S. Fuchs found the course hard for his game and had a total score for today's round of an 84, which added to an 86 of Tuesday gave him a total of 170.

Harlan Will also had trouble coming in with a 40-41 for a total of 81, which with his 79 of Tuesday gave him a 160 score. George Molloy shot consistent golf for a 38-38-76 today, but his 80 of Tuesday gave him a total of 156, three strokes over the play-off score for last positions on the team. Volney G. Burnett turned in a card of 159 for 36 holes, taking a total of 82 for the second day's play.

Chicago Second in Team Play.

Next to Louisville in the Harding Cup contest, in which 33 cities entered teams, was the Chicago aggregation, one stroke higher than its Kentucky hosts. It was after 6 p. m. when Chicago's last team player came in.

Behind Nichols' low 145 were four players with 146—Ray E. Wiggins, Oakland, Calif., insurance company accountant; Donald O'Bryan, Louisville whisky salesman, his customers being druggists; William Jelliffe, Los Angeles, whose 36 years make him one of the oldest contenders, and Ralph Strafaci, Brooklyn school boy.

William A. Heinlein, Indianapolis, and Talbot Boyer, Portland, Oreg., who had a remarkable string of nine consecutive fours yesterday, and Pete Miller, Chicago, had 147 today. Then came four with 149—R. L. Miller, Jacksonville, Fla.; Erwin Schaber, Louisville; Karl Karch, Brooklyn, and Irving Goodard, Los Angeles.

Tribe Beats Boston, 8-1; Wins 14 of 17 on Trip

Boston, July 20 (A.P.).—Cleveland ended a successful road trip by defeating the Red Sox, 8 to 1, today, having won fourteen of seventeen games played on the road and taken four out of five in their present series.

The Indians made enough runs to win in the second, when they got to Bob Kline for three markers.

Goldstein and Tardugno Win Opening U. S. Olympic Tests

Capital Youths Gain Decisive Verdicts on Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 20 (A.P.).—Before a crowd of several thousand fans who witnessed the country's amateur boxing stars wade through the preliminaries tonight in the tournament to determine America's Olympic boxing team, Mike Tardugno, of Washington, D. C., successfully weathered his first test in the 126-pound class.

Bobby Goldstein, also of Washington, D. C., and representing the University of Virginia, banged out a decision over Hoyt Jones, of Burbank, Calif., in the 135-pound class.

Tardugno, representing Columbus University, and eligible as the result of winning his way to the national intercollegiate finals, scored a clean-cut decision over Dominic Bufallini, of Pittsburgh.

It was a rough bout. Tardugno carried the heavier wallop and dazed Bufallini in the last of the three rounds with a stiff right to the jaw. Tardugno shoved Bufallini down in the opening round and the latter retaliated by tripping the Washington boy in the second. It was not vindictiveness, however, both merely being overanxious. Tardugno beat a heavy attack to the Pittsburgher's body.

Goldstein, national intercollegiate lightweight champion, paved the way for a well-earned decision with a great boxing exhibition. He was forced to top speed by the wild swinging, rushing Californian whose windmill sweeps would have knocked anybody out of the ring had they landed.

Goldstein came to the coast with a reputation of never having been defeated in three years of college boxing. He is a brother of the A. E. F. featherweight champion and one of the strong favorites to win a berth on the United States team.

Some 30 fights were on the program for the opening of the fistic parade that will determine Uncle Sam's standard bearers after a three-night shower of leather, ending with semifinals and finals Saturday.

Allen, of Yankees, Beats Chicago, 7-2

Young Hurler Allows Only Five Hits in Briefest Win of Year.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—The Yankees scored the quickest victory they have won at home all season today when they downed the Chicago White Sox for the fifth straight time, 7 to 2. The game lasted only an hour and 34 minutes.

Johnny Allen let the Sox down with five hits to end the Yanks' home stand against the West with 12 victories in 17 starts.

Olympic Ticket Sale Passes 1,300,000

Los Angeles, July 20 (A.P.).—With the opening day of the Olympiad exactly ten days hence, advance ticket sales passed the 1,300,000 single admissions mark today, thereby exceeding all attendance marks of the modern games.

Zack Farmer, general manager of the local organizing committee, predicted the Olympic Stadium with its capacity of 105,000 seats would be a sellout for the opening ceremony, July 30.

Grove Hurls Macks To Sixth Straight

Scores Fifteenth Win of Year in Victory Over Browns, 8 to 5.

Philadelphia, July 20 (A.P.).—Lefty Grove hurled the Athletics to victory today over the St. Louis Browns, 8-5, giving his team its sixth straight triumph, and marking up his fifteenth win of the season.

Sammy Gray opposed Grove, but could not prevent the A's from bunching hits when runs were needed. Cochrane pounded out his fourteenth homer of the season in the third inning.

Pitcher Sewell Is Sent Back by Detroit Club

Detroit, July 20 (A.P.).—Charles F. Navin, secretary of the Detroit American League Club, today announced that Truett Sewell, right-hander recently recalled by Detroit from Toronto as a relief pitcher, has been released under option to Beaumont, of the Texas League.

At the same time Navin announced that Bob Coleman, formerly a catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cleveland Indians, has been signed as Tiger coach for the remainder of the season. Coleman was with the Decatur, Ill., team of the Three Eye League until the league disbanded.

Houghton, Kenwood Pro, Within Stroke of Record

AL HOUGHTON, professional of the Kenwood Club, yesterday came within a stroke of equaling a world's record for playing eighteen consecutive holes on a championship course without consuming more than four strokes per hole. He missed tying the standard on the very last of eighteen holes on his home course when he took a 5, one over par.

Playing with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Irwin and John Shorey, Houghton cracked the 6,550-yard course par for the fourth time in as many weeks, shooting a sensational 66, or six under par for Kenwood. He had four consecutive birdies on the outward nine, the second to fifth inclusive, and knitted a string of three birdies on the incoming nine, from the twelfth to fourteenth, inclusive.

On the eighteenth hole, which has proven his nemesis during his recent streak of par-smashing golf, Houghton landed his second shot in the trap to the right of the green. It required another stroke to get him on the green and two more to hole out. On each of his four 66 rounds, Houghton reached the eighteenth with a chance to better the record, only to take one more than the standard four strokes for that hole. His card yesterday:

Out .....4 4 3 3 4 3 4 3 4—32
In .....3 4 4 4 3 4 4 3 5—34—66

Three local pros will tune up their games for the forthcoming Middle Atlantic sectional qualifying for the national P. G. A. tournament in an eighteen-hole exhibition match tomorrow on the Congressional course. They are Sandy Armour, of Congressional; ◦A. B. Thorn, of Woodmont, and Freddy McLeod, of Columbia. The first two mentioned will team against McLeod and Ralph Beach, of the Suburban Club, Baltimore.

Reed Batters Raymond to Defeat

Toys With Southpaw in Late Rounds to Win Easily.

Britt Defeats Irving as 1,200 See Upset on Laurel Card.

By JACK ESPEY.

JIMMY REED, the best piece of fistic "copy" that has been available in nearby rings in years, further entrenched himself in the favor of Capital fans last night when he hammered out a decisive victory over hard-punching Phil Raymond, Baltimore southpaw welterweight, in the 10-round feature of Twin-City's weekly card. Some 1,200 fans saw the battle.

Duplicating his colorful performance of two weeks ago when he upset Jack Portney, another Baltimore left-hander, Reed won almost as he pleased after taking the fight out of Raymond with a murderous shelling in the eighth round.

But it required a number of jolting body blows to arouse Reed's fiery spirit and for a while it appeared as if "One-Shot Phil" were going to make the Jacksonville Irishman swallow his prefight boasts. Raymond won the fifth and sixth rounds and got an even break in the fourth by blasting a series of left hooks in Jimmy's pantry, meanwhile forcing him to back up against the ropes.

Reed Makes Show Of Baltimorean.

Prior to the fourth, Reed, smiling in his own inimitable manner, tried to make a show of the proceedings and succeeded to a fair degree. He waited for Raymond's formidable left, blocked it, and retaliated with a stinging right uppercut to the head, and then danced away, motioning Phil to come into him again.

Finally Raymond tried to outtalk Jimmy, which proved his undoing. He motioned Reed to come in and inserted some remarks about the Southerner being a mother's baby. Then Jimmy, uttering a defi that was lost in the crowd's uproar, sailed in swinging from the backyard and belted Phil all over the ring. By the end of the eighth he had Raymond hanging on and during the final two rounds simply used his foe for a punching bag. Raymond didn't strike a blow in the ninth.

Sammy Britt, a preliminary boy who never had won a fight locally, registered the season's biggest surprise in the six-rounder preceding the finale by beating Henry Irving, Northeast knockout king, with yards to spare. Irving continually found a left hand in his face after failing to drop Britt with a powerful right in the first round, the result being a one-sided contest.

Don Whitlock, Tallahassee, Fla., welter, outpointed Pete de Angeles, Baltimore, in six rounds, while in four-rounders Jack Simpson, Jacksonville bantam, decisioned Doug Swetman, Washington; Soldier Clark, Fort Washington lightweight, conquered Baltimore Kid Groves, and Johnny Koles, Baltimore welter, outslugged Sailor Leonard, Boston.

18 U.S. Canoe Titles At Stake Sunday

With crews from almost a score of cities entered, the National Racing Canoe Championships to be held Sunday on the Potomac River off Hains Point, promise to be the outstanding athletic event listed on the Bicentennial program. No less than 18 races and three elimination canoe tilts are listed. Participants will be divided into three divisions, senior, junior and intermediate, with six races and one tilting contest for each division.

The Pendleton Canoe Club, of New York City, will defend its National Championship Point Trophy, gained last year, against the leading canoe clubs of the entire United States. Ernie Reidel, world's champion double blademan, and Charles Robinson, national single blade champion, will sport the Pendleton colors.

BRAVES IN VICTORY.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 20 (A.P.).—The Boston Braves today defeated the Harrisburg Senators, by defeating their newly-acquired farm club, 4 to 1, in an exhibition game.

DUSEK FACES GARIBALDI TONIGHT

Return Bout Heads Wrestling Card at Stadium.

RUDY DUSEK, long regarded as the favorite son of local wrestling fans, will be struggling to retain his laurels when he clashes with Gino Garibaldi, recent conquerer of Rudy, in the feature match of a card to be presented at Griffith Stadium tonight. One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand for the festivities.

Gino accomplished his victory over Dusek by first throwing him out of the ring and then planting both feet in his stomach as Rudy endeavored to climb back onto the canvas. Garibaldi's methods stirred Dusek's ire no little and he has vowed that tonight will see his honor avenged. Gino, however, is confident that he can repeat his triumph. The fans were rooting in a big way in his first appearance here.

Vic Christy, youthful grappler, who was to have opposed Chief White Feather, will be unable to appear because of an infected arm, the result of an injury suffered in a bout at Baltimore Tuesday night. Frank Brunowich has been substituted for him.

The other bouts stand as first announced. Pat O'Shocker and Floyd Marshall, a couple of boys who never fail to excite the patrons with their rough antics, are scheduled to struggle through to a decision in the semi-final. Lou Plummer and Jim McMillen, and Herman Hickman and Mike Walker will get the show started.

Squeeze Play Vehicle for Detroit's Lone Tally in Fifth.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

AFTER having taken it on the chin from the Tigers in the three previous games, the Nationals yesterday turned an about-face to gain a 4-to-1 decision. And the odd part about it was that Lloyd Brown, knocked out in the first game of Monday's double-header, was as good yesterday as he was ineffective in his previous start, the result being that scalp number 13 now dangles from his belt.

Brown was opposed on the hill by Vic Sorrell, one of the few bespectacled flingers now performing in the national game, and the two allowed the same number of hits—nine each. But the difference was that Brown was generally effective in the pinches. When he found himself in trouble, he was able to pitch his way out, and, even in the Detroit scoring frame, one of the two hits recorded was a squeeze bunt.

Sorrell Solved In Sixth.

Sorrell also was tight in the pinches except in one round, the home sixth, and his failure here cost him the decision. Three hits and two walks were crowded into this inning, the big blow being a double by Catcher Moe Berg, which emptied the filled bases. This came after an opening single by Myer, Manush's double and Cronin's long fly had knotted the count.

It was an interesting game throughout, with futile threats rather than scoring holding the attention of the fans. Because of the closeness of the melee until the Nats stepped out in the sixth, every base-runner was a source of worry to

Wife's Quick Thinking Saves Carl Reynolds, Stricken in Taxicab

STARK tragedy that may have resulted from the broken jaw received by Carl Reynolds, Washington outfielder, as a result of being punched by Bill Dickey, Yankee catcher here July Fourth, was narrowly averted two days ago, The Post has learned.

Reynolds, with his jaw wired to speed the healing of the break, and subsisting on a liquid diet, was overcome with nausea while returning from a theater in a taxicab with Mrs. Reynolds. Vomit, which he could not emit, filled his tightly clenched mouth and he suffered great danger of strangulation.

Mrs. Reynolds stopped the cab, assisted her husband to the sidewalk under a lamplight, drew from her purse a pair of manicuring scissors and clipped the wires that bound his jaws together, affording him relief.

Henceforth, Reynolds says, he will not be unaccompanied either by Mrs. Reynolds, or a pair of scissors.

Weaver Faces Tigers; Wyatt Likely Opponent

Despite the fact that they have been beaten in three of the four games already played in this series with the Detroit Tigers, the Nationals can go back into fourth place by winning this afternoon's fracas. It will be up to Pitcher Monte Weaver, seeking his fourteenth victory of the season, to bring this about. He likely will be opposed by Whitlow Wyatt.

HILENA WINS $17,900 STAKE FOR FILLIES AT ARLINGTON PARK

Choices Trail 6-1 Shot in Feature

Hilena, Workman Up, Gets Away Badly, But Finishes Fast.

CHICAGO, July 20 (A.P.).—Hilena, a fleet 2-year-old miss, born in the hills of West Virginia, was a surprise winner of the Arlington Lassie Stake, worth $25,230, richest juvenile stake for fillies in the world, at Arlington Park today.

She conquered the two favorites, Edelweiss and Swivel, in a stunning upset. It was her second victory in six starts. Hilena won by a length and a half over the Wheatley Stable's Edelweiss, with Swivel third, three lengths ahead of Col. E. R. Bradley's Barn Swallow. Screech, Mrs. John Hay Whitney's crack 2-year-old, finished fifth in the field of five. Sunny Queen and George E. Widener's Vespa were scratched.

The victory was the most important of Hilena's career, as she won $17,900 for B. B. Jones, her owner. Edelweiss received $2,500 for finishing second, with $1,500 going to Swivel for third place.

Pilots Here Monday In Night Ball Game

Night baseball, long deferred locally, will be introduced at American League Park Monday night, when the Washington Pilots return home. An expenditure approximating $5,000 has been necessary to take this step.

The Pilots will show under the klieg lights for the first time Monday night when they entertain Pittsburgh's Crawfords in the first of a three-game series.

Other clashes with the Crawfords are slated for Wednesday and Friday nights. In a recent invasion of Pittsburgh the Pilots divided a four-game series.

Public Parks Singles Entries Close Tonight

All aspirants to the singles championship crown in the Washington public parks tournament, opening Saturday at the Sixteenth street reservoir courts, must submit their entry by 6 o'clock tonight. Applications will be received at the Tennis Shop, 1019 Fifteenth street northwest. Doubles entries will not close until tomorrow night. Play in the doubles will not be inaugurated until Sunday.

AT THE POST

—with Bill Bennings—

DEAR AL: ARLINGTON PARK, CHICAGO, JULY 20.

We Washingtonians have reason to be proud of Sonny Workman. Today he turned a quitter into a galloping winner in a $10,000 race. Sonny gave Hilena one of his copyrighted rides to get the juvenile home ahead of Eidelweiss and other star youngsters. My picks produced two winners here and one at other tracks with a multitude in the money.

I'm putting these in the other tracks group for tomorrow: Inspector, Pardee, Billy Champ, K. Russell, Boardwalker. BILL.

FIRST RACE—TABAKU made such a nice job of it the last time that I'm forced to put him on top. Sonny Workman has the rail with this one and may repeat the effort that marked his only start. ST. CHRISTOPHER is recommended for second ahead of POLYGENY.

SECOND RACE—FLYING HOME is my choice to set back the probable favorite, RENEWED. FLYING HOME has some money races that show him to be pretty fair. His early speed should serve him well. SUSPICIOUS for the show.

THIRD RACE—MAROONED has done practically everything asked of him of late. Carries a mean stretch drive and should ankle home in front of this gang. Mike likes him. Wright, who just lost his apprentice allowance, will do the riding. POPPYMAN and RAPSCALLION to battle for the remainder.

FOURTH RACE — UNCOMMON GOLD has been improving of late and his trials show him ready for the question in a group of this sort. The lightly weighted MISS CORINE may take the place ahead of GOOD AND HOT.

FIFTH RACE—ETCETERA will carry 98 pounds and Coucci will do the riding. This combination seems hard to beat here. PITTSBURGHER to defeat Hertz entry of VALENCIENNES and RISQUE for third.

SIXTH RACE—SAZERAC ran a bang-up race in the classic and previous to that won two races impressively. What more do you ask? SPRINGSTEEL looks like the one to beat. The show end should go to EVERGOLD.

SEVENTH RACE—SUITOR came to life with a bang as the sun was low in the west the other day and off that race I'm putting the veteran on top. PIGEON HOLE seems to be worn out. PEACE LADY for third.

EIGHTH RACE—BRIGHT BEAUTY is as keen as they make them and should take care of this group. MODERN TIMES appears to be a money possibility. HARAMZADA for the tiny award.

Stocks Recover Declines In Week's Dull Sessions

One to Two Point Advances Made as Turnover of Day Increases.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—Stocks today recovered their losses of the week's previous sessions, moving ahead from the opening and meeting only temporary setbacks to their progress.

A reaction came early in the afternoon, but was soon checked and the market had a fairly strong closing. The turnover increased to 826,720 shares. Gains of 1 to 2 points were numerous.

A cheerful undercurrent of sentiment in the steel industry toward prospects, notwithstanding the unfavorable record of immediate accomplishments, was doubtless a market factor. Also to be considered was the market's distinct inclination to subside into a state of complete somnolence during recent periods of heaviness.

Rails Watch Meeting.

Rails kept an eye on the executives' meeting, which asked equality of opportunity with other forms of transportation rather than Government aid. Several carriers took an upturn. In the more active group Union Pacific, Norfolk & Western, Delaware & Hudson, New York Central and Santa Fe did rather well.

Chesapeake & Ohio, reporting June net operating income of $1,772,360 against $3,567,889 a year ago, was up nearly a point.

Several preferred stocks advanced sharply and the buying was well distributed. In common issues American Can, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Loew's, American Tobacco "B," Gillette, Drug, American Telephone and Consolidated Gas firmed a point or more. The gold mining issues again found fair demand under leadership of Alaska Juneau and Homestake.

National Biscuit Report.

National Biscuit's second quarter report seemed better than expected, while General Electric at least covered its dividend and disclosed a strong financial position.

Iron Age estimated steel ingot output at 16 per cent of capacity, unchanged from last week, but was impressed by growing evidences of stability and indications that price weakening was disappearing. The trade "is increasingly confident," it said, "of an upturn in September."

Electric power production last week made an unfavorable comparison with a year ago, the decline being 13.9 per cent. Industrial activity is now generally at its lowest ebb of the depression and improvement in this index, under present conditions, could hardly be expected.

Visible Canadian Wheat Supply.

Fort William, Ontario, July 20 (A.P.).—Visible Canadian wheat at all points at the beginning of this week totaled 139,299,882 bushels, or 28,000,000 more than at the same date last year, according to the report of the statistical branch of the board of grain commissioners.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

What the Stock Market Did

	Wed.	Tues.
Number of advances	284	134
Number of declines	71	178
Stocks unchanged	121	119
Total issues traded	476	431

Stocks.

Recent losses recovered as stocks turned strong in defiance of temporary setbacks. One to two points in gains were common.

Bonds.

Advance continued in hopeful market. German situation ignored by operators and investors. Four-tenths of a point added to prices.

Curb.

Gains outnumbered losses in quiet trading. Oils steadied and utilities joined the advance.

Wheat.

Heat and rain reports caused drop in wheat values. Corn and oats declined. Rural selling was felt in the market.

Cotton.

Weather conditions and easy Liverpool cables sent the general market down 8 to 11 points. October closed at 5.77.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

London—The stock exchange started cheerful with moderate rises in gilt-edged securities and gold mine shares, but unfavorable German and Italian news caused dullness. Later a general easing in prices with weakness in German bonds caused the market to close uncertain.

Paris—Prices on the bourse were unsettled owing to the increased bullish influence of German developments. Under the lead of French rentes prices drooped in all sections, the closing being heavy.

Berlin—Traders on the bourse took the political developments quietly but the public held aloof. Firmness in the quotation abroad for the mark produced a good impression. The market closed inactive with fractional changes.

Anglo-Canadian Steel Pact.

London, July 20 (A.P.).—An agreement, terms of which were not revealed, has been reached by British and Canadian steel representatives, who have been discussing cooperation in Canadian conferences, it was announced today by Sir James Dunn.

CAPITAL'S BUILDING GROUPS GAIN ASSETS

William Quinter Reveals Strong Financial Position in Recent Report.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Figures just compiled by William S. Quinter, secretary of the Building Association Council of the District of Columbia, reveal local building associations in a very strong position with total assets of $54,962,747. This is a gain in assets for the month of June of $557,785 and for the six months a total gain of $3,133,737.

During June, 431 loans were made amounting to $1,499,572 and since January 1, 2,670 new loans have been made with an aggregate of $9,658,046. There have been 5,240 new savings accounts opened by the associations during the same period.

The new home loan bank bill just passed by Congress will give these institutions a still larger field of activity and it is expected that before the year closes they will have loaned approximately $25,000,000 on Washington homes.

Article on Claims.

Local insurance executives are reading with interest an article on "The Adjusting and Compromising of Insurance Claims," written by Representative Byron B. Harlan, chairman of the House committee on revision of laws. The article appears in the current issue of the Journal of American Insurance.

In the course of Representative Harlan's article, in which he discusses at length many technical phases of the subject of insurance adjusting and compromise, the writer makes the pertinent statement that "it would be well to remember that life insurance is a far more important savings institution than is commonly realized.

"This factor should influence policyholders in maintaining the integrity of their contracts, without reducing the face value thereof, as they were entered into by the strong, valiant bread-winners primarily for the protection of their loved ones."

Acts of Men.

"In an extended experience," Representative Harlan continues, "I have encountered men who would let the act of a moment neutralize the years of constancy, truth and loyalty—one debit cancel, in an instant, the long account of credit. This makes it immeasurably harder if one forgets the equity, by overlooking the margin still remaining on the credit side. A little patience, a little tolerance, a little generous waiting and watching before pronouncing final judgment, during the present economic stress, may accomplish wonders.

"In other and more exact words, let us become active members, without initiation fees or any assessments whatsoever, in the Society for the Suppression of the Discussion of the Depression."

Due to the inability of several members of the banking and industrial committee of the Fifth Federal Reserve District to attend the third meeting of the group scheduled for today at Riggs National Bank, the meeting has been postponed until July 28.

An interesting review of bank and insurance stocks is being distributed by Waggaman, Brawner & Co., Inc., local investment bankers.

Utility Holding Companies Scored for Taking Cream

Topeka, Kans., July 20 (A.P.).—A severe condemnation of the practice of utilities holding companies in taking "the cream from the gross earnings of the operating companies" was delivered by the Kansas Public Service Commission in deciding on a 25 per cent reduction in natural gas rates collected at the gates of 100 cities by the Cities Service Gas Co.

The commission today was preparing a formal order to reduce the rates charged by the Pipe Line Co. from 39.5 cents a thousand cubic feet to 29.5 cents. Attorneys for the company indicated the reduction would be resisted in the courts. About 100,000 customers are served in the cities affected.

In considering costs of service, the commission disallowed the engineering and management fee of 1¾ per cent of the gross earnings which it developed the Cities Service Gas Co. and other Doherty operating companies pay to Henry L. Doherty & Co.

BOND PRICES HIGHER IN HOPEFUL MARKET

Operators Ignore Flare-up in Germany; Four-Tenths of Point Added.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—The bond market took on a more hopeful tone today in the face of new foreign complications and continued domestic uncertainties.

Disturbances in Germany resulted in the declaration of martial law in Berlin and the assumption of a dictatorship by Chancellor von Papen. German trade unions were also threatening a general strike which would tie up industry.

A number of domestic rails, utilities and industrials, after holding to a steady and narrow range throughout most of the session, ran up their prices near the close sufficiently to raise the average for 60 corporate loans four-tenths of a point. Sales totaled $10,949,000, par value, but the increased volume was largely due to activity in the Federal list.

United States Government obligations continued in demand, although net gains were limited to small fractions. Treasury 3s and 4¼s were the heaviest traded, the former finishing at their previous quotation while the latter advanced six thirty-seconds of a point. Liberty first 4¼s eased as did Treasury 3⅜s of 1941-43.

The utilities were somewhat unsettled earlier by the announcement of a further decline in electric power output. They later decided, however, to overlook this development. A number of the rails advanced from fractions to around 2 points, but there were some sizeable losses among the carriers. Bonds of Armour & Co., Chile Copper, Goodyear, Lorillard, National Dairy Products and Tobacco Products were among the principal industrial gainers.

German Government 5½s and 7s and a number of Reich municipal and corporate issues recorded losses of around 2 points. Australian loans were generally soft as were those of Japan. French bonds eased and those of Great Britain were steady. Italian 7s lost 1½ points following a cabinet shake-up in Rome.

CURB RECORDS GAINS IN LISTLESS TRADING

Oils Steady as Utilities Rise; Day's Turnover Boosted to 90,000 Shares.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—The curb market, while still displaying signs of midsummer inertia today, developed an undertone of firmness. Gains exceeded losses in another quiet trading day in which sales approximated 90,000 shares, against 70,000 yesterday.

Aluminum Company shares were fairly active and both the common and preferred stocks moved up sharply. The common at 29½ was up 3 points and the preferred at 37¼ was up 2. There was nothing in the day's news developments to account for the rise, although some speculative activity has been based recently on the company's advertisements pointing out new commercial uses of its product, principally in the transportation field.

Oil stocks were steady. Standard of Ohio, a slightly traded issue, moved up a point while, at the same time, the preferred reacted to a new low. Standard of Indiana, Gulf Oil, Cities Service and Creole were up fractionally.

In the utility group, Electric Bond & Share issues attracted moderately active buying at a fractionally higher price range. The common advanced ½ point to 7¼ and the two preferred stocks were up about as much. Commonwealth Edison, which is expected within two weeks to announce new financing through sale of bonds, reacted over 2 points, while American Gas & Electric, American Light & Traction, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and United Light & Power "A" were steady.

Ford Limited was fairly active with no change in price while Ford of Canada moved up a fraction. The Canadian Company is expected this week to ship the first of its $3,000,000 consignment of 8-cylinder motor cars to England.

Canadian Banks Cut Dividends.

Montreal, Quebec, July 20 (A.P.).—Two of Canada's leading banks today announced a reduction in their annual dividend rate from 12 per cent to 10 per cent. The Bank of Montreal and the Royal Bank of Canada each declared a dividend of 2½ per cent for the current quarter, contrasted with the 3 per cent per quarter paid formerly.

WHEAT VALUES FALL ON HEAT-RAIN DATA

Corn and Oats Also Drop; Rural Selling Is Feature in Market.

Chicago, July 20 (A.P.).—Prospects of a break in the heat wave and likelihood of moisture shifted grain values downward today.

Persistent hedging sales and reduced buying became apparent after early advances in wheat that were ascribed to crop damage complaints resulting from nine successive days of moisture dearth and of temperatures that in some cases reached 106 degrees. Establishment of a dictatorship in Prussia was a bearish factor.

Wheat closed unsettled, ⅞ to ¾ under yesterday's finish; corn ¼ to ⅝ down; oats ¼ to 1 off, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents up.

Weather Cuts Prices.

Downturns in wheat followed unofficial predictions of more favorable weather for crops. Recessions started before wheat advances had amounted to a cent a bushel. Trade was of somewhat larger volume than recently, but purchase orders dwindled in the final dealings.

All deliveries of oats and the active futures of rye sold at a new low price record for the season. Corn weakened to within less than 1 cent of the season's low on all deliveries. Meanwhile Liverpool and Winnipeg wheat was strongly higher. Export business in North American wheat appeared to be confined to Canada.

Rural selling of corn to arrive was on a rather liberal scale, notwithstanding complaints from various sections that the crop was firing from excessive heat and drought. Scattered selling of oats and rye found buying demand meager.

Provisions rallied with hog values, but met some increased selling as a result of weakness of grains.

Prospering Tire Plant Boosts Pay 20 Per Cent

Akron, Ohio, July 20 (A.P.).—India Tire & Rubber Co., riding the tide of the greatest production and sales in its history, today announced a 20 per cent salary increase, aimed at offsetting a similar reduction instituted last January.

It was understood that about 400 factory and 50 office workers would benefit.

"The plan," President W. G. Klauss said, "contemplates adding to the wage and salary checks during the last six months of the fiscal year a sufficient amount to enable all employes to recover the pay they were deprived of by taking the (20 per cent) cut."

COTTON SELLS DOWN ON WEATHER REPORT

October Declines to 5.77; Liverpool Covers by Hedging Trades.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—Cotton was generally lower today under a renewal of the recent selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables, fairly favorable weather reports and a somewhat better weekly review of crop progress than some had anticipated.

Trading was quiet and after selling off to 5.74 for October contracts during the early afternoon, prices held fairly steady with that delivery closing at 5.77. The general market closed steady at net declines of 8 to 11 points.

The opening was 1 to 6 points off in response to the easier showing of Liverpool. There was a little Southern selling here and some also through brokers who sometimes act for the cooperative interests. Offerings from these sources were supplemented by scattering liquidation or local selling, which increased slightly after the publication of the weekly weather report.

December eased to 5.90 and March to 6.11, making net declines of about 12 to 13 points on the active months, but there was a little more trade buying and covering at the decline and closing quotations were 2 or 3 points up from the lowest.

The Weather Bureau said the most favorable aspects of the weather in relation to cotton during the week were the high temperatures, abundant sunshine and light precipitation which were excellent for checking weevil activity.

Liverpool cables said covering had been supplied by hedging there, but reported an improved cloth business, for shipment to Europe and the Near East. Exports today, 6,717, making 8,653,984 so far this season.

EARNINGS DECREASE IN SECOND QUARTER

Leading Companies Failing to Equal Records of 1931 Incomes.

New York, July 20 (A.P.).—The Texas Gulf Sulphur Co., for the second quarter of this year, reports net income of $1,384,423, equal to 54 cents a share, compared with $1,799,535, or 68 cents a share in the preceding quarter, and $1,939,967, or 76 cents a share, in the second quarter 1931.

Loews, Inc., for 40 weeks ended June 8 reports a profit of $7,374,805, before preferred dividends, against a profit of $9,829,482 in same period of 1931.

Net profit of $174,517, or 7¢ cents a share, is reported by the International Salt Co., for the first six months of 1932. This is comparable with $353,435, or $1.47 a share, in the first half of last year.

In its preliminary report for the six months ended June 30, last, Stone & Webster, Inc., shows net consolidated operating income of $743,843, equivalent to 35 cents a share on 2,014,500 common shares outstanding. These earnings exclude net profits on securities owned on January 1, 1932, and sold during the period, the company states. Such earnings have been carried to surplus account.

The Cities Service Co. reports for the 12 months ended June 30, 1932, net to common stock and reserves of $15,517,294 against $26,692,084 for the corresponding period of last year. This was equivalent to 44 cents a share on the average number of shares of common stock outstanding against 85 cents in the corresponding period a year ago. For the month of June the company reported net to common stock and reserves of $762,936 as increased from $560,435 in June, 1931.

Chesapeake & Ohio Railway today reported June net operating income of $1,772,260 against $8,567,889 a year ago. Gross for last month was $6,998,664 compared with $10,495,700, and surplus after changes amounted to $1,016,711 against $2,788,298.

Bay State's Prohibition Reform Group Neutral

Boston, July 20 (A.P.).—The executive board of the Massachusetts branch of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform announced today it would maintain its nonpartisan policy and would continue as an organization primarily for educational purposes.

The executive committee of the national organization last week indorsed Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, for the Democratic candidate for President, in a statement issued by Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, formerly prominently identified with the Republican party in New York.

Deported Alien to Get $18 Per Week for Life

Cleveland, July 20 (A.P.).—Charles Sivka, 39, deported as an alien, will receive a life income of $18 a week in United States money while living in his native Czechoslovakia.

Immigration authorities charged Sivka, now en route to his native country, entered the United States illegally in 1927. When found, however, he was recovering from an accident suffered in an automobile body company and the State compensation board has awarded him the weekly compensation.

Actor Daubs Oil on Self; Disperses Heat and Fans

Kansas City, July 20 (A.P.).—Friends and fans of Warren William, the movie actor, stayed to the windward of him when he stopped at the Union Station here last night. He said he had taken the advice of a friend who had assured him an anointment of eucalyptus oil would make the heat more tolerable.

Fellow passengers, he said, passed a rule forcing him to stay in his stateroom during the trip. He was en route to Washington.

Quezon May Come Here To Back Filipino Bill

Manila, July 20 (A.P.).—Manuel Quezon, president of the Insular Senate, may go to Washington to direct the campaign for Philippine independence, displacing the island delegation now in the Capital.

This possibility developed tonight on the eve of the caucus of the dominant Nacionalista party. If Quezon goes, he will leave here before the end of the present Legislature session.

PROPOSALS

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF the Supervising Architect, Washington, D. C., July 19, 1932.—Sealed bids in duplicate, subject to the conditions contained herein, will be publicly opened in this office at 3 p.m., August 10, 1932, for furnishing the materials and performing the work required for installing a complete elevator plant in the U. S. Post Office, Arlington, remodeling and enlargement, at Washington, D. C. All prospective bidders are hereby notified that proposals will be considered only from bidders who can demonstrate by the machines of their own manufacture that they have installed commercially having duties (capacity and speed) equal to or higher than those herein specified, which are now and have been in satisfactory commercial operation for a period of not less than three years. Prior to the award of the contract, the right is reserved by the Supervising Architect to require any or all bidders to submit a "statement of facts as to qualifications to furnish elevators in strict accordance with the specifications" in detail of such data as may be required including the business and technical organization of the bidder, available resources, financial experience, material proposed to be used, &c. The United States expressly reserves the right to reject any bid in which the facts as to business and technical, financial resources or building experience compared with the project bid upon, justify such rejection. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a performance bond in 50% of the contract price. The prevailing rate of wage shall be paid all laborers and mechanics employed on the project as provided in Act of March 3, 1931, (Public No. 798). Drawings and specifications may be obtained from this office. JAS. A. WETMORE, Acting Supervising Architect. 21

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS —By John Hix

BEGINNING when he was 21 years old, P. H. Carter, of Russiaville, Ind., taught for 40 consecutive years in the schools of Forest township, Ind. He never missed a day during the entire 40 years, retiring with a perfect record when school dismissed for the summer vacation last spring.

Jimmy Dykes began his baseball career with his high school team, where he played for four years as catcher. He joined the majors fifteen years ago and since then, as utility player, has been in every position on the team—except behind the plate.

Manager Connie Mack recently said that he believed Dykes' natural position was third base. Dykes, on the other hand, says that he feels most at home while playing at first. Strange as it seems, he has played second base more than any other position.

Cordite, a powerful explosive, used chiefly as a propellant in guns, burns quietly when it is not confined. Like nitroglycerin and guncotton, however, it explodes with terrific force when it is under high pressure.

As used in a heavy gun, cordite for a very minute fraction of a second burns slowly. Then, as the pressure increases, it burns faster, creating more pressure and higher temperature, which in turn causes it to burn faster until the result is an explosion. The explosive process continues as the shell travels out of the gun. A violent explosive would blow the gun to pieces at the breech.

HOOVER TO ACCEPT CARDINAL'S STATUE

Knights of Columbus Told of Plans Made for Unveiling Gibbons' Memorial.

President Hoover will attend the ceremonies attendant upon the unveiling of the statue of the late James Cardinal Gibbons here on Sunday, August 14, and will personally accept the memorial on behalf of the people of the United States, D. J. Callahan, supreme treasurer of the Knights of Columbus, announced last night. The statue is the gift of the order to the people of the United States and its presentation will be one of the high spots in the golden anniversary national convention of the order, which will open here on that date. Mr. Callahan's announcement was made at a mass meeting of the five local councils of the Knights of Columbus at the Mayflower last night.

Interest in Plans Urged.

Fred J. Rice, State deputy supreme knight, who presided at the meeting, stressed the importance of this convention to Washington Knights of Columbus. He urged greater interest in the plans for the coming event and increased support of the chairman of the committee in charge, P. Michael Cook, and his subchairmen.

Mr. Callahan outlined the program for the unveiling of the Cardinal Gibbons statue and paid a glowing tribute to the late churchman. He closed with an earnest appeal to the order to make an effort to increase its membership during the present year as its part in the golden anniversary.

Auxiliary Bishop Speaks.

Col. John J. Phelan, chairman of the parade committee, urged each council to estimate the number of men it will have in line for the parade which is to precede the unveiling. He said that a number of bands are assured for the occasion, including the service bands, and that Detroit, Brooklyn, New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, Newark, Philadelphia and many other cities will send large delegations to take part in the parade.

The Most Rev. John M. McNamara, auxiliary bishop of Baltimore, urged every member of the order to turn out for the unveiling ceremonies as a tribute to Cardinal Gibbons, describing him as the greatest citizen of his time, and one of the greatest forces in bringing about friendship among all races and creeds.

Other speakers were John B. Colpoys, chairman of the program committee; Timothy J. Quirk, chairman of the entertainment committee, and P. Michael Cook, chairman of the general committee on arrangements.

TWO C. M. T. C. UNITS AT WHITE HOUSE

C. & P. WILL ATTACK VALUATION METHOD

Public Utilities Engineer to Be Cross-Examined at Hearing Today.

The telephone rate hearing will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning with Thomas R. Tate, valuation engineer of the Public Utilities Commission, on the stand for cross-examination by R. A. Van Orsdel and other counsel of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co.

The commission's methods of computing the depreciation of the telephone company's property is expected to be the center of attack, although Mr. Van Orsdel contends that the District body is without jurisdiction to calculate depreciation. That, he holds, is a function of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

William A. Roberts, special counsel of the commission, will put B. M. Bachman, commission auditor, on the stand after the cross-examination and will offer evidence designed to prove that the company's net operating revenue should be larger than the figures set forth by the utility. He will contend that reserve funds are established but are not used, expenditures which should be charged against them being added to operating costs.

No employes of the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. have been placed on a five-day week basis, and no change is contemplated in the present working schedule, John A. Remon, general manager of the company, announced yesterday following publication of a report from New York stating that 300,000 employes of the Bell Telephone Co. were operating on the five-day week basis.

Accused Teller Taken To Hospital in Faint

Bernard L. Mann, 23, former teller at the Morris Plan Bank, who was recently returned to Washington from Los Angeles on a charge of absconding with $10,000, was taken to Emergency Hospital yesterday after what police described as a fainting spell.

The man was taken to the hospital from his apartment at 1138 Connecticut avenue. He refused treatment and left after signing a release slip.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

TACITLY advancing the sage argument that there are two sides to practically every question—the right one, which is yours, and the wrong one, which, of course, is the other fellow's—Howard Hughes, the youthful Hollywood producer, yesterday emphatically denied that Ann Dvorak, his decamping actress, was "sold down the river" to the Warner Brothers.

Regarding a report that Miss Dvorak—who with her actor-husband, Leslie Fenton, French-leaving for Europe, recently spoke with some asperity concerning producers and their methods to the New York newspaper boys and girls—was loaned to the Warners for $1,000 a week, Mr. Hughes declared that the arrangement netted his company less than $150 a week throughout the contract term. Miss Dvorak, he said, will receive $250 per week for a short time only, whereupon her contract salary will increase materially each year. Regarding Miss Dvorak's charge that a baby in a recent picture was paid $500 a week, while she received but $250, he pointed out that the baby was paid that sum for a week or two only, while Miss Dvorak's check was forthcoming every week regardless of whether she worked. So there you are.

But what an utterly fantastic young fellow this Howard Hughes really is! Imagine any self-respecting producer ever admitting that "Producers are not entirely responsible for the success of a star. They may give him an opportunity, but if the actor hasn't what it takes to get over with the public, opportunities will not matter. I think some credit should be given for Miss Dvorak's ability." The very idea! What sort of producer is this, anyhow?

Yorke & King, stars of the "Curiosities" revue current at Loew's Fox, were apprised by wire yesterday afternoon that they will headline the bill at the Palace Theater in New York next week. Upon receipt of the flash, the veteran "Chick" Yorke confided that next week's will be his fifty-second engagement at the Palace during the course of his long and honorable service as a sterling vaudevillian. Yorke & King are legitimate successors to the high esteem and deep affection in which Will Cressey and Blanche Dayne so long were held.

Speaking of bookings, next week's attractions in the local cathedrals of the garrulous gelatines will be approximately as follows: Loew's Fox, Alison Skipworth and Richard Bennett in "Madame Racketeer," and George Sidney, Una Merkel and Anna May Wong, in person, in "Hollywood on Parade;" Earle, George Brent and Joan Blondell in "Miss Pinkerton," and Warren William and Bette Davis in person, headlining the vaudeville; RKO-Keith's, Richard Dix and Gwili Andre in "The Roar of the Dragon;" Palace, Lionel Barrymore, Karen Morley and Nils Asther in "The Washington Masquerade;" Metropolitan, Edmund Lowe and Claudette Colbert in "The Misleading Lady;" Columbia, Bari Maritza and Hans Albers in "Monte Carlo Madness."

It was in the original stage production of "The Misleading Lady," by the way, that Lewis S. Stone made his first Washington appearance at the National Theater many years ago. Go on, ask me how many!

Gene Ford, of the Loew production department, New York, and Mrs. Ford arrived in town last night, to supervise the presentation of "Hollywood on Parade," the in-person vehicle of three screen notables at Loew's Fox beginning tomorrow.

This afternoon at 5:30, Una Merkel will arrive at Union Station. The Loew officials will hardly have got her comfortably ensconced at the Shoreham when Anna May Wong will arrive, also by train, at 10:30 tonight. Just to be sure the local reception committee doesn't get a little sleep, George Sidney will put in his appearance at Union Station tomorrow morning at 5:30!

Like their predecessors, George Brent and Loretta Young, Warren William and Bette Davis, who begin a week of personal appearances at the Earle tomorrow, will arrive in the Capital this evening on the Congressional Limited, due at Union Station at 7:50 o'clock.

Unless you are among the taller stander-uppers, bring your own soap box!

1,400 TAXI DRIVERS NEGLECT LICENSES

Increase in Fee From $9 to $25 and Slim Earnings Cause Delinquencies.

Only approximately 2,000 taxicab drivers had obtained licenses to operate cabs when the District license bureau was closed for the day yesterday, and the District Commissioners announced that no further extension would be granted.

While the estimates of the number of cabs in Washington vary from 4,000 to 5,000, Public Utilities Commission officials believe there are about 3,400 actually on the streets. Thus at least 1,400 drivers will be in danger of prosecution today.

Operators who have made application for licenses but who were unable to obtain permits in the last-minute rush will be exempt from arrest, according to William A. Roberts, special counsel of the utilities body, but all other licenseless operators will be subject to prosecution.

A long line of cab drivers filed through the license bureau and the offices of the Public Utilities Commission yesterday in an effort to come under the deadline. Many of them had delayed making application because of the increase in the fee from $9 to $25 and the slimness of their earnings.

Among those who sought another extension of time yesterday was H. O. Davis, manager of the Diamond Cab Co., who said that many drivers in his organization have failed to obtain licenses.

Wife of Naval Officer Bitten by Police Dog

Mrs. Marguerita W. McCandlish, wife of Commander B. V. McCandlish, U. S. N., of 2812 Portland place northwest, was recovering yesterday from wounds inflicted by a German police dog. Mrs. McCandlish was bitten on the leg when she entered an antique shop at 1524 Wisconsin avenue northwest Tuesday.

She was treated at Naval Hospital. George Summer Lane, resident of an apartment above the store and owner of the dog, agreed to turn it over to the pound for observation, according to police.

"Blue Cockade" Begins Repeal Candidate Drive

A program of pledging persons not to vote for any candidate for public office who does not clearly commit himself to the repeal of the eighteenth amendment was begun this week by the "Blue Cockade."

This organization, which is working for repeal, is conducting a drive for members in the Capital. The campaign is in charge of Laurence E. de S. Hoover.

5,000 VIEW DANCERS IN SYLVAN PROGRAM

Denishawn Group Presents Varied Numbers in Third Summer Festival.

An audience of more than 5,000 that filled the broad slopes of the Washington Monument Grounds were offered a rich and varied program of dancing by the Washington Denishawn Dancers at the Sylvan Theater last night.

Dances made famous by Ted Shawn and Ruth St. Denis were presented in a setting of beautiful lighting effects arranged by Harold Snyder. The program revealed every phase of the terpsichorean art, ranging from child pastorals to the sophisticated rhythm of modern semiclassical jazz renditions.

The Song of the Bayou, Coquette, Flight of the Gulls, Valse Lumineuse, the Moorish Gypsy and the colorful East Indian Festival, the finale in which dresses of myriad hues were seen, received prolonged applause.

The dancers included Marian Chace, Lester Sharef, Barbara Begley, Betty Begley, Eleanor King, Virginia Elmendorf, Mercedes de Urquiza, Celene de Urquiza, Janne Leasure, Jane Phelps, Peggy Kriz, Michael Logan, Lois Balcom, Betty Chown, Amalie Preische, Frances Rands and Ruth Raine.

The entertainment was the third of the summer festival programs being offered each week by the Community Center Department, the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks and the National Capital Civic Club.

Boy, 5, Falls 2 Stories Through Window Screen

While standing on the sill of a second-story window at his home at 748 Third street northwest, James R. Livingston, 5, last night pushed through the screen and fell two stories to the ground, striking a swing on the way down.

He was removed to Sibley Hospital by Thomas Blunt, of 735 Third street northwest, where he was treated for contusions to the body and possible internal injuries. He was later removed to Children's Hospital, where his condition last night was undetermined.

3 Men Hurt as Auto Is Demolished in Crash

Three men suffered minor injuries in an automobile collision at Sixteenth and D streets northeast yesterday. One of the automobiles was overturned and demolished in the crash.

James McLean, 40, of 1376 F street northeast, who drove one of the cars, was treated at Casualty Hospital. James Brown, 25, colored, 1121 Second street southeast, driver of the other car, and James Carter, 22, colored, 731 Sixth street, a passenger, were treated for minor cuts and bruises.

Man, Falling Story, Injured.

Dewey Waters, 33, 3027 Fourteenth street northwest, was treated at Emergency Hospital for injuries he suffered when he fell from the second story of a building at First and O streets southeast, where he was working yesterday. An X-ray revealed that none of his limbs was fractured.

Rescued Baby Held Starving; Mother Taken

A baby girl, almost a year old but weighing less than seven pounds, was turned over to police last night, after her pitiful cries had attracted residents near her home at 1347 Four-and-a-half street southwest.

At the Fourth Precinct Station, where she was taken by a passerby, policemen placed the child tenderly on the seat of a patrol wagon and hurried to Gallinger Hospital. Physicians declared she was nearly starved and one of the worst cases of malnutrition seen at the hospital for some time.

A short time after the baby had been transferred to the hospital, her mother, Mrs. Laura Stephens, 33 years old, appeared at the Fourth Precinct Station to report its disappearance. She was arrested and taken to the House of Detention for investigation. She denied the child was starved, declaring it had the best of treatment. Her husband, Powhatan Stephens, is serving a 90-day jail term for assault, she said.

Soldier Admits Rum Sale.

An inmate of the Soldiers Home, Joseph Stanfield, 49, yesterday pleaded guilty in Police Court to a charge of sale of liquor. He was arrested by police investigating complaints that liquor was being sold to the soldiers. The case was referred to the probation office for report.

Two Get 75 Days in Rum Case.

Convicted of second offense for possession of liquor, Percy Kyles and Snocks Brown, both colored, yesterday were sentenced to serve 75 days.

CONFERENCE NEARS ON GAS RATE SLASH

Public Hearing to Be Called Unless Plan Is Accepted by Monday.

Washington Gas Light Co. officials will confer with the Public Utilities Commission next Monday or before regarding the latter's proposal that the gas company make a voluntary rate reduction on August 1, Marcy Sperry, president, said yesterday. The board of directors earlier had failed to take any action on the commission's suggestion.

Under terms of the offer of the utilities body, a public hearing will be called unless the gas company accepts the proposal by Monday. While no official statements have been forthcoming, the belief prevails in utility circles that the gas company directors intend either to adopt the proposal or to offer a counterplan rather than go into another hearing.

The commission suggested in its letter that the gas company make percentage reductions in gas rates from August 1 until February 1, 1933, to forestall a hearing. No percentage figure was suggested. Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chairman, said that matter would be determined providing the plan was adopted.

The gas company directors also declared the usual quarterly dividend of 90 cents per share on capital stock yesterday.

Man's Death in Bus Is Held Accidental

Both Drivers in Crash at Highway Bridge Are Cleared by Jury.

A coroner's jury yesterday returned a verdict of accidental death after an inquiry into the bus crash at the south end of the Highway Bridge, in which T. M. Conn, of Zebulon, N. C., suffered fatal injuries July 11.

Jesse Beaman, 23, of Spring Hope, N. C., who was driving the car in which Conn was a passenger, testified at the hearing. He had just been released from Emergency Hospital, where he was under treatment. William G. Vair, 26, of Alexandria, Va., who was driving the bus which collided with Beaman's car, was not injured.

The jury's decision cleared both of the drivers of blame. Fentos Crocker, 46, of Seaboard, N. C., who was a passenger in Beaman's car, is still under treatment at Emergency Hospital.

Gambling Foray Brings Arrest of 2

Scores Escape While Police Batter Entrance With Sledge Hammers.

While police were battering down three reinforced doors of an alleged gaming house at 522 Eighth street northwest last night, about a score of the occupants escaped.

The heavy doors, leading to the premises, located in the basement of a cigar store, resisted the sledge hammers in the hands of the raiding squad for about 45 minutes. When police finally gained admittance, much of the evidence had been destroyed, they said.

The raiding squad found racing charts, blackboards and alleged gaming tables, police said. They arrested two men, Wesley F. Taylor, 35, 1775 California street northwest, was charged with setting up a gaming table, and Sam Wineberg, 30, of 1103 Kenyon street northwest, was questioned by police and released.

FRIDAY JULY 22, 1932 SPORTS

NATS REGAIN 4TH PLACE WITH 5-4 WIN OVER TIGERS

This MORNING with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

A SHARP revision downward in the figures on players' contracts is slated for next season, or this department is sadly amiss in its logic.

At Griffith Stadium, to take the nearest example, the ball players have been going about their daily chores on the field in the presence of the worst attendance figures in the last decade and the handwriting on the wall is becoming more legible with each succeeding day.

It is "starvation baseball" as one official of the Washington club characterized it, and no team that does not have the backing of the railroad, the brewery or the chewing-gum millions can hope to ride the storm out if steps are not taken to cut down the overhead.

Despite the fact that moderate cuts have hit the players, the big league performers have been among the last to feel the effect of the general depression, but they will feel it next season where it hurts most.

Big league magnates who have been paying wages based upon normal-times attendance can not be expected to keep the ante up with the fans staying away from the parks in droves and the pass lists accounting for a great percentage of the attendance that does turn out.

Players holding five-figure contracts have been the rule rather than the exception in big league baseball, but when the magnates start the retrenchment that they must, the $10,000 contract will represent the stipend of the outstanding stars, and the outstanding ones only.

Even in the National League, where the closeness of the race fulfills the dream of the league president, the attendance has fallen off sadly. In the American League, with the Yankees threatening to make a runaway of the competition, crowds for long periods have been pathetic.

The Boston Red Sox are going begging on the market, with no takers, and help from the other clubs in the league is not expected. Much has been made of the suggestion that the richer clubs bend backward in player trades to bolster the lower teams in the standings and thereby tighten up the race, but there can be no action in that direction.

Any contributions to the lower clubs from the richer clubs strikes at the very foundations of baseball. It has been the theory of the game too long that each city is on its own, each magnate sinking or swimming by his own efforts and acumen. Any attempts to strengthen the teams lower in the standings by wilful shunting of players would smack too much of collusion.

The magnates are in a position to talk very emphatically when the subject of player contracts comes up next winter. They need only to point to the losses incurred this season to convince any recalcitrants that it is better to accept a wage cut than no wages at all. And how many ball players could make the same money outside of baseball?

Only three clubs in the American League are showing a profit this season, and that nothing to be proud about. The Yankees, Tigers and Indians are the only money-makers at this writing, and the losses of the five other clubs are tremendous.

The ball players will have to take the rap, too.

LANDIS APPROVES FINE.

Chicago, July 21 (A.P.).—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis today approved the suspension of William "Bill" Dickey, New York Yankee catcher, who was declared ineligible until August 4 and fined $1,000 for breaking Carl Reynolds' jaw.

Dusek Takes Count From Referee

Knockout by Official Ends Strangle Hold on Garibaldi.

Italian Wins on Foul; 6,000 See Bruising Bout at Stadium.

THE best knockout punch seen here or hereabouts in recent years ended the feature rassle bout at Griffith Stadium last night. It was administered by Referee Bennie Bortnick to the jaw of Rudy Dusek, following a series of strangle holds which the so-called Nebraska Wildcat had administered on Gino Garibaldi, and while Dusek was listening to the birdies chirping, his Italian foe from New York was given the verdict on a disqualification.

The bout lasted just 33 minutes, but it was good while it lasted. The two went at each other hammer and tongs, and, shortly after the start, continued gentle pats by Dusek on Garibaldi's nose had it as flat as a pancake. It was a draw until Dusek started a series of strangle holds on his foe.

First "Strangle" Draws Only Reprimand.

The first drew little less than a reprimand from Referee Bortnick, the second strangle saw the referee and Dusek mixing it when Rudy refused to let loose when ordered, and when he tried it a third time and refused to obey Bortnick, the knockout clout on the jaw was delivered and the decision given to Garibaldi. It was the first disqualification on the Griffith Stadium mat this season.

The 6,000 addicts also were given plenty of action in the Chief White Feather-Frank Brunowitz fracas, which was limited to 30 minutes and which ended in a draw. Hair-pulling, plain and fancy slugging, kicking, tickling and scratching featured. Once the great chief claimed Brunowitz had bitten his finger, but as he did not bite it off it did not count.

Battle of Tackles Called Draw.

Another limit bout saw Jim McMillan, former running mate of Red Grange while with the University of Illinois football team, take on Lou Plummer, of Notre Dame. At the end of more flying tackles seen in the ring in any previous half-hour in this vicinity, it was called a draw.

Dutch Green, of the Mohawk Club, and George Klatta, of Georgetown U., opened the show with an interesting and rough setto which lasted fifteen minutes. Both were on their feet at the finish.

Floyd Marshall and Pat O'Shocker closed the program with a finish match, which lasted 25 minutes, starting the fans home at the usual 11 o'clock hour. It was scheduled as a finish match and several times it looked as though one or the other would be finished completely. After some remarkable comebacks by both men, O'Shocker let loose several thor-hammers, then a couple of body slams, and then the finishing touches.

Five Chattanooga Players in Brawl

Ragland, Griffith and Boss, Ex-Nats, Among Those Fined $200.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 21 (A.P.).—Five players of the Chattanooga baseball club were fined $200 each by President Joe Engel today for participating in a brawl on the streets here Wednesday.

Those involved are Frank Ragland, Leon Pettit and Lynn Griffith, all pitchers; Harley Boss, star first baseman and the Southern Association's leading batter, and Fred Jilek, a catcher.

Boss and Jilek were arrested on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct and were fined $25 each in Police Court.

Ragland, recently acquired from the Washington Nationals, was returned to them today.

As a consequence of the brawl, Engel has drawn up a set of rigid rules for the players. For one thing, they must be in their rooms by midnight henceforth.

65 Netmen to Play In Public Parks Event

Although entries for the singles in the Washington Public Parks tournament officially closed last night, applications made in person before noon today will be accepted at the Tennis Shop, 1019 Fifteenth street northwest. Entries will not be accepted over the telephone or by proxy.

A field of approximately 65 is expected to compete. Dooly Mitchell, who holds two legs on the cup and needs but one more victory to obtain permanent possession of it, is favored in the singles. The drawings will be made tonight. Play will start tomorrow at 2 p. m. on the Sixteenth street reservoir courts. The doubles will not get under way until Sunday.

Germans Play U. S. Netmen Today

Clash for Right to Meet France for Davis Cup.

America Is Favorite; Shields vs. Cramm, Vines vs. Prenn.

PARIS, July 21 (U.P.).—The United States was a strong but not overwhelming favorite to defeat Germany in the Davis Cup interzone finals which begin on the courts of the Roland Garros Stadium tomorrow.

The draw made today pits Frank Shields against Baron von Cramm and Ellsworth Vines against Daniel Prenn in the opening singles matches. Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn will form the American doubles team Saturday. The German team has not been named. The Sunday schedule is Vines vs. Von Cramm and Shields vs. Prenn.

Had the interzone final come up for reckonfng immediately after Wimbledon, America would have been a top-heavy favorite. But since Wimbledon, Vines seems to have tired, and Shields' play in practice has not been so impressive. On the other hand, the Germans, encouraged by their amazing victory over Great Britain, have been steadily improving.

U. S. Supreme In Doubles.

Still, not the most enthusiastic of the German supporters predicts victory for their team. The American doubles team is admittedly superior to any tandem Germany can offer. With America sure of a doubles victory, Germany must take three singles matches to win and earn the right to meet France in the challenge round. And where these three matches are coming from is hard to figure out. Vines, off form or not, is a good bet to win both of his. And Shields, while he may lose to the doughty Prenn, must be given the edge over Baron von Cramm.

It is the opinion of many experts here that the youthful baron—a pocket edition of the former German champion, Otto Frotzheim—played away above his head when he defeated Bunny Austin in Berlin. And that he lacks the experience and strength to cope with the slashing game of the Americans.

Prenn's Chop Stroke Is Threat.

Prenn, however, may cause a surprise. He is a real fighter, tenacious and never yielding a point. His chop stroke may bother both Americans and in him are centered Germany's hopes for victory or at least a stubborn defeat.

The German cause will be aided by the fact that the interzone final will mark Vines' debut on the Roland Garros courts. The Californian will have to accustom himself to the French crowd, the French ball and the soft terrain.

Pirate Stars Return To Beat Phillies, 3-2

Pittsburgh, July 21 (A.P.).—Capt. Pie Traynor and Lloyd Waner, two of the Pirates' crippies, celebrated their return to the Pittsburgh lineup today by getting together in the ninth inning to score the run that beat the Phillies. The victory, Pittsburgh's second in the five game series, increased the Bucs National League lead to 2 1-2 games as all their other rivals were idle. With two out in the last half of the ninth, Traynor, who played the full game after an absence of two weeks because of an injured finger, broke the spell with a single. Waner, taking his only time at bat, smacked a double into left center to bring home the winning run.

Boerner, Local Sandlotter, Holds Yankees to Two Hits

Pitches 7 Innings in 3-2 Triumph of Red Sox.

LARRY BOERNER.

NEW YORK, July 21 (A.P.).—Larry Boerner, former Washington, D. C., sandlotter, and Wilcy Moore, rookie and veteran pitchers of the lowly Boston Red Sox, ended the Yankees' five-game winning streak today as they pitched the last-place club to a 3-to-2 victory over the league leaders.

They allowed two hits apiece, Boerner working the first seven innings and Moore getting credit for the victory by hurling the last two. Pickering's double and Warstler's single off Eddie Wells in the ninth scored the winning run.

Larry Boerner pitched for Central High School and on the Washington sandlots for several seasons before signing with the Red Sox a month ago.

He had received tryouts in many leagues, including the Virginia, Piedmont, American Association and New York-Pennsylvania circuit, but each year between his flings in organized baseball pitched for various sandlot teams here.

He was regarded as a fair pitcher in the minor leagues, but was soundly hammered on many occasions by local sandlot clubs. After being released early this season by the Elmira Club of the New York-Pennsylvania League, he was the mainstay of the St. Mary's Celtics Team of Alexandria, and winning with regularity until his baseball career took a sharp upward turn a few weeks ago at Griffith Stadium.

Boerner sought a tryout with the Nats, but the Washington Club demurred when no uniform was found to fit his 6-foot-5-inch frame. He walked across the hall to the Boston dressing room, found a uniform to fit him, and after pitching in the Red Sox batting practice, was signed a contract immediately by Manager Marty McManus.

MATCH LOST, ONE UP, BY BURROWS

Last Capital Survivor Beaten in National Public Links Play.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 21 (A.P.).—Bradley Burrows, the last contender representing Washington, D. C., was eliminated from the national public links tournament today by Karl Karch, of Brooklyn, 1 up in the first round of match play.

Burrows, scoring a 36 on the out nine to Karch's 41, was 2 up at the turn, but the Brooklyn player gradually wiped out the advantage on the home holes. Burrows lost a chance to tie the match on the eighteenth when he missed a 4-foot putt.

Charles Ferrara, San Francisco steel worker, the defending champion, won in a three-cornered play-off this morning to gain a place among the qualifiers and then was eliminated in his first match play test by Hank Foley, of Chicago, 1 up.

Many Extra-Hole Matches.

Two 19-hole matches were played in the first round and three 19-hole and one 20-hole match in the second round before the victors could be determined.

Another match ended 2 and 1, while two were decided 5 and 4 and one 7 and 6.

The victors who will go into the third round tomorrow are:

Upper bracket, Ade Fordham, St. Paul, versus Talbot Boyer, Portland, Oreg.; Joe Nichols, Long Beach, Calif., versus Pete Miller, Chicago.

Lower bracket, Oliver C. Sleppy, Santa Monica, Calif., versus R. L. Miller, Jacksonville, Fla.; Al Campbell, Seattle, versus Curtis Bryan, Jacksonville, Fla.

Scores in today's two rounds were far better than were turned in by any contestant during the 36-hole qualifying rounds.

Two 18-hole rounds will be played tomorrow with the 36-hole final Saturday.

Lieut. Robinson Bows In White Sulphur Play

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 21 (A.P.).—While thunder warned of an approaching storm, favorites of the tennis courts shot it out in the quarter-finals of the State Open today.

Paul Kunkel, defending champ, conquered Lieut. Stanley Robinson, Army singles ace, 6—8, 6—2, 6—2.

Eddie Jacobs, Baltimore, lambasted the youthful Hudson Hamm, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6—love, 6—1.

Alex Kelles, of Baltimore, downed Ed Blickly, Irontown, Ohio, member of the Huntington, W. Va., Tennis Club, 6—4, 6—2, leaving Kunkel, Jacobs, Kelles and W. V. Jones to settle the dispute between themselves. Jones, Chicago dark horse, upset Elmer Rudys, of Baltimore, 6—4, 0—6, 6—4.

Tennis Stars Rebel in Protest Of Expense Edict at Seabright

NEW YORK, July 21 (A.P.).—Eleven of the country's leading tennis players, including three ranked in the first ten, today rebelled against a recent edict of the Seabright Lawn Tennis and Cricket Club, which announced that the expenses of the players would not be paid after they have been eliminated in the tournament starting at the famous New Jersey Club Monday.

The players, led by Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, ranked No. 6; Keith Gledhill, of Santa Barbara, Calif., No. 8, and Berkeley Bell, of New York, No. 10, said they would not play in the tournament if the Seabright officials refused to change their ruling.

In a signed statement the players pointed out that they were responsible for the gate receipts and should be paid all of their expenses as in past years.

In addition to the three high ranking players, others who signed the statement were Joe Coughlin and Henry Tulley, of California; Bryan Grant, of Atlanta, Ga.; J. Gilbert Hall, of South Orange, N. J.; Jake Hess, of Texas; Dr. Eugene McAuliff, of New York, and Fritz Mersur, of Newark, N. J.

Gregory Mangin, national indoor titleholder, was the only leading player who refused to sign the statement.

Goldstein, Tardugno Lose Decisions in Olympic Trials.

Upsets Mark Fights to Decide Members of U. S. Team.

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., July 21 (A.P.).—Bobby Goldstein and Mike Tardugno, the hopes of Washington, D. C., in the trials for the United States Olympic Boxing Team, were eliminated tonight in the quarter-final rounds.

Goldstein was beaten by Norbert Meehan, University of San Francisco left-hander, in one of the closest and most sensational battles of the night.

Tardugno lost to Holman Williams, Negro 126-pounder, after having been floored twice in the last two rounds.

Goldstein and Meehan exchanged punches in furious rallies that had the fans cheering. After an even first round, Goldstein won the second, but a cut eye handicapped him in the final round.

It was only the third defeat for Goldstein in more than 100 bouts and was the severest upset of the tournament.

Tardugno Floored Twice.

Tardugno, representing Columbus University, was runner-up in the national collegiate tournament, but he was no match for Williams. He had the edge in the opening round when he landed good punches to the face and body, but Williams was out in front in other two sessions. Williams piled up a big advantage in the third round when he twice floored Tardugno, once with a right to the jaw, and a short time later with left hook to the body. Tardugno was up without a count, but the two stiff punches weakened him noticeably.

Bouts tonight were to decide the semifinalists of an entry list of 98 leather throwers who started in the preliminaries. Thirty-one fights were scheduled, with the survivors returning to the battlefront again Saturday night.

Victims of spectacular upsets, three other national champions were beaten in quarter-finals of the trials to select the American Olympic Boxing Team.

The title holders who fell by the wayside were Peter D'Alesandro, of Washington, Pa., intercollegiate ruler in the 112-pound class, and the two 118-pound kings, Jimmy Martin, of New York, who holds the National A. A. U. top rating, and David Stoop, of Altoona, Pa., first in the national intercollegiate rating.

D'Alesandro lost the decision to James Perrin, of New Orleans; Martin was edged out by Joe Lang, of San Francisco, and Stoop bowed to the southpaw superiority of Joseph Cinterino, of Batavia, N. Y.

Louis Salica, of New York, National A. A. U. 112-pound champion, entered the semifinals with a decision over John Aguire, of Los Angeles.

Detroit's Lead Erased As Errors Aid Weaver To Score 14th Victory

Tigers Amass 3-Run Lead in First on Solid Hits.

Wyatt Beaten in Fifth on Blows by Cronin, Manush and West.

By FRANK H. YOUNG.

ABLY assisted by the Detroit Tigers, the Nationals took the final of the series with Bucky Harris' team yesterday, thereby climbing back to the first division. The final count was 5 to 4, with Prof. Monte Weaver, who went the route for the home gang, adding victory No. 14 to his record.

Weaver was far from effective at the start and the Tigers combed his offerings for three doubles and a single to become 3 up. Then their consciences evidently hurt them and they proceeded to give these markers back. Once the string was tied, though, and the Nats stepped out in their own behalf, gaining the verdict on a two-run rally in the fifth. Weaver and his mates saw to it that the Tigers could get but one more run over the balance of the route.

Tigers Start With Rush.

There was no fluke about the alien opening rally. Davis opened with a single and Gehringer doubled him home. After the next two were retired, Walker and Rhiel came through with successive two-baggers and the small gathering seemed to lose all interest in the game.

In baseball the final score is what counts and there is no question but what the Nats were leading at the finish, but they looked anything but impressive in knotting the string in the first four frames. In the second Stone made a three-base error on West's fly and the latter counted on Bluege's infield out.

The next excitement came in the fourth and netted two native runs as a result of one real clout, two scratch ones and an error by Davis. Cronin led off with the honest-to-goodness clout, a single to left. Kuhel filed out and then West shot a grasser through Rogell's legs, which was credited as a hit. With the double-steal on, West stopped before reaching second and Gehringer chased him back to first. Davis missing the toss for the out. Cronin registered on this and Pitcher Whitlow Wyatt hit Bluege, putting it up to Berg. The latter bounded one to the pitcher, who deflected the ball past Rogell and West trotted home with the tying run.

No quarter was given by either side from here on. Myer boxed a walk starting the fifth and, after he had been nipped at second when the hit-and-run, with Manush up, failed, the latter singled, took third on Cronin's safety and registered after Stone's catch of Kuhel's looper. West then scored Cronin with a one-base liner to center.

Unusual Double Plays Hurt Nats.

Two unusual double plays prevented further Nat damage in both the sixth and seventh. Berg opened round six with a one-baser and later tried to figure out what Webb would do with Rice's hard-hit looper. Berg thought it would clear the big flyhawk's head, but it didn't and so, not being a Charley Paddock, the ball beat him back to first, even though it had to be relayed by Gehringer.

In the next round, with Manush on third and Cronin on second, the result of a respective walk and double, Manush tried to outsmart Walker on Kuhel's pop to deep short. Instead, Walker outsmarted Manush, throwing to third after the catch, instead of home, and neatly trapping Heinie.

As things turned out, though, the Nats had sufficient runs to win, for Weaver kept the five hits he allowed from the first on limited to one an inning. Ruel's, opening the seventh, happened to be a triple and was turned into the only other alien run.

In the Wake Of the Game

IT is always a case of "when Greek meets Greek" when the Athletics and Nationals meet and these two teams open a two-game set in Griffith Stadium this afternoon. In their sixteen meetings to date, each team has won eight games and the home crew is confident of getting the odd game this afternoon. "General" Alvin Crowder will draw the Washington mound assignment, while George Earnshaw is likely to oppose him. As is usually the case on Fridays, ladies and Boy Scouts are invited to attend as guests of the club.

President William Harridge, of the American League, was a visitor here yesterday. He is making the rounds of the circuit.

Joe Cambria, president of the Youngstown team, in which the Nats are interested, was here for a conference with Clark Griffith, Nat owner, yesterday. He was particularly enthusiastic over the showing of Bud Thomas, who played amateur ball here last year, declaring he is the best young pitcher in the Central League. He has won 11 and lost but 5 and has beaten every club in the league at least once.

Jordon Phelps, another Washington boy, led the league in homers and batting as the first half-season ended, with the figures being 14 and .382, respectively. Alvin (Jake) Powell, another District product, is hitting at a .335 clip and tops in stolen bases, with 28.

After Myer walked opening the fifth, Ruel outguessed the Nats by calling a pitch-out with the hit-and-run on. As a result, Myer was an easy victim as he hustled for second. Manush then singled, extending his consecutive-game hitting streak to 20.

Weaver issued his only walk in the seventh, Gehringer drawing it.

Cronin doubled to the right-field wall in the seventh for the Nats' only extra-baser of the game.

Max Schmeling Sails For U. S. August 15

New York, July 21 (U.P.).—Max Schmeling, former heavyweight champion, will sail from Germany for New York on August 15 to prepare for a September bout in New York or Chicago, Billy McCarney, Schmeling's comanager announced today.

Joe Jacobs, McCarney's partner, left Hamburg for the United States today, and will complete arrangements for Schmeling's next fight when he arrives.

McCarney said New York promoters are trying to match the former champion with Mickey Walker or Primo Carnera, and Chicago promoters would like to have him meet King Levinsky, Tuffy Griffiths or Walker.

EVERGOLD WINS IN THUNDERSTORM AT ARLINGTON PARK

Springsteel Is Second in Feature

Dark Hope Is Third; Race Fast Despite Slow Course.

Uncanny Winner at Empire; Billy Champ Latonia Victor.

ARLINGTON PARK, Ill., July 21 (A.P.).—Evergold, which races for Patrick and Richard Nash, flashed through a thunderstorm today to win the $2,500 added Dundee Purse, top event at Arlington Park, from a band of good ones.

Springsteel set most of the pace, but G. Woolf, after holding Evergold in restraint, turned him loose in the stretch to grab the decision by a length. Springsteel, however, had enough left to save second money from Dark Hope. The rain slowed up the track somewhat, but failed to have the same effect on the victor, who ran the mile and an eighth in 1:53 2-5.

Evergold paid $6.82 for each $2 straight ticket. Big Beau, Bubble Up, Sazerac, Rehoboth and Late Date finished in that order.

Billy Champ Scores For New Owner.

Latonia, Ky., July 21 (A.P.).—Billy Champ, which Edward Haughton recently purchased from the Warm Stable, made good at the first asking for his new owner when he romped off with the Point Pleasant Purse, today's feature at a mile and a sixteenth.

Considerable interest was attached to the Point Pleasant, as it marked the first start since last November of Royal Julian, veteran campaigner from the stables of W. H. Whitehouse. The 8-year-old Royal II horse, which made his first appearance in the stud this spring, showed a meritorious performance, considering his long lay-off. After a sluggish beginning he closed with fine speed to finish third, being separated from the winner by Dixiana stud's Lady Dean.

Uncanny Wins Duel At Empire City.

Empire City Race Track, N. Y., July 21 (A.P.).—Two sons of Master Charlie—J. H. Loucheim's Uncanny and J. J. Robinson's Renaissance—staged one of the prettiest duels of the season to finish a neck apart as named in the Tarrytown Stakes of a mile and 70 yards here this afternoon. The two colts carried equal weight of 114 pounds, with the winner a 9 to 2 shot and Renaissance the 7 to 5 favorite.

The Belair Stud's Pardee was beaten five lengths for the place while doing his best to hold the Anali Stable's Action safe for the minor award. Only four started. The winner earned $1,485 and his time was 1:44 4-5.

JOE AND ASBESTOS

(Watch Sunday's Post for New Secret Code) —By Ken Kling

Both horses won yesterday for Asbestos. Flying Home paid $8.10 and Billy Champ $5.70. We told you Flying Home had never won a race before but watch him yesterday. The bank roll went up $5.38 and is $58.36. Asbestos sure is the comeback kid.

TODAY'S BET:

$1 win Spud at Arlington and Prewar at Latonia.

AT THE POST

with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: ARLINGTON PARK, CHICAGO, JULY 21.

Started off with a bang today. Had Flying Home and Marooned in succession before the storm hit. After that I had to be satisfied with in-the-money horses. At the other track I gave you two winners. Everything considered, it was not a losing day.

Get down on these at other courses tomorrow: Catwalk, Canron, Nahunta, Jubilation, Estin. BILL.

FIRST RACE—H E R ELEGANCE seems as good, if not better, than the other maiden fillies who will open the card. FLIRTING appears to be second best. FANFERN to take care of the remainder.

SECOND RACE—JAZ AGE, when in top form, has no trouble carrying weight. This one seems to be regaining some of that brilliant form of last spring and is going to be hard to beat in this field. TOMBEREAU and HIGHER to battle it out for the show.

THIRD RACE—I'm tossing WATCH HIM'S last in the gutter and going to him today in a great big way. I believe that UNENCUMBERED will supply most of the opposition for the top fellow. WISE ADVOCATE may take the show.

FOURTH RACE—I like MAID OF HONOR in this 7-furlong contest. Having been watching this one closely. MARLENE should place in front of FLYING. Everything considered, this is a mighty hard race.

FIFTH RACE—Some of the fast ones who have been beating MEETING PLACE are missing from this group. He gets in here with a feather and I see no reason why he should not score. SETH'S BALLOT and LUCKY CARTER for the rest.

SIXTH RACE—TABAKU, scratched yesterday, can take care of these. I do believe. GLORITONE, my winner the last time, should make it hot for the top one. TICKORY TOCK may be the third horse.

SEVENTH RACE—OATEN seems well placed in this field and may come through at big odds. OUR PAL and ORMONTIME for what is left.

EIGHTH RACE—GARLIC to start a new streak. CULLODEN for the place and STARCH for show. That's my opinion.

U. S. Reasonably Sure of 9 Events

Coach Robertson Says Team No Better Balanced Than in 1928.

Los Angeles, July 21 (A.P.).—The United States track and field forces not only will be fortunate to capture any foot-race beyond 400 meters, but figure to be reasonably sure of winning no more than nine of the 23 separate events making up the featured Olympic program, in the opinion of Head Soach Lawson Robertson.

The 1928 American team captured eight track and field events, including the 400 and 1,600 meter relays.

"We have some exceptionally good men, but I can not see how we are any better balanced than four years ago," Robertson declared after seeing approximately 50 of his charges safely moved to the picturesque Olympic village today and issuing orders for a resumption of training.

"I would say we had an excellent chance to win the following events: 100 and 200 meter dashes, 400 meter run, 400 meter relay, 1,600 meter relay, high hurdles, pole vault, high jump and discus.

"Otherwise the field is wide open. We will be outclassed by Finland, and others, in the distance races. Germany and Japan will furnish strong competition all a long the line.

"Even with such fine competitors as Churchill and Metcalf in the javelin and Sexton in the shotput I would class our chances of winning as at least doubtful. McCluskey will have a good chance, too, in the steeplechase."

Robertson and his coaching aids reported the American squad in excellent condition, except for a few minor ailments.

Fraters to Meet Huntington Nine

Alexandrians, Bolstered, to Face Maryland Team at Home Sunday.

Special to The Washington Post.

Alexandria, Va., July 21.—The Alexandria Fraters will play Huntington, Md., semipros, on Sunday in a game on the latter's field, it was announced today by Manager Ralph Scrivener.

An important practice for the team was held yesterday afternoon. Scrivener stated today that Gene Zimmerman, Jack Moore and Joe Garvey have signed to play the remainder of the season.

The Alexandria Post 24 Juniors will play the Elks Juniors, of Fredericksburg, Va., in the title game for District No. 5 here, probably Saturday.

The Fredericksburgers entered the finals by winning from Richmond yesterday. The Alexandrians had previously tripped Arlington Post Team.

On Sunday the St. Mary's Celtics will mix with the Skinker Eagles, of Washington, at Baggett's Stadium. The Eagles won from the Front Royal All-Stars last Sunday.

Ted Miller, manager of the Del Ray A. C., has booked the Hecht Co. nine for a game Sunday.

Stocks Continue Advance, Led by Tobaccos and Oils

Rails Add Point at Closing; Steels and Telephones Firmed Slightly.

New York, July 21 (A.P.).—Stocks pulled themselves up by their bootstraps today.

Thanks largely to the strength of food, tobacco and oil shares the market closed with gains averaging a point, although in many so-called pivotal issues advances were of fractional or negligible proportions.

Looking support from the news, which included word of restiveness in Germany and a proposal of more liberal British-Canadian tariff preferences, there was an inclination to put a professional tag on the rally.

Earnings Seen as Aid.

Floor traders were able to interpret favorably some current earnings statements which, although under a year ago, nevertheless make a better comparison than had been anticipated in some instances.

Preferred stocks again strengthened, although much of the trading was in odd lots. However, there were net gains of 2½ to 6½ points senior equities of Union Pacific, Santa Fe, American Sugar, Eastman, General Baking, Loew's, Sun Oil and Case, among others.

Santa Fe and Union Pacific common were each up more than a point net, while National Biscuit, Loose Wiles, American Tobacco B, Liggett & Myers B, Standard Oil of Kansas, Texas Corporation and California Standard made an average rise of about one. U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Du Pont, Westinghouse, Case, Atlantic Refining, Union Carbide, General Motors, Consolidated Gas and North American firmed fractionally. The market closed at its highest level of the month, although falling a little shy of the mid-June peak. Sales totaled 925,810 shares, a robust turnover measured by recent standards of activity.

Street Is Cheerful.

Wall street currently is enjoying a period of good nature which permits it to overlook evidence of trade stagnation and to make the most of whatever bright spots appear on the domestic financial landscape. Few close observers are willing to offer predictions as to the German situation, which would be complicated by a general strike, but there are those who see advantages in a dictatorship of conservative elements.

Fair strength among the oil shares undoubtedly had as its basis the expectation that tomorrow's meeting of the American Petroleum Institute's directors will take further steps toward cutting down production. Meanwhile, the industry is profiting by the stronger prices which became effective several months ago. Sun Oil, for example, earned $1.13 a share the first half of this year against 49 cents a year ago, and it is understood that several companies which do not make periodic statements fared much better than in 1931.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON—Trading was quiet on the stock exchange. The recovery in German bonds, steadier transatlantic issues and the rise in oil shares on the reported agreement at the Paris conference were bright features. Otherwise prices dropped on profit taking and closed uncertain.

PARIS—Opening prices on the bourse were slightly lower. French rentes were weak, but oil shares firmed on favorable reports from the Paris oil conference. The closing was weak.

BERLIN—Prices on the boerse were firmer in absence of selling both here and abroad and closed with a confident tone.

NET INCOME IS LESS FOR RAPID TRANSIT

Earnings for Month Show $5,834 Deficit; Sales Up in One State.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The net income item of Washington Rapid Transit Co.'s June statement of operations, filed yesterday with the Public Utilities Commission, revealed a deficit of $5,834.97 for the month, as compared with a surplus in net income of $1,082.42 in the month last year.

The net income item for the first half of 1932 now presents a deficit of $25,177.35, against one of $1,262.64 for the like period a year ago, an increase in deficit of $23,914.71.

The District of Columbia, which for many months has been near the top of a list of States in life insurance sales appearing monthly in the survey of the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau of Hartford, Conn., dropped to fifteenth place in the June comparative figures of the bureau. Local sales were 31 per cent under those of June, 1931.

All States in the Union but one showed decreases in sales in comparison with the month last year, Nevada, with a gain of 7 per cent, being the exception. Maryland's sales were 33 per cent off and Virginia's 40 per cent. District sales for the month totaled $4,301,000 and 34 per cent of the companies engaged in business here reported gains.

Nationally, at the close of the first six months of 1932, the volume of ordinary life insurance sold, although below last year's sales, nevertheless represents a substantial volume of new business. More people are buying life insurance as an investment due to the uncertain condition of the stock market. The rapid growth of life insurance is evidenced by a comparison to the first six months of 1922.

During the first half of 1932, although incomes of all classes were drastically reduced, the new business sold was over 25 per cent larger than in the same period ten years ago. The greatest increase was experienced by the Middle Atlantic section, which has the largest volume in force of any section of the country.

Plans and entertainment program have been completed for the first joint annual outing of office staff of the New York Life Insurance Co. Agents Club of the local branch of that company, to be held at Seaside Park, Chesapeake Beach, tomorrow afternoon.

Prizes will be awarded for the winners in the athletic events, which will include three-legged, potato and swimmnig races and horseshoe pitching. There will also be a prize waltz and bridge contests in the evening.

Canada Sells More Goods To U. S. Than to All Britain

Ottawa, July 21 (A.P.).—A feature of the export trade of Canada in June was an increase in the merchandise sold to the United States, according to a report issued.

The value was $15,751,685, as compared with $14,189,019 in May and $12,035,048 in April.

With this increase the Canadian exports to the United States in June were greater than to all the countries of the British Empire combined.

BOND PRICES CLIMB HIGHEST SINCE JUNE

Eight-Tenths of One Point Gained Over Wide List; Sales Smaller.

New York, July 21 (A.P.).—The bond market today advanced all along the line.

While the average for 60 selected securities gained eight-tenths of a point—the most pronounced recovery since June 4—the sales volume was comparatively light and somewhat smaller than that of yesterday. Sales totaled $10,936,000 par value.

The industrials led the upturn, for a change, with the oils and a number of specialties accounting principally for the improvement in this section. The railroads and utilities followed with average gains about equal.

German government obligations absorbed the bulk of trading in the foreign department, advancing around 2 points at one time, but later reacting moderately when threats of a general strike in Germany became more serious. The Reich issues indicated a better feeling toward the new dictatorship and declaration of martial law.

The industrials moved forward in spite of poor second-quarter earnings reports, although it was said that these were not any worse than had been expected and even better in some cases. Principal gainers included Armour & Co. 5½s, Bethlehem Steel 5s, Chile Copper 5s, Colon Oil 6s, Fisk Rubber 8s, Houston Oil 5½s, Keith Corporation 6s, National Dairy 5½s, Pure Oil 5½s, Shell Union Oil 5s, Sinclair Oil 6½s and Warren Bros. 6s.

International Telephone loans advanced 1¾ to 2¾ points. American Telephones and Postal Telegraphs also improved. A number of the railroads recorded gains of from fractions to around 4 points.

The United States Government list became active in late trading and practically all of the Federals advanced moderately.

CURB'S SHARES GAIN IN CHEERFUL SALES

Aluminum and Oats Soar 10 and 11 Points; Oils Firm at Close.

New York, July 21 (A.P.).—The curb market today indulged in a display of cheerfulness which was reflected in advances of 1 point or more by several issues, while Aluminum Co. soared 10 points and Quaker Oats ran up 11. Transactions totaled 90,000 shares, duplicating yesterday's volume.

In absence of any important new developments to account for the sudden turn for the better, taders were inclined to attribute the rally partly to short covering. With bond prices continuing their July advance and stocks prices moving ahead on the "big board" of the New York Stock Exchange, a sympathetic uprush appeared logical on the curb.

The oil shares were conspicuously firm. Buying was based on expectations that tomorrow's regular monthly meeting of directors of the American Petroleum Institute would undoubtedly take further steps to promote curtailment programs in the production of crude oil. Gulf Oil moved up 2½ points, to 32. Gains of a point or so were made by Standard of Indiana, Humble Oil and International Petroleum.

Fajardo Sugar made one of its infrequent appearances, advancing on odd-lot transactions to 35, a gain of 22 points over its latest quoted price established on a sale some time ago. The company's position has improved as a result of the recent advance in sugar prices. Pitney-Bowes moved up fractionally in response to publication of that company's half-year earning report showing profit before taxes of $125,039, against $97,322 in the same period last year.

The utilities were actively traded in and prices advanced moderately. Fractional gains were made by Electric Bond & Share common which closed at 7⅞ and by American Gas & Electric, Commonwealth Edison, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore and United Light & Power A.

WHEAT YIELDS GAINS OF FORMER SESSION

Oats Sell Lowest Since 1896 as Provisions Advance 12 to 17 Cents.

Chicago, July 21 (A.P.).—Reactionary trends today wiped out an advance in wheat and took oats and rye to fresh bottom-price records.

Oats fell to the lowest point since 1896, rye to the lowest this season. A letup in high temperatures Northwest diminished fears of crop damage, and the markets suffered from absence of sustained buying.

Wheat closed irregular at ¼ decline to ⅛ advance, corn ⅛ to ⅜ down, oats ⅜ to ½ off, and provisions at a rise of 12 to 17 cents.

Selling of December wheat, apparently for Government - financed agencies, contributed to late weakness. Export demand for United States wheat was lacking, although 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat was bought today and an equal amount yesterday. Price declines to below yesterday's finish were in spite of unfulfilled predictions of rain.

Transient Gains Recorded.

Transient upturns in wheat values accompanied reports that the Northwest no longer expected bumper yields, but that a better-than-average outturn was indicated. European crop advices were less favorable and Argentina exported only 441,000 bushels this week compared with 2,049,000 last year. Today's primary receipts were 1,522,000 bushels, a year ago 3,519,000.

Persistent slackness of demand bearishly affected oats. Iowa messages said oats at present prices would not pay to thrash. Illinois producers were reported as receiving only 10 cents a bushel. Influenced by scattered reports of crop firing, corn maintained price levels a little higher than yesterday, but finally dropped on indications of a break in the heat wave.

New upturns in hog values strengthened provisions.

Bonus Paid for Bales Wrapped Up in Cotton

New Orleans, July 21 (A.P.).—Decision of the B. F. Goodrich Co. mills at Silvertown, Ga., to pay a bonus for cotton bales bound in cotton wrapping instead of jute was disclosed today by the American Cotton Cooperative Association.

A letter from the mills to the association said payment for the equivalent of 7 pounds of cotton would be made henceforth for all bales with the cotton wrapping.

The bonus is designed to stimulate increased use of cotton. Seven pounds is the normal difference between cotton and jute wrapping for each bale.

COTTON FLUCTUATES TO 5-POINT DECLINE

Selling and Weather Cause Price Changes; Hedging in Liverpool.

New York, July 21 (A.P.).—Cotton fluctuated within a range of 4 or 5 points today. Some selling on favorable weather reports was absorbed by trade buying or covering. October contracts, after easing to 5.73, rallied to 5.78, coincident with firmness of stocks, but lost the improvement, closing at 5.73. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 3 to 5 points.

The opening was 2 to 5 points lower in response to weather news and disappointing cables. There was a little Southern selling, as well as some further offerings by brokers supposed to be operating for the cooperative interests, but the comparatively small volume was taken by covering and trade buying. The latter included buying here for Liverpool account.

New Orleans was also an early buyer, and after showing net losses of about 4 or 5 points on active positions, the market steadied slightly around midday.

July Trading Closed.

With trading in current July contracts ending at noon tomorrow, there was some further liquidation and switching from near to late months, while brokers supposed to be operating for the same interests that have been credited with selling October recently were said to be selling December.

Maximum temperatures ranging up to 100 degrees or over were again reported at many points in the South, but the heat was less intense in the Southwest, showers being indicated at a number of stations in Texas. Some thought this might promote boll weevil activity.

Liverpool cables said hedging and liquidation had been absorbed by trade calling and reported fair sales of cotton cloths for shipment to South America and Africa.

Exports were 8,825 bales, making 8,662,809 so far this season. Port receipts, 6,429; U. S. port stocks, 3,444,767.

$7,459,203 EARNED BY CONTINENTAL CAN

Chrysler Motors Make Net $1,186,052 for Quarter; Gulf Steel Loses.

New York, July 21 (A.P.).—Continental Can Co., Inc., which this year inaugurated a system of reporting at the end of each quarter its earnings for the previous twelve months, today reported income of $7,459,203 for the twelve months ended last June 30. After depreciation and Federal taxes, there was a balance of $4,401,899, equivalent to $2.54 a share for the common stock.

The Beech-Nut Packing Co. reported first half profit of $1,109,291 before Federal taxes. This compared with $1,329,338 in the corresponding period of 1931. After estimated taxes, there was a balance of $961,554, equal to $2.15 a share, for the common, against $1,172,970, or $2.63 a share in the first half of 1931.

Net profit of $668,151 was reported by McKeesport Tin Plate Co. for the first half of 1932, against $1,270,722 in the like period of 1931. This was equivalent to $2.23 a share, against $4.23.

McIntyre Porcupine Mines reports net profit of $557,737 for the second quarter, equal to 70 cents a share, compared with $408,530, or 51 cents a share, in the same 1931 period.

Gulf States Steel Corporation reports for the quarter ended June 30 net loss of $215,456 after taxes, interest, depreciation and other charges. This compares with net loss of $144,196 in the preceding quarter and net loss of $303,543 in the June quarter last year.

The Chrysler Corporation had June quarter net profit of $1,186,052, equal to 27 cents a share. This compares with net loss of $2,066,485 in the March quarter and net profit of $3,231,962 or 73 cents a share in the June quarter last year. Directors declared the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents, payable September 30 to stock of record September 1.

Philadelphia, July 21 (A.P.).—Net income of the Sun Oil Co. for the six months ended June 30, was announced today as $2,030,918. After allowing for depreciation, depletion of reserves, bond interest and dividend requirements, the earnings amounted to $1.12 a share of common stock, as against 49 cents in the same period last year. Earnings for the full year of 1931 were $1.63 a share.

Japanese Send Copper To New Low Ground

New York, July 21 (A.P.).—Pressure of further Japanese offerings forced copper to a new low level at 4.50 cents a pound in the export market, according to reports in copper circles today. Some small independent producers abroad are reported quoting 4.60 cents with Copper Exporters, Inc., at 4.70 cents.

The domestic market has not thus far reflected this weakness abroad, being comparatively steady at 5¼ cents. Sales are small, both here and in the forgein market.

CANOE KINGS TO RACE ON POTOMAC

Champions Among 16 Clubs in Regatta Here Tomorrow.

FOLLOWERS of aquatic sports will have the opportunity of witnessing several national champions in action Sunday in the national canoe racing championships which will be contested on the Potomac River. Sixteen clubs, including the local representatives, Washington Canoe Club and Potomac Boat Club, are sending teams and individuals to compete.

The Pendleton Canoe Club, of New York City, is sending a team to defend its national championship point trophy, won last year. Ernie Reidel, world's champion double blademan, and Charles Robinson, national single-blade champion, are members of the Pendleton squad. Both are reported to be in excellent shape and almost certain to repeat their victories of last year.

The Cacawa Canoe Club, of Tacony, Pa., will defend its national junior title and, although, the visitors are just as strong as they were in 1931, the Potomac Boat Club crew, comprising George Shorb, Buddy Millar, Johnny Long and Richard Kelso, is expected to make a strong bid for the laurels.

Knight and Rodman Favorites.

Two other outstanding paddlers who have never failed to score in previous regattas, Harry Knight, veteran of innumerable contests, and Everett Rodman, will sport the colors of the Washington Canoe Club in the senior tandem single-blade event. They are heavy favorites to cross the line ahead of all other competitors.

Howard Ruppert, of the Washington Canoe Club, chairman of the committee in charge of the regatta, announced last night that Frank Baldwin, of the Inwood Canoe Club, New York, has been named to referee the races. Herman Harrington, of Providence, R. I., will be chief judge, and Gene Kelley, of the Knickerbocker Canoe Club, New York, will be the starter.

Golf and Tennis Today At Army Relief Fete

Exhibition double matches, with local tennis stars competing, will be played on the courts of the Army and Navy Country Club this afternoon as part of the Army relief lawn fete program. The matches will be played on the Har-tru courts recently installed at the club. Frank Shore, Anthony Latona, Bud Markey, Dick Mason, Bill Buchanan and Dooly Mitchell are among those who will display their wares. Play will start at 4 p. m.

A handicap golf tournament for women is also scheduled. The first competitor will tee off this morning at 8:30 o'clock. The field will be divided into two divisions, one playing eighteen holes and the other nine. The maximum handicap for the former will be 25 strokes, and for the latter 12 strokes. Entries will be received up until starting time.

Trophies donated by the Army War College Post Exchange, Headquarters Company Post Exchange and Mr. Walker, club pro, will be awarded the various prize winners.

President Cup Regatta Lists Races for Pros

New records probably will be established at the President's Cup regatta September 16 and 17, due to the decision of the executive committee in charge of the regatta that separate races would be held in the class C and F outboard division, one for professional drivers and the other for amateurs. It also is announced that sanction has been obtained from the American Power Boat Association for the event to be held on the George-town channel of the Potomac. A new course will be laid out, partially over the course which was used in former years.

RUDOLPH B. BEHREND, Attorney, 1317 F street northwest.

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE District of Columbia, holding an Equity Court. Rudolph B. Behrend, Plaintiff, vs. Joseph Parker Camp and "The Washington Association and United States Insurance Company" and its unknown successors and assigns, Defendants. Equity, No. 54498. Order of publication. The object of this suit is to establish of record the plaintiff's title to lots numbered fifty-two (52) and fifty-three (53), in the subdivision of square numbered five hundred ten (510), as per plat recorded in Book R W, page 106, of the records of the Office of the Surveyor of the District of Columbia, said lots lying within the limits of original lot numbered seventeen (17), in said square. On motion of the plaintiff's attorney it is ordered this 6th day of July, 1932, that the defendants, Joseph Parker Camp and "The Washington Association of the United States Insurance Company" and its unknown successors and assigns cause their appearance to be entered herein on or before the first rule day occurring after the expiration of the fortieth day, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, from the day of the first publication of this order; otherwise this cause will be proceeded with as in case of default. Provided a copy of this order be published once a week for three successive weeks in The Washington Post and the Washington Law Reporter prior to said rule day, good cause having been shown why longer publication is unnecessary. J. D. LETTS, Justice. A true copy. Test: (Seal.) FRANK E. CUNNINGHAM, Clerk By H. B. DEITZBAUGH, Assistant Clerk 8.15.22

2 CHARGED IN DEATH OF HENRY, GAMBLER

Philadelphian and Inmate of Jail Identified as Killer and Aid.

An inmate of the District Jail yesterday was identified by "several" reputable witnesses as the slayer of Milton White (Millsey) Henry, notorious Washington gambler, according to Capt. Bernard W. Thompson, assistant chief of detectives.

Held at the jail on warrants charging participation in the Henry killing are Charles Harris, alias Blum, and Harris Davis, 34, of Philadelphia. Davis was rearrested yesterday on a warrant charging the murder of Henry. Once before he had been arrested and later freed on order of United States Commissioner Needham C. Turnage, who yesterday sent him to the jail pending a hearing Monday. Blum also will be heard Monday, it was said.

Davis was arrested by Detective Sergt. John Dalglish, one of the investigators assigned to the Henry killing. Dalglish, Detective Sergt. Dennis Murphy, Floyd Truscott, Chief of Police Pelham D. Glassford, and Capt. Thompson yesterday accompanied the witnesses to the jail.

Police were reticent about giving the names of the witnesses and this was understood to be in fear of reprisal against the latter. Gen. Glassford is understood to have entered the case because of an interest growing out of a desire to check any efforts of gangsters to get a foothold.

Davis yesterday was charged with murder in red ink on the arrest book at police headquarters. Police are understood to claim he drove the car from which the shots were fired at Henry, while Blue is alleged to have been the trigger man.

Ohio State Flag Hung At Garfield Hospital

An Ohio State flag was hung in the main lobby of Garfield Memorial Hospital yesterday when the guest of honor was Mrs. Thad Brown, of Columbus, Ohio, wife of the radio commissioner.

Mrs. Cabot Stevens, president of the Ladies Aid Society of the hospital, and other officers were present for the ceremony.

STAGNANT POOL NEAR DISTRICT HEALTH SCHOOL

This pool, filled with filthy water and without drainage outlet, is within 50 yards of the District Health School at Fourteenth and Allison streets northwest. Trees in and around the water are either dead or dying. Children from the health school have been seen playing near the place. Health authorities on being informed of the situation a few days ago responded by sprinkling oil on the water, it was learned.

PHONE COUNSEL HITS VALUATION FIGURES

Commission's Evidence on Depreciation Challenged at Hearing.

Despite the excessive heat and humidity yesterday, counsel for the Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Co. spent the day trying to tear down the evidence introduced at the rate hearing by William A. Roberts, special counsel of the Public Utilities Commission, regarding the telephone company's valuation and depreciation.

This same statistical cross-examination, directed at Thomas R. Tate, valuation engineer for the commission, will be resumed at 10 o'clock this morning. Most of the questions were asked by T. B. Milne, associate counsel of the telephone company.

Maj. Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chairman of the commission, at the outset yesterday announced that the ruling on the motion of R. A. Van Orsdel, telephone company counsel, to dismiss all Mr. Roberts' exhibits would be withheld until all evidence had been presented.

It was more apparent than ever that the rate case will be carried to court by the telephone company, if the commission insists on a rate reduction.

In one instance the cross-examination developed that the costs of certain material, such as conduits, used by Mr. Tate in estimating the reproduction figure for the telephone company were actually higher than present market prices, as the company's own figures on purchase from the Western Electric Co. had been utilized.

Rev. H. A. Woolfall Accepts New Call

Rector of St. Mark's Will Go to St. Peter's Church in St. Louis.

The Rev. Hulbert A. Woolfall, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Third and A streets southeast, has accepted an appointment as rector of St. Peter's Church in St. Louis, Mo., it was learned last night.

Dr. Woolfall will go to his new post in November. First he will return to the local parish for a brief stay. He is sailing for Holland today to attend an international young people's conference.

Dr. Woolfall, who is 30 years old, has been rector of St. Mark's for the past four years. Prior to that he was rector of St. Phillip's Church, at Laurel, Md. The Rev. Z. Barney Phillips, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, was rector of St. Peter's, in St. Louis, before coming to this city.

D. N. Walford Store In Hands of Receiver

The sporting goods store of D. N. Walford, 909 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, was placed in the hands of a receiver yesterday. Justice Oscar R. Luhring, in the District Supreme Court, named Godfrey L. Munter, attorney, to handle the business.

The action was taken at the request of two of the three partners in the store. Marie H. Walford and Edith La Porte, who, with Alfred Walford, hold the partnership, said in a bill filed prior to the court action that the business was not being conducted at a profit and that it was insolvent.

POLICEMAN IS SHOT IN BURGLAR CHASE

Another Painfully Injured in Fall Off Roof During Pursuit of Criminals.

One policeman received critical wounds and another painful, possibly serious, injuries early yesterday as the aftermath of the discovery of two colored men in the act of robbing a drug store at 3201 Georgia avenue. The burglars escaped.

Private H. N. Lancaster, of the Tenth Precinct, is in Garfield Hospital with wounds in the back and chest. The wounds are said to have been inflicted by a service revolver. An investigation is being conducted by Acting Capt. J. T. Wittsatt, of the Tenth Precinct to determine whether the shots were fired by the escaping criminals or by a policeman.

Private Byron Moore, also of the Tenth Precinct, was in Freedmen's Hospital with a possibly fractured skull and other injuries. He fell off the roof of a porch while chasing the burglars.

Both Lancaster and Moore came to the scene of the attempted robbery in answer to a call sent in by Private Jesse Hasty, who detected the men in the drug store, Boyd's Pharmacy. Several other officers also responded, Lancaster acting as sergeant.

Lancaster was hit as he pursued the men around a corner. It was impossible to tell who fired the shot as he was in the line of fire. The man ran into the backyard of A. B. Hannaman, at 640 Keefer place, shouting, "Help me, they're after me." He then discarded his shoes and escaped through Hannaman's basement, diving through the glass of a front window.

Moore followed the other man. The chase went onto a line of porch roofs on Kenyon street. As Moore was about to fire at the man, a number of resident's heads got into the line of fire and he lowered his gun. At this point he lost his balance and fell about 15 feet to the ground.

The burglars got a small amount of cash in change and a few packages of cigarettes. Hasty, who first saw the men, was not injured.

CONTRACT IS SIGNED ON POWER RESOURCE

Potomac Electric Files Copy of Paper With Public Utility Group.

The Potomac Electric Power Co. yesterday filed with the Public Utilities Commission a copy of a contract entered into with the Consolidated Gas & Electric Light & Power Co., of Baltimore, for interconnection with the Safe Harbor-Baltimore Hydro-Steam System, which has plants along the Susquehanna River near the Pennsylvania State line.

The purpose of the interconnection is said to provide additional electrical resources so as to prevent a possible interruption of service, particularly during the construction of the proposed plant at Buzzards Point.

Costing approximately $1,500,000, the project will furnish work for several score of men. About $590,000 will be used to construct and equip a new substation in the District for the purpose of reducing the voltage, while the remainder will be used in setting up a 23-mile transmission line from the substation at Ellicott City, Md., the nearest point to Washington of the Safe Harbor Co. line.

The additional service, which will be available October 1, 1933, will give the Potomac Electric Power Co. three independent sources of supply.

Woman Enters Convent, Giving Up Law Career

Miss Margaret M. McCarthy, 25, of 715 Allison street northwest, has given up her career as a lawyer to enter Mount Hope Convent near Baltimore as a Sister of Charity, it was learned yesterday.

Miss McCarthy became associated with the law firm of Toomey & Toomey after passing the bar last year. Her youngest brother, Edward, was killed when accidentally pushed at a party last winter.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

MR. STEPHEN E. COCHRAN, impresario of the National Theater Players and panjandrum of Col. William Harryman Rapley's E street temple of the arts, a caller yesterday afternoon, lumbago and all, reviving vivid memories of theater days when my own perplexities centered more or less in such asinine District regulations as that advertising signs may not extend more than 42 inches beyond the building line, poster displays not occupy more than one-fortieth of the wall area of the theater, program signs not be fettered in colored bulbs, etc., etc., ad lib and ad nauseam.

Mr. Cochran is down from Lake Hopatcong, N. J., to attend to some odds and ends of business, celebrate his birthday on the 28th and greet Col. Rapley next week-end upon his return from a summer cruise to Iceland and the chill Scandinavian Peninsula, the lucky soul!

As I understand it, come Thursday, July 28, Steve will be observing the sixth anniversary of his nineteenth birthday, or something!

Summer cruises to the North Atlantic not being immediately available, the next best thing within easy reach of the Washingtonian harried by high temperatures and humidity and low morale and resistance is a plunge in the Crystal Pool out at Glen Echo Park. However, Glen Echo will soon be making an announcement that will be of vital interest and importance to everyone who wishes to trade his incompetency for skill in the water. See Sunday's dramatic section.

Washington was alive with parties for picture people last night. The Warner executives held forth early in the evening, in compliment to Bette Davis and Warren William, appearing in person at the Earle, beginning today.

Later on, the Loew officials dittoed for Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ford, of the New York home office, Una Merkel and Anna May Wong—who will be joined in a week of personal appearances at Loew's Fox by George Sidney today—both groups being at the Shoreham.

George Sidney, by the way, is an older brother of Louis K. Sidney, the Loew production executive who supervises all of the unit stage shows that appear in the Loew de luxe houses, formerly including the Palace here, but now Loew's Fox. I thought you'd like to know.

The final title of the Douglas Fairbanks picture recently made in the South Seas is "Mr. Robinson Crusoe." It seemed to me fitting that you receive this information Friday!

The presentation of "The Washington Masquerade" at the Palace is occasioninig considerable social activity among the Capital's elite. Vice President Curtis has indicated his intention of occupying a box with a party of friends at tonight's performance, as have also several of the Cabinet and members of the Diplomatic Corps who have accepted the management's invitation to attend.

"The Washington Masquerade," as you must know by now, is an adaptation of Henri Bernstein's "The Claw," with the Capitol for a background, in which Lionel Barrymore once more assumes the role he created on the stage.

In weather like this, it's easy to convince yourself that the refrigeration plants are not working—until you step out on the street again!

Then you're convinced that war(mth) is just what Sherman said it was, only more so!

CAR-TROLLEY CRASH TAKES LIVES OF TWO

Policeman Christensen and Fiancee Die in Hospital; Inquest Held Up.

Private Laurits Christensen, 33, Eleventh Precinct policeman, and his pretty fiancee, Mrs. Catherine Rhodes, 24, died at Providence Hospital yesterday as the result of injuries received when Christensen's car blew a tire and crashed into a street car.

The accident occurred on Nichols avenue southeast, not far from the intersection of Howard street. The two were returning from a dance. Christensen died shortly after 5 a. m. and Mrs. Rhodes two hours later.

Both suffered skull fractures. An inquest was delayed pending recovery of Mrs. Myrtle Selby, 21, also a passenger in the car. She received severe lacerations about the head and suffered from shock. Herbert S. Cooksey, motorman of the street car, was not injured.

Christensen lived at 113 D street southeast. Mrs. Rhodes lived at 651 H street northeast. They had been engaged for several months, it was learned. Both had been divorced.

Christensen had been a member of the police force since November, 1927. He was one of several persons injured in a roadhouse fight in southern Maryland in 1930. He also was active in athletic circles, at one time acting as president of the old Mercury Athletic Club, prominent Southwest athletic group.

Funeral services for Christensen will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the W. W. Chambers funeral home, at 1400 Chapin street northwest. Interment will be in Arlington National Cemetery.
